JEWISH MARKET PLACE 'A SCENE OF TERROR'

JERUSALEM (AP) — A mammoth charge of explosives packed inside a parked car blasted a crowded market place in the Jewish sector of the Holy City today, killing 11 persons and wounding 55.

Within seconds, the market, jammed with Jewish shoppers stocking up for the Sabbath weekend, was a scene of terror and chaos as hundreds fled in panic.

It was the worst sabotage incident in the 20 years of the Jewish state's existence.

Devaluation Up to France; U.K. Orders New Austerity

Jetliner 'Pancakes' Into Bay; All Okay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Japan Air Lines jetliner carrying 107 persons crashed into fogbound San Francisco Bay today. All aboard escaped safely.

The huge DC8 Super 62 pancaked into the muddy water three miles south of San Francisco International Airport while attempting an instrument landing on a flight from Tokyo.

The four-engine jet carried 96 passengers, including seven infants, and a crew of 11.

All were quickly taken into rubber liferafts under the direction of Capt. Kohei Asho of Tokyo and paddled ashore at Coyote Point.

"We were making an approach to what the captain obviously felt was San Francisco," passenger Richard Giesen, Chicago, said.

TRIED TO RECOVER

"I was in a window seat. We kept approaching the water and at the last second the captain tried to give it the gas to get up. We didn't make it and we just kinda belly-flopped into the water."

Giesen, a computer firm employee, said some passengers "screamed but by and large they were magnificent" as they evacuated the jetliner.

Coyote Point is a scenic area that juts into the bay three miles south of the main runway.

"It was on its final approach and was under radar and radio control because of the heavy fog. The last call on the radio indicated everything was all right, but we'll have to look at the recordings again before we can say that for sure," said a control tower spokesman.

NORMAL APPROACH

The tower official said the approach for the landing was normal as the plane swooped down over the San Mateo bridge about two miles south of Coyote Point and 17 miles south of San Francisco.

"Then there was nothing," he said. "She just disappeared off the radar — no further radio communications, no nothing. The weather did not appear to be a factor. It's regular procedure to make instrument landings here."

Within minutes, an armada of small boats was organized for the rescue operations. Many of the passengers took to rubber life rafts. At least three helicopters flew overhead.

The survivors were transferred to the small craft and sped ashore to be taken to hospitals in nearby communities.

Classes Resume At Troubled SFU

BURNABY (CP) — Students at troubled Simon Fraser University continued their occupation of the campus administration building today, despite pleas to end it at a mass morning rally by Dr. Kenneth Strand, acting SFU president.

The rally followed a hectic round of negotiations between Dr. Strand and leaders of 150 students who took over the five-storey building Wednesday night following a university senate meeting.

Dr. Strand called the occupation an illegitimate act but said he would not recommend any course of action to force an end to it.

The acting president opened talks with the students, supporters of the militant Students for a Democratic University, shortly after midnight.

The occupiers refused to relinquish control of the administration building and Dr. Strand cancelled 9:30 a.m. classes pending the outcome of the rally.

Classes resumed following the rally and the occupation continued, with no break in the stalemate in sight. Dr. Strand also said he had received a petition from moderate students urging an end to the occupation.

So far, police have steered clear of involvement in the sit-in.

There were also reports that students had rifled confidential files in the administration building, making photo-copies of some documents.

Spokesmen for the occupiers said the building was a bit messy, but otherwise undamaged.

The students demand:

- Creation of an elected admissions board with equal membership from students and faculty;
- Opening of all administration files to students;
- More money for school construction and an end to the provincial government's school construction freeze.

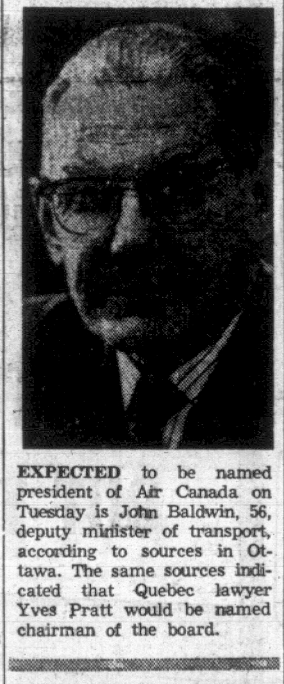
Dr. Strand said he had "nothing definite to offer on the proposals, but I am prepared to discuss them."

He said the students had made their point and the occupation should end.

There are about 5,600 students on campus at SFU, which operates on the trimester system. The militant SDU recently lost control of the student council to moderate factions in university elections, but Thursday students approved an informal motion of non-confidence in the new council.

8,000 Czechs

OTTAWA (CP) — The total immigration to Canada by Czechoslovaks this year may hit 8,000, an immigration department official estimated today.



EXPECTED to be named president of Air Canada on Tuesday is John Baldwin, 56, deputy minister of transport, according to sources in Ottawa. The same sources indicated that Quebec lawyer Yves Pratt would be named chairman of the board.

WIRE BRIEFS

Meeting Professors

OTTAWA (CP) — Rebellious social science students at the University of Ottawa today were to hold their first formal meeting with professors since they took over the faculty quarters Tuesday.

Cohn Indicted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roy M. Cohn, 41, the McCarthy era senate subcommittee counsel, today was indicted on fraud and Securities and Exchange Commission violations.

Drug Charges

TORONTO (CP)—Five Toronto men charged with conspiracy to import narcotics after police found 150 pounds of marijuana concealed in African tribal drums were remanded today for trial Nov. 29. Bail for Donald Johnston, 28, and Sydney Tremayne, 34, both editorial employees of the Globe and Mail, was set in magistrate's court at $25,000 cash or $30,000 property each.

Beer, Gas Tax Up In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain is to impose new taxes and tighten credit restrictions following the crisis over the French franc and West German mark, Roy Jenkins, channcellor of the exchequer, told Parliament today.

The new taxes include one cent on a pint of beer and 52 cents on a quart of whisky, which sells for about $7.

Gasoline prices will go up about five cents a gallon. Present prices range roughly between 65 cents and 78 cents a gallon.

Cigarette prices are to increase by up to five cents a pack of 20. At present they cost between 43 cents for the cheapest and 78 cents for dearer brands.

Rates of sales tax—imposed on virtually all consumer goods—will be raised.

There are four such rates. The 12½-per-cent rate for furniture and adult clothing will go up to 13¾ per cent. The 20-per-cent rate on confectionery and ice cream will rise to 22 per cent; cars, motorcycles and durable consumer goods from 33 1-3 to 36 per cent, and the rate on luxury goods from 50 to 55 per cent.

Jenkins announced the changes immediately on returning from talks in Bonn, West Germany, on the European currency crisis.

Jenkins also announced a plan under which importers of nearly one-third of total British imports will have to pay a returnable deposit of 50 per cent of the value of the goods.

The import deposit plan would last for one year and immediate legislation was being sought for it.

The deposits would be repayable to the importer 180 days after payment.

They would apply broadly to all goods other than food, fuel, raw materials and certain imports from developing countries.

In addition, Jenkins said banks will be ordered to be even more sparing than now in granting credit.

Jenkins said new credit restrictions will severely reduce private lending and banks will even have to bring in some outstanding loans.

He forecast that the "undoubtedly hard" measures will reduce the level of consumer spending by one-half per cent next year.

Begin Talks

PARIS (Reuters) — North Vietnam demanded today that the United States begin the expanded peace talks immediately.

Hanoi's chief spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le said that in the absence of Saigon government representatives, talks should be held by North Vietnam, the U.S. and the South Vietnam National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong guerrillas' political arm.

U.S. CONFIDENT DOLLAR PROTECTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials here predict that the U.S. dollar will come unscathed through the world's latest currency crisis.

They admit to long-range concern over the possibility that any reduction of the French franc's value might start devaluations snowballing in other countries and eventually jar the dollar.

"But it seems quite unlikely to develop that way," one high administration source said. "The dollar isn't the centrepiece of this affair, as it was last March. We're on the sidelines; even gold doesn't seem to be terribly involved."

$100 MILLION FROM CANADA

BONN (Reuters) — The world's leading non-communist industrial nations will give France a credit of $2,000,000,000 to halt massive speculation against the franc, an official communique from the Group of 10 conference issued today said.

Canada pledged $100 million in credit.

The communique said the West German mark would not be revalued.

West German Economics Minister Karl Schiller told a news conference after reading out the communique:

"At no point have there been any conditions for this standby credit. It is without any strings and without any conditions."

The communique said French Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli explained the situation of the French currency, measures taken toward a restoration of international and external equilibrium and problems still to be solved.

The communique continued: "It was decided to set up a new central bank credit facility for France to an amount of $2,000,000,000. This is in addition to France's substantial drawing facilities in the International Monetary Fund."

Schiller added that he is sure the whole package will be "absolutely successful."

He gave the following breakdown of contributions to the credit—West Germany $600,000,000; United States $500,000,000; Italy $200,000,000; Canada, Britain, The Netherlands, Scandinavia, Belgium and Switzerland $100,000,000 each; Japan and the Bank for International Settlements $50,000,000 each.

The communique said: "The decision on the above-mentioned credit facility underlines the determination of monetary authorities to counter speculation and offset the effect on reserves of de-stabilizing short-term capital flow."

It said the central bank gover-

UNHAPPY BIRTHDAY

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle turned 78 today but found he had nothing to celebrate after he was informed that France had no choice left but to devalue the franc.

Canadian Exports May Feel Pinch

LONDON (CP) — Britain has decided to strike hard at imports with a new payment deposit system that will force importers to scramble for expensive credit and increase prices to British consumers.

Canadian authorities here said the measure, along with others, could have a serious impact on the expansion of Canadian shipments to Britain.

There was no immediate indication whether certain goods will be excluded from the new measure which involves importers depositing with the British government for about six months 50 per cent of the cost of imports.

Roy Jenkins, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons today that this measure is to remain in effect for one year.

He announced it along with higher domestic taxes on beer, whisky and gasoline and a whole range of consumer goods.

Under the deposit system, an importer will be unable to get release of his goods from British customs until he deposits 50 per cent of the value of the goods. In many cases he will have to plead with his bank to provide the deposit through high-interest credit.

That means the cost of his imports will be increased by the high cost of this extra money he raises in Britain through the banks or other agencies.

All Other Currencies Hold Firm

BONN (CP)—West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss indicated to reporters today that the French franc will be devalued.

Strauss spoke as though the devaluation of the franc was a foregone conclusion and said: "Here we have the question of the devaluation of the French franc. The French government has to decide the extent of it. But there is unanimity that there will be no consideration of a devaluation of other currencies."

He made the statement outside a meeting of the 10 wealthiest countries in the non-Communist world.

Informants said after Thursday's 17-hour session that it appeared the franc would be reduced either by 10 per cent, from 20 U.S. cents to 18 cents, or by 15 per cent to 17 U.S. cents.

But in Paris, a well-informed source said earlier today the French government had accepted a proposal that the franc be devalued by less than 10 per cent.

A spokesman for the office of French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said in Paris there would be no announcement until after the French cabinet meets on Saturday.

Strauss also announced that Britain would take measures to alleviate its own balance-of-payments deficit.

He said that Britain would not devalue the pound.

OBTAINED CREDIT

To bolster the new value of the franc, the 10 nations at the conference got together a line of credit in other currencies which France could use to halt the flight of capital from French banks.

Strauss said the total of these credits would amount to $2,985,000,000.

He added that $2,000,000,000 of this would be put at the disposal of France by the members of the Group of 10, the world's most powerful financial and industrial countries. Their finance ministers and central bank governors have been meeting on the crisis in Bonn since Wednesday.

Strauss told reporters the other $985,000,000 would come from Special Drawing Rights. He did not make it clear what he meant by this. France has refused to join the scheme setting up a system of such drawing rights on the International Monetary Fund. They are designed to supplement gold in the reserves of member countries.

He said West Germany is also planning to help France out by easing taxes on West Germans who want to make direct invest-

De Gaulle Support Fading As Merchants Disillusioned

By DONALD H. LOUCHHEIM
The Washington Post

PARIS — The crisis of the French franc is shaping up into as serious a political threat to the Gaullist regime as the revolt by students and workers last May.

Unlike the widespread, sometimes violent, domestic unrest last spring, however, there is no apparent danger of the government falling or being swept away.

The impact of the crisis of the franc will be much the same as the impact of the May political crisis: new constraints on President de Gaulle's margin for manoeuvre both at home and abroad, new grave doubts within France about the quality of the general's leadership and the wisdom of the policies he has pursued during his decade in power.

MAY UPHEAVAL

The May upheaval was provoked by students and workers, claiming to speak for the "forgotten masses" of de Gaulle's Fifth Republic. But the crisis of the franc reflects a protest and a political crisis of confidence from the French middle class, the traditional bedrock of the Gaullist regime.

It was the middle class that rallied to de Gaulle and saved both his government and his own personal prestige last spring.

But as these same Gaullist voters arrive in Amsterdam and Geneva with suitcases full of unwanted francs, the question on the lips of many political commentators here—Will they love him in December as they did in May?—seems to have received a ringing answer.

SOCIAL CHANGE

The May revolt, in the view of de Gaulle himself, pointed out the need for a vast social renovation in France. The subsequent Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia pulled the rug out from under the foreign policy that his regime had been pursuing.

Now the crisis of the franc has renewed doubts, within the country at large and within the upper levels of the Gaullist movement, about the quality of the general's leadership.

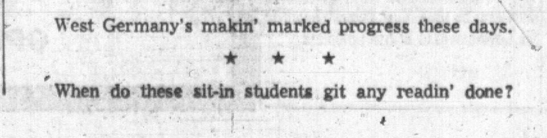
The facade of French-German co-operation has cracked, perhaps irreparably under the pressure of angry, fundamental disagreements between Bonn and Paris over how to cope with the current monetary crisis. Ironically, the importance of monetary co-operation between the two countries was stressed by both parties as a pillar of their "special relationship" after de Gaulle's visit to Bonn two months ago.

BAR BRITAIN

De Gaulle's implacable and single-handed effort to bar Britain from the European Common Market has also been called into question by recent events.

France and Britain suddently find themselves in the same boat.

With Britain in the Common Market, or at least admitted into Common Market councils as a prospective member, France would have added support, and certainly a more sympathetic audience, for its appeals for a "European" solution to the immediate crisis.



Poor Britain! Even posterity's got austerity.

Forces Awarded 6.5% Pay Hike

OTTAWA (CP) — A pay increase of about 6.5 per cent for members of the regular and reserve armed forces, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1968, was announced today by Defence Minister Leo Cadieux.

The estimated annual cost is about $42,000,000, excluding the consequential increases in the liability of the government for pension contributions.

Generals receive the biggest increase: $140 a month for a lieutenant-general to $2,307 a month.

Privates get the smallest increase: $10 a month for a recruit undergoing basic training, to $225 a month.

There are some 98,500 members of the regular armed forces and about 30,000 in the reserves.

New pay scales for the reserves are to be announced later.

Mr. Cadieux said in a statement that the treasury board has ordered a thorough study of military pay rates be completed by October next year.

The armed forces received pay increases of 9.8 per cent in 1966 and of four per cent last year.

The pay increase had already been provided for financially in the 1968-69 defence budget of $1,715,000,000.

Pay increases and new monthly rates:

Lieutenant-general, $140 to $2,307; major-general, $130 to $2,110; brigadier-general, $112 to $1,787; colonel, $97 to $1,501; lieutenant-colonel, $69 to $1,199; major, $65 to $996; captain, $52 to $779; lieutenant, $30 to $593;

Chief warrant officer, $48-$52 to $718-$802; master warrant officer, $42-$46 to $627-$699; warrant officer, $42-$46 to $579-$653; sergeant, $37-$41 to $544-$618; corporal, $26-$30 to $476-$599; private, $10-$20 to $225-$389.

nors and the Bank for International Settlements will examine new central bank arrangements to alleviate the impact on reserves of speculative movements.

The communique said the measures taken will make "a major contribution" to the restoration of international payments equilibrium.

It also said that participating countries agreed that international monetary stability is the joint responsibility of all countries in the international economic community.

Both deficit and surplus countries expressed their willingness to contribute effectively to the stability of the international monetary system through appropriate and concerted economic policies, the communique said.

They agreed on measures to counter speculative capital movement, it added.

The communique outlined West German tax measures to reduce its trade surplus and curbs on the flow of speculative money into the country.

It said that, in the light of these measures, the ministers and central bank governors endorsed a West German decision to retain the parity of the West German mark.

They agreed the measures would make a significant contribution to the stability of the monetary system and the adjustment process, it said.

ments in the industries of other countries.

A communique issued after the Bonn meeting confirmed France would receive $2,000,000,000 from the Group of 10. The communique did not say whether the franc would be devalued but said the West German mark would not be revalued.

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville went to the Elysee Palace this morning to discuss the currency with de Gaulle.

Finance Minister Edgar Benson of Canada said in an interview this morning that Canada would contribute to the support fund.

Benson also said devaluation of the franc would pose no great problem for Canada.

"Our trade with France is not exceptionally large," he said.

Also representing Canada at the talks here is Louis Rasminsky, governor of the Bank of Canada.

BROUGHT ON CRISIS

The crisis resulted from the large-scale exchange of francs for West German marks by speculators acting in the belief that France would have to devalue her currency because of economic setbacks stemming from last spring's worker-student crisis and that the West Germans would have to increase the value of their mark because of the heavy surplus they have piled up from exports.

Throughout the Bonn meeting, the West Germans refused to revalue the mark although many experts are convinced it is bound to come. The West Germans resisted it because it would make their goods more expensive and threaten the permanent loss of important markets.

Day of Praise For Minister

'Management Not Meeting Its Moral Obligations'

By ALEX FARRELL

OTTAWA (CP) — The violins played for Labor Minister Bryce Mackasey in the Commons Thursday, as they must have played for few cabinet ministers since Confederation.

Mr. Mackasey blistered management in a blunt speech for failing to meet its "moral obligations" to the worker in an era of technological change, then heard the sweet music of praise from both sides of the Commons.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) said he was "quite impressed" by Mr. Mackasey's performance.

John Lundrigan (PC—Gander-Twillingate) said Mr. Mackasey deserved praise for "his very fine statement."

"I hope the kind of thinking that is evident in this debate becomes a reality in the Canada of today and tomorrow," the Newfoundland MP said.

There appeared to be a wide Commons consensus that workers need better protection against the threat of losing their jobs through automation.

The tone of the discussion, as the Commons dealt with the labor department's revised estimates for the current fiscal year, was strongly pro-labor—so much so that Mr. Knowles said he felt he ought to address the chair and the MPs as "Brother chairman, brothers and sisters."

There were breaks in the music.

Opposition Leader Stanfield accused the labor minister of "lecturing" management and the public.

George Hees (PC—Prince Edward-Hastings) engaged Mr. Mackasey in an argument as to how much Prime Minister Trudeau knows about poverty.

Mr. Hees said the government is indifferent to poverty, partly because Mr. Trudeau had "never experienced it."

HEES NOT POOR

Mr. Mackasey suggested that Mr. Hees has also been quite well-to-do. If there is a Canadian who is concerned about poverty, "it is the present prime minister," the labor minister said.

A longshoreman and a businessman before he entered politics, Mr. Mackasey also had complaints about labor—over work stoppages, lack of communication within the labor movement and "exorbitant demands" by some unions—along with exorbitant profits by companies.

"Legislation defining and emphasizing management's responsibility to its employees in the area of technological change is overdue," he said.

He said he is committed to such legislation.

Mr. Mackasey blasted the Ford Motor Co. for giving more than 300 workers in Windsor, Ont., only one week's notice of dismissal.

"One week to adjust mentally to the impact of layoff, one week to seek out help and advice from the unemployment insurance commission and from the manpower centres, to find out if they qualified for additional benefits or, in too many cases, if they qualified for any type of benefit.

"I believe that management cannot expect the respect of labor and the full co-operation that is needed unless it begins to assume the moral obligation that technological change and increased productivity involve."

HOODED MARCHERS JOIN PROTEST

TORONTO (CP) — Marchers wearing black hoods mingled briefly with students staging a demonstration Thursday night outside the University of Toronto, then slipped away before they could be identified.

The 45-minute demonstration by 25 university students was against Dr. O. M. Solandt, chancellor of the university, described by the placard-carrying youths as "a hireling of the Canadian military and corporate elites."

The hooded group appeared unexpectedly about half way through the demonstration. They stayed about 15 minutes and left refusing to speak or identify themselves.

The demonstration was staged to coincide with Thursday night's convocation at which Dr. Solandt conferred an honorary doctorate of laws degree on Gov.-Gen. Roland Michener.

Dr. Solandt is chairman of the Science Council of Canada and a former vice-president of de Havilland Aircraft of Canada Ltd.

CANBERRA (Reuters) — A move to give the vote to 18-year-olds in Australia was rejected in the House of Rrepresentatives Thursday. The house turned down opposition-sponsored legislation to give them the vote and to lower the age of marriage without consent to 18 from 21.

CAN'T CONTROL FIRE

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A shuddering explosion early today hit the coal mine where 78 men have been trapped for two days in deep passageways with fire still raging uncontrolled.

The pre-dawn blast, latest in a series that started Wednesday morning, sent tremors throughout the area and "lit the sky up."

There has been no communication with the trapped men since they were entombed several hundred feet below the surface at dawn Wednesday.

"We have no control of the fire," William Poundstone, executive vice-president of Consolidation Coal Co., told a news conference. Consolidation is the parent firm of Mountaineer Coal Co. which operates the burning No. 9 mine.

"No," was Poundstone's terse reply when asked whether there are any plans to seal the big mine.

Poundstone termed this morning's explosion "very devastating; the explosion put us back where we were yesterday (Thursday)."

Leonard Gross, a Consolidation representative, arrived at the scene of this morning's explosion shortly after it rattled windows and shook homes and said, "There has been no assessment of the intensity of the explosion". He noted that flames were shooting from one of the big mine's several portals.

Ploughshare Pattern?

IT IS TOO EARLY TO SAY THAT Mr. Trudeau has determined upon a new direction or type of foreign policy for Canada. But it is clear from his recent remarks, and from the character of the man, that there is something new in prospect. Mr. Trudeau appears to have a definite leaning toward economic and social help for needy peoples, at the expense of military commitments and expenditures.

He is too much of a pragmatist, of course, to believe that we are part of a world in which total disarmament is possible for any given country. While we cannot provide complete protection for our country against an attack in force by any major power, we are committed to a share in group defences. In fact, to put it bluntly, if we refused to provide a measure of Canadian defences we could be open to insistence by the United States that its forces be admitted to do the job for us.

But of more immediate interest is what Mr. Trudeau may have in mind in the way of changing the relative accents on foreign aid and military defence. He has given a number of hints that this may be his purpose, after the current review of defence is completed. And if foreign aid is to be increased, at a time when the government is hard-pressed to reduce the total annual spending, one of the obvious means of providing funds would be through a corresponding curtailment of military expenditures.

Canada's foreign aid program has not been particularly impressive. The aid has been less in total than the one per cent of Gross National Product which has been set as a feasible international standard. And the applications of aid have been spotty. In addition, there have been reports of misuse of funds by recipients—a common complaint in all foreign aid schemes. And much of Canada's aid has been in the form merely of loans or arrangements to purchase Canadian goods.

Mr. Trudeau has indicated that a much better showing could be made by concentrating Canada's aid on specific problems and areas, so that unarguable and lasting results were obtained. The principle of foreign aid—apart, for instance, from the provision of food or medicine in an emergency—should be to assist the recipients to self-help: to provide the means of producing food rather than the food itself so that the aid program is self-cancelling and the help may then be directed elsewhere.

Perhaps Mr. Trudeau has in mind such situations as that described this week by Agriculture Minister Olson in an address in Toronto. "I was in Nigeria a few years ago," he said, "and I saw in Central Africa not just thousands of acres but hundreds of thousands of acres which, with the production techniques used by our farmers, could feed millions."

In a world that is chronically short of food, that sort of situation supplies its own answer. A major break-through by Canada with a model program of aid that quickly led to outstandingly beneficial results could set an example of which we could be proud. Since the point of such a move, in addition to the prime one of relieving human need, is to ease the world of its tensions and its hazards to peace, we could point to money well spent. Mr. Trudeau is unorthodox enough to try it.

Dr. Kaye Lamb Retires

THE RETIREMENT THIS WEEK of Dr. Kaye Lamb from the post of Dominion Archivist marks another milestone in the career of one of British Columbia's distinguished sons. He plans to give future time to writing, mainly on historical subjects. That is a program in which the academic world of Canada will wish him success, not only for his personal satisfaction but for the significant additions it can make to a better understanding of our history.

Dr. Lamb was born on the lower mainland and graduated from the University of British Columbia before taking advanced courses at the University of Paris and University of London. He later served as librarian for the province and for UBC. Fluently bilingual before today's emphasis was placed upon that accomplishment, he has been able to combine a sense of Canadian origins and history with admirable scholarship and high administrative ability to the advantage of this country. The recognition accorded him is reflected in the honorary degrees conferred upon him by a multitude of universities.

He leaves the federal service with the knowledge of a job—or a combination of jobs—well done and the assurance that his writings in future will be awaited with interest.

Cuban-U.S. Scholar Exchange?

THE FORD FOUNDATION HAS offered a $125,000 grant for research by U.S. scholars in Cuba—and the Latin American Studies Association, composed of most United States experts on the region, has proposed an exchange of academics.

This is an encouraging development between two countries whose estrangement has been increased by American State Department obstruction of an easy flow of United States visitors to Mr. Castro's republic, and Cuba's willingness to receive only "sympathizers or objective" reporters and scholars.

Now the complaint has been raised in the United States that insufficient information about the country is available to serious students—an understandable situation when each has kept the other at arm's length.

If it becomes possible for academic representatives of each country to visit the other, an opportunity would be created for better understanding—the groundwork on which improved relationships could eventually be established between two near neighbors.

A Job to Do—She Did It

TRIBUTES TO STEWARDESS Mrs. Helga Wood, credited with damping down a washroom fire which endangered the life of passengers aboard an aircraft coming into Denver, gain added virtue from the manner in which the young lady has received them. According to the Denver fire chief, had it not been for her, there would have been "nothing but work for the undertaker" when the aircraft came to rest.

Said Mrs. Wood: "We are trained for this. First, put out the fire. Then see the passengers can breathe and then sit down and wait to land. And that's all we did."

That's all. But if she hadn't done what she did, with the assistance of another stewardess, the story would have been written in heavy black type. If there is a medal for Mrs. Wood, let's have a bar added for the realistic way in which she regarded the incident — a job to do and she did it. What else?

Hanoi Losses Determining New Course

FROM all capitals where there are North Vietnamese embassies, the ambassadors have been called home to Hanoi to receive new instructions. Just the same call went out once before, in the summer of 1967, after the costly decisions that produced the Tet offensive and its two sequels in this supposed "year of final victory" for Hanoi and the VC. It is obvious, then, that the war has entered a quite new phase, as it did when the pre-Tet decisions were taken by the Hanoi Politburo. The evidence bearing on the new phase's character is yet largely negative. For example, Hanoi is no longer sending south the 20 or 30 thousand men per month that would now be needed to continue the big unit war in deadly earnest.

Alsop

Something more may be learned about the new phase by going out to see the war at first hand, in the countryside, which this reporter is about to do. But for the present, it seems most fruitful to recapitulate the fairly hideous facts, now quite solidly established, which have just led the Hanoi leaders to make the change of course necessitating the ambassadors' recall.

Risks Multiplied

These facts were the fruits of the pre-Tet decisions, which have been as grossly misrepresented, as to both causes and results, as any episode in recent history. The essence of the pre-Tet decisions was to multiply by a huge factor the orders of risk and the rates of loss that were considered acceptable. Fear, not hope, was the cause. And since VC recruitment in the south had all but dried up, what had been decided obviously meant an enormous new demand for North Vietnamese manpower.

Three great offensives were planned to alter the trend in the south; and to provide the needed troops, the infiltration rate was steeply increased. From the New Year until the end of October, North Vietnam in fact sent southwards well above 190,000 men.

This in itself is a fearful figure. For if you make the correct allowance for the great difference in the two countries' populations, Hanoi's manpower investment in the first 10 months of 1968 was exactly comparable to an American manpower investment of above 2,250,000 men.

Still more fearful, however, is the figure for the enemy's known losses in these same 10 months. Without counting a single man among the countless casualties of the terrible B-52 strikes, the enemy's losses between Jan. 1 and Oct. 31 passed 250,000—which is comparable to an American loss, in just 10 months, of a few short of 3 million men. The bulk of the losses were incurred, furthermore, in the three "victory" offensives, at Tet, in May and in August-September.

In each of the offensives, many tens of thousands of the enemy fell in largely fruitless battle. Worse still, each was more wasteful than its predecessor. In crude cost — effective terms of destructive impact in South Vietnam — one can say that Tet got the enemy about a dime's worth of results per man he lost (though the misrepresentation of Tet got other results in the U.S.). And the May offensive then got four cents worth of results per man sacrificed, while the August-September offensive got no significant results at all, although it cost close to 50,000 men.

In this cruelly decining curve, beyond much doubt, is the real root of the new decisions Hanoi reached after the failure of the August-September offensive. These were first reflected, of course, in Hanoi's move in Paris in the second week of October that gave some hope for more serious peace talks.

As before, however, what happens in Paris is of little consequence compared to what happens on the battelfield, simply because what happens on the battlefield entirely determines what Hanoi's negotiators do in Paris. The entire VC structure in South Vietnam is now, for the first time, the prime target of the battle.

With Hanoi's rate of manpower investment now sharply reduced, the VC structure will have sharply reduced support from the big units. Yet if this new battle goes badly for the enemy, what will Hanoi do — accept the outcome, or again seek to mount fruitless offensives at a dreadful cost?

Chess Enthusiasm

Thanks to the volunteer help of Mr. J. Kenny, members of the Boys' Club of Victoria are showing enthusiasm for the game of chess.

The game can reveal the positive and negative qualities of our characters, such as courage of convictions, resourcefulness, opportunism, physical endurance, panic, foolishness, and ability to survive. The games most enjoyed are those in which great difficulties are conquered.

These boys meet at 1240 Yates Street, and would welcome any donated used chess sets that are available. — C. Large, 1505 Morrison.

Save the Crystal

No one questions our Beacon Hill Park, or the annual cost of operating this incalculable asset to the city. No one — be he mayor, alderman or citizen — would dare to encroach on this trust even so much as space for a hot dog stand, no matter how "valid" the economic rationalization behind such a move! Whether done in the name of "progress", increased tourist trade, or whatever, such action is unthinkable!

Why then do we, mayor, aldermen and citizens choose not to notice as our city, the place we decided to live in, is ransacked, remodelled and reformed into something that practically everywhere else on this continent has demonstrably failed to provide a healthy human environment?

For me this whole issue has come to a head in the apparently foregone conclusion that the Crystal Garden has to go. None of the mutely accepted reasons for this have satisfied me, and quite frankly, fellow citizens, I feel we are being snowed! This, for me, is it! I'm sick of my own apathy and its only-too-obvious results. Anyone feeling as I do please write or phone and see what can be done! — Tony Hubner, 2490 Cadboro Bay.

Bolstering Germans

Re our troops in NATO and all this clamor for bolstering them. It seems to me that all we are doing is bolstering the German economy by keeping them over there.

And we still get this continual yapping about the Nigerian-Biafran war. Yet when it comes down to actual collection of money from people, whether it's for the Red Cross or other relief agencies — there is an actual lack of sympathy. More than likely the collections that are received are from the people who don't do all the demonstrating. — A Realist.

Constitutional Scepticism on the Prairies

A VOICE that has been setting federal teeth on edge since the Rowell-Sirois days will go unheard at this year's constitutional conference. But the owner of the voice will be there to assist his successor in arguing the hard line that Alberta has been bringing to Ottawa for 30 years. Premier E. C. Manning will step out of the leadership of the Social Credit Party on December 6. He also announced that he will resign his seat in the Legislature so as to get completely out of the way of his successor.

Gray

But regardless of which of the five cabinet ministers contesting for his mantle speaks for Alberta, there will be little change in the position taken. Nor will Manitoba or Saskatchewan change much from the position they took last year. For Premier Ross Thatcher, constitutional change last year ran a bad second to the Grey Cup football game.

One of Premier Manning's last official acts was to fire off a blistering critique of the proposed federal Official Languages Bill. There has been a widespread and slowly growing acceptance in the west that bilingualism has something to be said for it. Adoption of French as a language of instruction has even been accepted in all three Prairie provinces. But there is also widespread and outspoken opposition to enforced bilingualism "having French jammed down our throats."

So when Premier Manning protested that Ottawa's effort to enforce bilingualism would lead to resentment and be seriously divisive, he was only reflecting public opinion in Alberta. The language bill, coming at this time, is therefore bound to create distrust at the impending constitutional conference.

The truth is that there is little interest in either constitutional reform or constitutional change on the Prairies ... As far as Manitoba and Saskatchewan are concerned, there isn't much wrong with federal-provincial relations that more generous federal assistance for provincial treasurers would not fix.

Repair Base Hassle

In Manitoba the attitude toward constitutional change to assist Quebec has not been improved by the grab by Quebec politicians and union leaders for the dry bones of the Air Canada repair base in Winnipeg. They demand its immediate transfer to Montreal.

That repair base is about all that is left of Winnipeg's dream of becoming the aircraft repair centre of Canada. Once it saw itself as the logical stop-down point for airlines flying to Europe from the western United States and South America, and to Asia from the eastern States and Europe. The old Air Canada base was established in Winnipeg because of that central location.

But with the coming of jets, and Air Canada going global, the service centre was moved piecemeal to Montreal. The Winnipeg shops are nearing their final phase-out stage and this is burning Manitoba's pride and its pocket-book. As the only have-not province left in the west, it is demanding that Ottawa do something to assist regional development by encouraging instead of destroying such things as the Air Canada shops.

Overlooking French-Canadi

Manitoba, in short, is concerned with economic gut issues and not with arguments over the constitution; unless, that is, it can be shown that constitutional change is needed to solve its pressing economic difficulties. This preoccupation with basic Manitoba problems is reflected in the non-reaction of the Weir Government to the efforts of the leaders of the French-Canadian bloc to get its attention.

The French-Canadian Rally Commission has been blasting out positional papers demanding the Frenchification of schools, the building of a French cultural centre, the setting up of a special bank to assist the development of French-Canadian business. As the government seems not to be listening, it is also trying to whoop up interest in political activism.

Saskatchewan too is far more interested in economic than in constitutional problems. The wheat glut has Saskatchewan by the throat, and if that grip is loosened it is soon to be hit by a potash glut that will hurt almost as much.

For all these reasons, the Prairie provinces are likely to play a passively resistant role at the start of the constitutional conference. They will sit up and pay attention only when concrete proposals are placed on the table. Quebec wants a new constitution? Okay, let's take a look at it. Mr. Trudeau wants cnstitutional changes made? Okay, let's take a look at what Mr. Trudeau wants.

With something concrete to chew on, the only concern of the Prairie provinces is how the changes will taste to the folks back home. If the drafting geniuses can devise changes that will make Quebec happy, preserve the status of the Prairie provinces and improve their finances, they will likely be willing to cooperate.

But if the gut issues that afflict Quebec are so serious that the only solution is granting a special taxation status, and reducing Ottawa's ability to assist the others, there will be little hope of western approval. The Prairie governments have always opted for greater payments from Ottawa for education, housing, etc. Any change that reduced Ottawa ability to maintain or even increase these subsidies will be viewed biliously on the Prairies. It will be doubly so if it arises from constitutional concession to Quebec.

Quebec Stamp

The difficulty on the Prairies is that the French language problem is identified always with Quebec. So there is almost no way of separating public attitudes toward the federal Official Languages Bill and Quebec province's appeals for special consideration. Thus, when a federal minister serves notice that by 1975 the top civil service jobs will go exclusively to those who are fluently bilingual, the common reaction in the west is that Quebec is trying to take over the whole Canadian civil service.

On the Prairies, French-Canadian is synonymous with Quebecker. So whatever it is that Quebec will ask for at the constitutional conference, its wants will be viewed with greater suspicion and uneasiness as a consequence of the Official Languages Bill being brought forward at this time.

Mirror, Mirror ...

It has always been very important to me to read my own poetry, even if nobody listens. I hear it; it is my form of music. I can't sing in tune, but I can feel rhythm and rhyme. Poetry to me is the best form of all self-expression; of sharing an enjoyment of some experience or place. I don't think there is anything that can do it better. I should like to be able to paint pictures, but, since I cannot, I try word pictures.

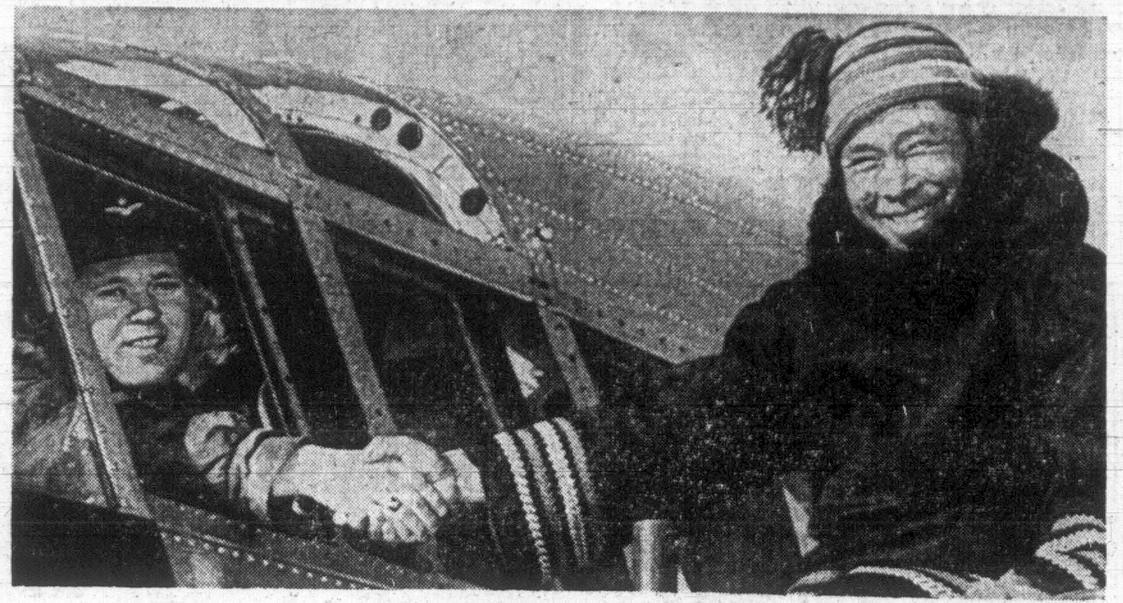
'New Arctic White Man' Doesn't Belong

By GEORGE WOODCOCK
Saturday Night Magazine

All the white men in the North are in one sense transients, temporary residents in a land where even birds and mammals are mostly creatures of passage.



Transient in a different world

Few white men have ever died in the far North except by accident, starvation, or unexpected sickness; few have stayed there willingly to live their lives to the end.

Yet there is a difference between now, when white men come for a few months or, at most, a few years, and the past, which in places like Baker Lake ended little more than a decade ago.

Then life was very different. The Eskimos did not live in the village. They roamed west, summer after summer, on their traditional hunts after the caribou which migrated over the Barren Land; in the fall, when the air grew crisp, they would cache meat for the winter of trapping; at long intervals they would come in to trade at the Hudson's Bay store at Baker Lake.

Down the beach from the store stood the other buildings symbolizing the white man's light and almost reluctant domination: the RCMP post, the missions of the Anglicans and the Oblate Fathers.

The six or seven policemen, missionaries and traders were the only white men for thousands of square miles.

Herds Decimated

The police tried to maintain a semblance of white men's law; the missionaries undermined the power of the shamans and established Christian routines rather than Christian faith; the traders detached the hunters from their stone-age tools and weapons and made them dependent on steel traps and modern rifles, which in turn led to the rapid and catastrophic waste of the caribou herds.

In all these ways the old Eskimo life, which had been evolved over millenia, was slowly worn away; but until starvation brought it to a forcible end in the early 1950s there were few people who envisaged any radical interference with traditional Arctic ways of existence.

This was because the white men themselves had accepted the North as a way of life, with all the hardships attendant on it in the age before bush planes and ski-doos.

They knew, before they ever saw the tundra of Keewatin or the mountains of Baffin Island, that the yearly boat, with its cargo of supplies and mail, would be their only link with the rest of the world, and that if one season's ice happened to be heavy, they might have to wait two years, or even three years, before they would be back in communication with that distant place they called outside.

Ate Eskimo Food

To survive physically and maintain the alertness that preserves sanity, they adopted the methods of travel, hunting and fishing used by the people of the land; they wore Eskimo clothing and often ate Eskimo food.

In this way they became largely assimilated into the native life, and instead of wishing to replace it by an imitation of the life they had lived outside, which most of them despised, they tried merely to ameliorate it with a little law, a little religion, a trade carried on, like children shopkeeping, with token coins.

The appearance of the New Arctic White Man was made inevitable by the importance the North gained strategically during World War II and the Cold War.

It was precipitated by the collapse of the traditional Eskimo life in the barren land when the caribou migrations failed at the end of the 1940s and the early 1950s.

Appalled by the deaths in the starvation camps of Ennadai and Padlei, the RCMP herded the survivors to Baker Lake and to the coast, where they formed the nuclei of the settlements of Eskimo Point and Rankin Inlet.

In 1953, by setting up the Department of Northern Affairs, the government finally assumed responsibility for the people of the North, taking the task of administration out of the hands of the scattered Mounties.

The reorganization of the Arctic way of life has since been carried out mainly by the department and its successor, the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

Within the fifteen years since the people of the north became an all-Canadian commitment, the whole pattern of existence has changed there for Eskimos and whites as well.

The barren land is empty of human activity for the first time since the Eskimos arrived, many centuries ago.

The Eskimos — rapidly forgetting their hunting skills — live in the settlements in houses provided by the government, and so do the white men, in rather better houses.

The missionaries remain, their influence diminishing. The Hudson's Bay men also remain, their trade increasing.

Trading Post Gone

It is a different kind of trade now. Fur represents less than an eighth of the present-day business of the Arctic stores; the rest is carried on with the Eskimos in exchange for welfare vouchers or for cash earned from handcrafts or construction work, and the old-fashioned trading post is being replaced by the miniature department store.

The Bay still holds almost a monopoly of private enterprise. Occasionally a mine will open and close down after a few years, but other unofficial ventures are so rare that the cannery for Arctic char and muktuk operated by a German immigrant in Rankin Inlet is famous throughout the north as an example of what others might do but don't.

Government Money

The great industry in all the new settlements is, in fact, government. Most of the money that passes into Eskimo hands comes through local officials, either in payment for art objects or for construction work, or in welfare maintenance during the lean months of deep winter.

And at least 90 per cent of the white men and many of the white women in places like Baker Lake, Rankin Inlet and Frobisher Bay are employed by the government, as administrators, resettlement officers, co-operative officers, arts officers, as nurses and teachers, as policemen, meteorologists and radio technicians, as engineers looking after power plants and utilidors, as clerks and maintenance men.

The summer transients expand the spectrum even wider. They include the doctors (none of whom live in the settlements) and pediatricians, dentists and radiologists, the aerial photographers and geological surveyors, the wild-life men and pilots, together with the carpenters and plumbers and mechanics and electricians and telephone linemen who are involved in summer and autumn construction work.

Except for a few prospectors, and a few men spying out possibilities for foreign investors, almost all of them are, once again, employed by the government.

As a class, the New Arctic White Men have little of the staying power of their predecessors, and even the "permanent" members of the new settlements seldom remain long.

There is no need now to wait for the yearly boat; the plane, as a means of quick escape, is frequently taken long before a year is up.

Missionaries Stay

Missionaries and traders still stay longest in the north. Most priests have several years' experience behind them, and most Hudson's Bay men stay at a store at least two or three years.

But the New Arctic White Man in his bureaucratic manifestation is even more volatile than the average southern Canadian worker.

There are many reasons for the malaise of the New Arctic White Man. One is the fact that native Canadians have never really taken to the North.

Traditionally, it has been the stamping ground of adventurous Europeans. The English and Scandinavians were its best explorers.

Hudson's Bay men have always been recruited mainly from Scotland and North Ireland, and still are.

Don't Take to Life

Anglican missionaries are English, and the Oblate Fathers are French and Belgian.

But, though there have been notable exceptions, the majority of recent government employees have been Canadian, and, on the whole, they have not taken to the life of the North, even in its new form.

But it is not merely a matter of climate or topography. It is even more, I think, the question of a government policy which is breeding feelings of alienation in both the Eskimos and the New Arctic White Men.

The arrival of the memsahibs is now recognized by social historians as a significant turning point in the history of the British in India, and, in Canada, the arrival of appreciable numbers of white women and children in the Northern settlements during the 1960s is meaningful because it shows the kind of society which is being officially nurtured.

The presence of families is encouraged by monetary allowances, and special supplies of year-round rations, in the hope that around them will form something resembling normal Southern Canadian communities, into which Eskimos will eventually be absorbed.

In self-defence against the environment, the families themselves try to reproduce the image and substance of Outside suburban living.

Little Greenhouses

The utilidors, the hi-fis, the planters with their evergreen creepers, the sophisticated home-cooking, the little plastic greenhouses where parsley and lettuce are grown, the curling club and the miniscule social gatherings where the same people meet: the effort is gallant, and one feels a kind of pioneer genuineness about the ingenuity with which people make their own amusements.

But it all wears thin during the long winter night of the North, when the supply of people from Outside has dried up and the snow piles up over the windows, and over the roofs, and people scuttle down snow tunnels into their front-doors like groundhogs into their burrows.

The New Arctic White Men have not succeeded in facing the North as it is; they are trying always to reproduce the life of the South, and that life, of course, is lived successfully only in the South.

The presence of white families has been especially encouraged because it was hoped that this might further the official program of integration in the North, where whites, Indians and Eskimos are now regarded as citizens equal before the law.

The hope that white and Eskimo women would mix has not worked out; it is not easy to mix when housing conditions and incomes are so far apart.

But children have to go to school, and there they cannot do other than mingle. This would be excellent if integration in the schools, as elsewhere, were not handled as if it were intended to turn all the Eskimos overnight into New Arctic White Men.

Not a single teacher in the government schools of the Arctic knows Eskimo, and there is no official instruction in the native language.

The teacher has no direct contact with the younger children; he has to instruct them through a "classroom assistant," a teen-age Eskimo who knows a little English and acts as interpreter.

A similar situation exists in the government offices, where the administrator must talk through an interpreter with the people he is trying to usher into the twentieth century.

There are rudimentary orientation courses for teachers, though they do not include effective language training; but there are no real orientation courses for officials, so that the government man arriving in the North all too often feels forced into a position rather like that of a benevolent sahib ruling a strange and incomprehensible tribe.

His situation is made all the more difficult because, however genuine his desire to create a real co-operation between whites and Eskimos, he is condemned to be a member of a paternalistic elite, while the rigid directives laid down by Ottawa leave little room for individual initiative or imaginative planning.

Escape Only Out

Nor is there any real way of release from the frustrations of such a situation except by escape, since the fact that the white people in the settlements are almost all government employees means that local criticism of official policies and practices can rarely be openly developed.

Some people hope that, when Ottawa loosens its grip and administration falls — as it is now doing by gradual stages — under the control of the Territorial Government in Yellowknife, the situation will change for the better. Time will shortly tell.

In the meantime all but the most dedicated New Arctic White Men are taking the first chances that come to them of going South; and sooner or later, at the present rate of wastage, it will be hard to find the people to administer the top-heavy empire of Northern government.

Leadership Loyalty Fading As NDP Joins Hunt for Image

By DOUGLAS FISHER and HARRY S. CROWE

Fisher

Crowe

The surprise of the Ontario NDP contest between Donald MacDonald and Jim Renwick was not in the wide margin of Mr. MacDonald's victory but that Mr. Renwick launched his bid at all.

He's not a fool and he must have known that it would take a major and thorough policy initiative and alternative to give him a chance, not just the offering of a different personality.

When his early explanation remained vague on policy matters and centred on such ambiguities as "participation" and "confrontation" then both the general curiosity and the memberships' concern had to shift to a simple comparison of the two men.

And to New Democrats, so defensively-minded and conscious of the necessity of loyalty, Donald MacDonald's record of hard work and consistent enthusiasm through much adversity had to be supported.

●

It is often puzzling to outsiders that a political party which is self-consciously "radical" should be so tender with its leaders. Why is such a large element in the party ready to go again with Tommy Douglas? Why did aspirants like Tom Berger in B.C. and Syd Green in Manitoba lose provincial leadership contests to incumbent leaders like Bob Strachan and Russ Paulley when, on the face of it, they offered a younger, better-educated and more sophisticated alternative?

We explain it as an intrinsic feature of a minority group, conscious that solidarity is vital when your numbers are small and the enemy many and most critical. You see this writ large in the history of trade unions; and, there, as in the NDP, it's complemented by the fact that the organizational structure which develops is almost always close to the leadership.

Perhaps more important is the traditional penchant for a party of the left to idealize policy and down play personality.

So there's the funny paradox: The party which stresses policy, not leadership, which always underlines the controls of the membership on the leadership and on policy through conventions and constituency associations, gives the leader a trust unusual in the other parties and will do so year after year so long as he is fairly and openly a spokesman for the party's policies.

We've had repeated questions in the past few weeks from politicians in other parties which boil down to this:

What's the cause of the unrest over leadership which is so current in your party? In Nova Scotia, a new provincial leader has just been chosen. The Quebec leader, Robert Cliche, has resigned. In Ontario, there's this Renwick-MacDonald contest; Manitoba just got over one.

There are rumors Woodrow Lloyd is to step out in Saskatchewan. Grant Notley has just won the leadership in Alberta after Neil Reimer resigned. Bob Strachan in B.C. has announced he'll be through next April. There's doubt both about Tommy Douglas as national leader and about any one else as successor.

Clearly, there's a restiveness in the party, provincially and federally. We think it represents a reaction, often unconsciously reached, to the enormous attention and electoral success of Pierre Trudeau and, before him of John Diefenbaker. Yes, John Diefenbaker.

Remember the NDP was born out of the consequences of the Diefenbaker sweep of 1958. The Liberals seemed to be floored. The prospect of replacing them as a major party looked excellent. A great leader was at hand in Tommy Douglas. Matchless platform speaker; proven premier.

Instead, when Diefenbaker slipped the Liberals came back under Mr. Pearson. In the Pearson-Diefenbaker rivalry, the virtues of Mr. Douglas were hardly noticed by the general electorate and when Mr. Pearson limped off the scene no benefit accrued to the New Democrats.

●

Instead, for the second time in a decade, another leader with charisma sweeps in. Its disillusioning, if you are not a Liberal or a Conservative, to ponder those two great mandates for Diefenbaker and Trudeau. No matter how you cherish the virtue of policy and principles in your party the merit of a leadership change becomes more and more attractive.

In these times of the short television or radio capsule and the chasing hunger of reporters for diversity and contention, the long earnest speech or the policy-centred working conventions do not get much attention.

The fresh, the pungent, the colorful, the whimsical and witty, above all personality; these are what get attention. So New Democrats have become more and more aware of image and the imperative for flair and change.

THE GALLUP POLL

Public Gives Liberals First Majority Support

By The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

In the popular vernacular, the Liberals in Ottawa "must be doing something right." How, otherwise, does one account for the fact that, for the first time in years, a political party emerges from a national Institute political study with a clear-cut majority of voters saying they would support it, were an election "being held today"?

Just before the opening of Parliament, a September, 1968, study by the Gallup Poll showed that the Liberals had increased their popular support from 45.5 per cent actually obtained in the June election, to 49 per cent.

Today, the comparable figure is 52 per cent.

In its periodic soundings of political support for Canada's leading parties, Gallup interviewers across Canada put this question to an accurate cross-section of eligible voters:

"If a federal election were held today, which party's candidate do you think you would favor?"

In the table below, the results of such surveys by The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion are compared with the actual results of last June's election:

	WOULD FAVOR
	Liberals	PC	NDP	Socreds and Others
CIPO pre-election report	47%	29%	18%	6%
Election result	46	31	17	6
Sept. 1968	49	26	17	8
Today	52	27	14	7

Going back as far as the 1963 election, no Institute poll has previously shown any of the parties with a majority of popular support.

While the Institute's national sample is not geared to give reliable percentage results by provinces, it seems evident that much of the Liberal increase since the last election is coming from Western Canada and Ontario, while the one percentage point increase for the Conservatives since the September poll appears to be largely from Quebec voters.

Would you bet your home, your car and every cent you'll ever make that you'll never cause an automobile accident.

It would be a foolish bet. Yet, year after year, people gamble their future by driving without adequate car liability insurance.

How important is liability insurance? It's vital.

It gives you protection against the cost of injuries or damage you may inflict on other people, their cars or property. It pays for your lawyer if you are sued. Without liability insurance you may find yourself paying for the crippling costs of a car accident.

You can see therefore that adequate liability insurance is your best bet against financial disaster.

If you want to know more about it, mail the coupon below. We will send you our new booklet which clearly explains car insurance and its cost.

Greek Plotter Wins Clemency

ATHENS (AP) — Greeks sighed with relief today after their military government, apparently bowing to worldwide pressure, decided to let Alexander Panagoulis live.

The regime decided Thursday night not to shoot the 30-year-old army deserter, sentenced to die for plotting to overthrow it.

Students were demonstrating abroad and appeals for clemency had come in from UN Secretary-General U Thant, Pope Paul, the United States and many other countries.

Most Greeks feared that if Panagoulis was shot, it would be the start of a string of executions. He was the first man sentenced to be executed since the military coup 19 months ago.

Panagoulis also was convicted of trying to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos, the titular leader of the regime. But Papadopoulos was said to have been against execution, and reliable sources said he had warned the other members of the military junta that executing Papagoulis would further harm the regime's image abroad.

Meanwhile, the regime announced changes in four high government posts, and two of the former army officers involved announced they would quit the government.

Dimitrios Stamatolopoulos, chief of the communications ministry, and Michael Balapoulos, head of the national tourism organization, were scheduled to switch places. Both ex-colonels who took part in the coup, they issued statements saying they would not accept the switch or take other government positions.

Committee Votes Bright Christmas

Victoria city's finance committee turned the Christmas lights on and extra welfare payments off Thursday.

Faced with a bill of $3,120 if they paid welfare families a $4 a head Christmas bonus instead of the usual $10 per family, committee members decided the $10, plus a Christmas hamper from the Christmas Fund, was enough.

Faced with a bill of $1,500 if they permitted the Junior Chamber of Commerce to install 100 Christmas trees and other decorations on city streets, the committee voted unanimously in favor of the project.

Christmas lighting proposals by the Chamber of Commerce had fallen by the wayside because of lack of financial support from downtown merchants.

On the proposal to increase welfare bonus payments for Christmas Ald. Lily Wilson and Ald. Percy Frampton led the objectors.

"These people do get Christmas hampers from the Christmas Fund, so with the $10 in addition they're not too badly off," said Ald. Frampton.

"Although the amount isn't tremendous I don't think the extra money is needed," said Ald. Wilson.

WELL CARED FOR

The only feminine member of council went on to add that elderly people in the city were particularly well cared for in the city during Christmas.

"I do feel that we take care of our people," she said. "Not lavishly, maybe, but they are warm, they get medical attention and they have nothing to really worry about."

Ald. Wilson later explained that her remarks applied only to the over 65-years bracket.

Mayor Hugh Stephen said he had a great deal of sympathy with the plight of families on welfare at Christmas time, but said he feared the establishment of a precedent which could lead to heavy expenditures in future years.

The committee voted unanimously to hold the family bonus payment at the $10 level.

On the Jaycees Christmas lighting campaign all members waxed eloquent in praising Jaycee Lorne White for his proposal to give the city Yuletide sparkle.

The Jaycees, with $1,500 from the city and $1,000 of their own funds, will decorate 12 main intersections and as many centre blocks with Christmas trimmings.

The program will give the downtown area approximately half the Christmas decoration it has had in the past.

But Mr. White told the finance committee that the Jaycees hope to overcome that deficiency by promoting a downtown Christmas lighting contest on a commercial basis with the senior Chamber putting up the prizes.

REGULAR PROGRAM

He also told the committee that it was hoped that this year's program would be just the start of a regular Christmas lighting program.

Last week two aldermen, Hugh Ramsay and Ian Stewart, said they would oppose any city move to lead the financial way on Christmas lighting when the merchants involved were showing little interest.

They both suggested that if the city had any extra money it should go to needy families rather than on exterior decorations.

"It seems to me that it doesn't matter how much the city glitters on the outside, if the people in the houses are cold and hungry," Ald. Stewart said.

Neither alderman was present for Thursday's decision which still requires full council ratification before final approval.

FACING multiple charges, Toronto stock promoter Myer Rush will be flown to Toronto under police guard next week from Britain, where he has been in prison since July 1. Rush has decided not to take his extradition fight to the House of Lords.

Centre to Hold Craft Work Sale

Products from 42 arts and crafts classes at Victoria Silver Threads Centre will be sold at a bazaar at 4 Centennial Square Friday, Nov. 29, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Some 400 senior citizens are now attending the classes, which include painting, embroidery, rug-making, ceramics, woodwork, basket-weaving and gardening.

A wide selection of Christmas novelties will be sold and home-cooking will be provided by volunteers in the Silver Threads canteen.

Extension Talks Switched

Two speakers to the University of Victoria extension series lecture program have reversed their order.

Dr. Donald Mitchell, of the department of anthropology and sociology, will speak on "B.C. Archeological Discoveries" Monday.

Professor Carl Hare of the theatre division of the fine arts school will speak on the "Changing Theatre" Dec. 16.

Both lectures will be held in Room 168 of the Elliott Building, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

7 Die in Alaska Air Crash

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — A twin-engine plane carrying members of Alaska's employ- studying ment advisory commission studying unemployment in Arctic villages crashed Thursday. Seven persons were killed and an eighth was injured critically.

The crash occurred 12 miles from the spot where humorist Will Rogers and aviator Wiley Post were killed when their plane went down in a fog on Aug. 15, 1935.

Werner Bohrer, Nome businessman who is district chairman of the Northwestern Alaska Republican committee and a member of the employment commission, was flown to Basset Army hospital in Fairbanks for surgery. He suffered internal injuries.

The plane, flown by Barrow bush pilot Robert J. Fisher, was about 10 minutes out of Barrow when Fisher radioed that he had engine trouble and was returning.

Jim Gillespie, a construction worker, saw the crash. He said there was some fire but no explosion after the plane flipped over.

Gillespie got a hacksaw, cut through the wreckage and freed Bohrer.

The other victims were Harold Groothuis of Fairbanks, chairman of the commission; Dean Leo Loll, 45, Fairbanks, vice president for finance and comptroller at the University of Alaska; George Wilson, 35, Juneau, executive director of the commission; Mrs. Viola Dodge, Anchorage, all commission members; Tom LaFollette, 59, Anchorage, a member of the state economic development department and commission adviser; and Lt.-Col. Charles W. Elliot of the Alaskan Command, a commission adviser.

Gov. Walter J. Hickel, calling the accident "a matter of shock and sorrow for all Alaskans," proclaimed Monday a day of mourning in the state.

'Two Bit' Island Was a Good Home

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Even if you live on an island where your nearest neighbor is a mile away you are never lonely, say Kay and Terry Stone.

Forbes

Curious about this "two-bit" island, as Mrs. Stone has labelled it in a letter to me, I went to visit them in their present home on Knight Street. And I learned they have many happy memories of the years they lived on Mudge "a bit of land" close to Gabriola Island and not far from Nanaimo. There was always something happening, Mr. Stone told me. They had two miles of sand and gravel beach "as easy to walk on as any city pavement."

This beach gave up an amazing assortment of treasure trove. Once it was a sack of onions from a passing schooner. Another time a crate of cauliflower floated ashore. A ship's boarding ladder was still another gift from the sea.

Lumber was always plentiful. So much of it came ashore the Stones only salvaged two-by-fours which were sawn up and used in the kitchen stove.

There was interest, too, in watching for visitors. They came from the north, south and east. "We never knew which direction it might be," Mr. Stone remembered.

He had stories of days before False Narrows, between Mudge and Gabriola, was marked. When hours were spent on the beach directing by hand and voice, boats that got off course and in amongst the reefs.

"The channel is full of reefs and clam beds," Kay Stone added, "when we had very low tides both were dangerous."

Mrs. Stone's introduction to Mudge was in 1930. As Miss Helen Kathleen Hosking she had come from England and was nursing at Tranquille Sanitarium near Kamloops. There she met William Cox, a patient.

Marriage plans were made for the time when he could leave Tranquille and return to Mudge where his mother (a member of the pioneer Hoggan family of Gabriola) had a home and land.

The young nurse came first to the island to visit the Cox family. Soon after this she came back with her husband. Eleven years later he died and she continued to live on the place alone. Until she met Walter (Terry) Stone, in Victoria, and married for a second time.

"Right from the first (back in the 30s) we kept 40 or 50 sheep," Mrs. Stone told me. "They grazed all over the island."

Wool was sold to the local Indians. Black wool brought the best price. "Fortunately we had some black sheep in the lot."

After William Cox's death, friends came from Cedar to do the shearing, the butchering and to take the meat into Nanaimo to sell.

In the 25 years she lived on Mudge, it was an everyday occurrence for Kay Stone to row across False Narrows to Gabriola for the mail. In the beginning it came from Nanaimo by launch and eventually by ferry.

"It really is quite a narrow channel," she says. "When the tide was right I could do it in five minutes. But if the tide was against me it sometimes took 45 minutes."

Mudge is a mere one-and-a-half miles in length and only a mile at its widest point. Both top and bottom sections were owned by the Cox family. Middle section was divided and sold. Several people lived there over the years. They were the Stone's nearest neighbors.

Besides the sheep the place produced all kinds of fruit. There were chickens too and, according to Terry Stone, "mushrooms galore."

One of two cabins along the beach brought families with children back for summer camping year after year. "We made good friends that way."

In the off-season Indians sometimes took over the cabins when they came to dig clams. At times this created difficulties for the owners. When they left, parts of the cabins sometimes went with the Indians.

On one occasion it was a chimney and the galvanized iron collar that held it in place.

Finally, the sheep, the orchard, the cabins and rowing across to Gabriola every day for the mail became too much. The Stones sold and went to Lantzville to live and from there came to Victoria.

They like it here, of course. But they still look back on Mudge as "home." And according to Terry Stone, there are days when they wish they had never left there.

Stowaway Rejected

CANBERRA, Australia (Reuters) — A stowaway claiming to be a senior Cuban intelligence officer was refused permission to stay here, it was learned today. Eduardo Diaz Gonzalez arrived in Australia a week ago aboard the liner Canberra and told Immigration officials he was a top intelligence officer for Cuba stationed in Peking. Officials refused to disclose why his request was rejected.

VIOLENT revolution threatens in the U.S. unless the white power structure grants the demands of the nation's black people for equality, says Rev. James Groppi, controversial parish priest and civil rights worker in Milwaukee. He was addressing a teach-in at McGill University on racism.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

'What Are Kaiser Terms?'

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal MP Douglas Hogarth unsuccessfully demanded information Thursday that is before the federal cabinet on negotiations concerning use of Vancouver's Roberts Bank port.

The negotiations have been taking place between the National Harbors Board and the Kaiser Coal Company, which plans to export Western Canadian coal to Japan through Roberts Bank.

Mr. Hogarth, a member of the Commons transportation committee, told the committee he wants to know what terms the Kaiser company has proposed for use of the new port. An order had been issued in the House of Commons for tabling of this information three weeks ago, but it had not been carried out.

Howard Mann, National Harbors Board chairman, told the committee no agreement has been reached with the Kaiser company. Results of the negotiations were embodied in a confidential document now under cabinet consideration.

Mr. Hogarth made it clear he was not satisfied with this answer but the committee was unable to agree that Mr. Mann should be required to give information about the negotiations.

Coal traffic through Roberts Bank, in Vancouver's southern outskirts, is expected to begin about a year from now.

U.S. Base Closes

RAWALPINDI (AP) — United States Ambassador Benjamin Oehlert Jr. anounced Thursday that the American air base at Peshawar, Pakistan, will be closed next July. This follows Pakistan's one-year notice to the U.S. last spring that it did not want to renew the 10-year agreement covering the base.

This Christmas, give her everything but the kitchen sink.

Christmas Day. The tree and the mistletoe, the cards and the gifts. And Christmas dinner. After which your wife spends the rest of the day at the kitchen sink, washing an enormous pile of dishes. Merry Christmas. Ho, ho, ho.

Take the kitchen sink out of her life. Give her an automatic dishwasher. It will clean pots, pans, glassware and fine china far more quickly and thoroughly than she ever could. With far less trouble, too. Just load everything into the dishwasher, switch on and the job's done.

So give her a lifetime holiday from dishes. Give her everything but the kitchen sink.

Early Morning Blast Rips Montreal Store

MONTREAL (CP) — A small home-made bomb exploded early today in the basement of the downtown Eatons' department store. There were no injuries, but police estimated the damage at about $25,000.

The bomb, the third to go off in Montreal in less than 35 hours, had been placed in one of the lockers available to shoppers for temporary storage of their purchasees.

About 30 employees on the night cleaning staff were in the store at the time of the blast—3:40 a.m.—but none of them was anywhere near the vicinity of the lockers.

A police spokesman said an elevator had been heavily damaged, but further details were not immediately available.

A Quebec Liquor Board store was rocked by a bomb early Thursday, a few hours after a fire-bomb had been tossed against the east-end home of a liquor store manager.

There were no injuries in either incident in the city this year.

DREMEL

5 POWER TOOLS IN ONE
NEW DREMEL MOTO-SHOP

A complete power workshop packed into one low-cost, compact unit. From a large-capacity 15" Jig Saw, attachments can be connected to the power take-off, converting it into a Disc Sander, Bench Grinder, Buffing Wheel, and a Flexible Shaft Machine . . . all powered by a ball bearing rotary motor.

As a Jig Saw, it cuts 1¾" wood, 18 gauge copper, 1/16" steel, etc. Table tilts for angle cutting. A unique blade guard makes it safe for the whole family. Outperforms heavier, more expensive makes.

The Flexible Shaft is a complete machine shop in itself, grinds, drills, polishes, carves, etc. Handy for drilling holes when making inside cuts with Jig Saw. Moto-Shop is the perfect "ALL-FAMILY" workshop. Recommended for craftsmen, hobbyists, model builders—youth handicraft programs in schools, Boys' Clubs, scouting, etc.

Model 57 MOTO-SHOP. Includes Jig Saw with disc sander attachment only. Other attachments can be added as you need them... 56^{95}

SHERIFF WANTS POT FOR POTTING POTHEADS

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP)—Sheriff Art Morken has asked the county commissioners to provide his office with $300 so he can buy "some pot".

He said his deputies had to continually dig into their own pockets for money to pay informers to make "buys" from people peddling marijuana, so they could be caught.

The commissioners set November 25 for an emergency budget appropriation hearing to see if they can supply the money.

Home-Buyers Get Subsidy?

MONTREAL (CP) — Former Conservative MP Heward Grafftey said Thursday direct subsidies for Canadian home-buyers likely will be a key recommendation of the federal government's housing task force.

Mr. Grafftey, who was asked by Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield to follow the force headed by Transprt Minister Paul Hellyer, told a local service club that these subsidies will probably be laid under a joint federal-provincial program.

"Rather than continuing present practices of segregation through public housing as we have known them, the government may have to subsidize home ownership, rather than subsidizing rents as it now does."

Such a program could affect home buying and building from early next year. Mr. Hellyer announced in the Commons Wednesday that the task force's report should be ready for the government by mid-January of 1969.

Mr. Grafftey, who represented the Quebec riding of Brome-Missisquoi for nine years until he was defeated by a slim margin in the June 25 federal election, said he was "appalled" by what he saw during his travels across the country with the task force.

"In particular, when I see the conditions of housing for the Indians, the Metis and the Eskimos, I'm sometimes damned ashamed that I'm a Canadian."

Public housing projects for lower-income Canadians haven't been successful, he said. Many had become "segregated ghettoes" with unhealthy stigmas attached to them, no matter how modern they may be.

CAPTURED SHRINE

The Crusaders captured the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem from Moslem control in 1099.

Hong Kong 'Flu Bug Not Here Yet

Hong Kong 'flu hasn't reached Victoria — yet.

Senior Metro Health Officer Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread said Wednesday there was no reported increase in absenteeism in city schools, usually the first indication of health problems.

"We had a little 'flu around a few weeks ago, but it was just the ordinary kind," he said. "And it wasn't too serious."

Dr. Whitbread was commenting on a statement by the surgeon-general of the United States that the Hong Kong brand of 'flu is expected to reach epidemic proportions.

The surgeon-general, Dr. William Stewart, said however that there was no cause for alarm as the new 'flu appears free of complications and after-effects.

Dr. Whitbread said all he could do was repeat earlier advice in the event of 'flu hitting Victoria.

"Stay in bed, drink lots of fluids, take aspirin and that's about all you can do," he said. "We don't have any vaccine available, in fact I don't think it's obtainable here."

Lack of vaccine need not cause concern says the U.S. surgeon-general.

"If you are in good health and under 65 years of age you won't even need vaccine to ward off the disease," he said in Washington.

ALDERMEN AGAIN RUN

Two Central Saanich aldermen will seek re-election in the Dec. 7 municipal elections.

This raises the total of candidates to nine.

Ald. Margaret Salt said she first seriously considered running for mayor, but decided she could best serve the municipality as an alderman.

"I was asked by several people to run for mayor," she said.

Veteran alderman Tom Michell, public works chairman, will also seek to retain his seat.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto, N.Y. in Gains

Ignoring the monetary crisis in Europe both the Toronto and New York stock markets closed out the week today with advances.

Golds slipped at Toronto in response to the lower price of bullion on the London free market.

At New York exchange officials announced they have extended the one-day-a-week closings through December. They said that it was hoped to resume five-day-a-week operations in January with daily trading periods shortened by 90 minutes.

AT TORONTO in industrials, Canadian Tire A gained 4½ to 64½, Imperial Oil 3 to 81, Famous Players 2 to 72 and Chum A 2 to 22¼. Empire Life lost 2 to 24½ and Molson A 1½ to 25.

Scurry-Rainbow was up 2 to 41½, Asamera 1¼ to 14¾ and Canadian Export Gas 50 cents to $9.80. Canadian Superior Oil fell ⅝ to 51⅝.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler recovered handsomely from recent selling as it topped the most active list with a gain of more than a point. A block of 233,700 shares pushed it to the top of the list.

Curtiss-Wright, up 2, was second most active. It was traded on blocks of 35,900 and 17,000 shares.

Among Canadians, Hudson Bay Mining advanced ¾, Walker Gooderham ⅜ and Distillers Seagrams ¼.

AT MONTREAL the market continued to move in a narrow price trend in brisk trading today.

Radio Engineering climbed 2¼ to 44½, Industrials Acceptance 1 to 26, CPR ⅜ to 71½ and Bell Canada ¼ to 46½.

Famous Players, Canada Cement and Du Pont lost 1 each.

Molson A dropped 1½ to 25 on 2,175 shares.

Husky added 1 to 26 and Imperial 1 to 79. The company plans to split its common stock 4-for-1.

AT VANCOUVER mining issues made a strong comeback in pre-noon trading today.

After a week which has seen a steady decline in prices, most stocks made good gains on increased volume.

Coast Silver was .30 better at $2.95, Bethex was .17 up at $2.45, Buttle Lake improved .15 to $3.40 and Northwest Ventures rose .12 to $1.29.

The improvement was maintained in the oils. Royal Canadian Ventures was up .30 to $1.30 on 125,700 shares after reaching a high of $1.60. Stampede also gained .30 and reached $7.55.

In the industrials, Western Heritage jumped .87 to $6.75 and Neon put on .75 to $32.75.

AT LONDON stock markets nervously awaited the outcome of the Bonn meeting on the currency crisis and most sections lost ground.

Widespread losses were recorded in industrials although some big exporters such as British Leyland and Glaxo moved ahead.

Imperials gained 2s 6d to 119s and other tobaccos were firm. Metal Box and Tubes also responded favorably to company news. Among internationals, Philips Lamps recovered from a small fall but Unilever NV dipped 10s.

Firm stocks among Canadians included Massey Ferguson, Alcan, Hiram Walker and Imperial Oil. Canadian banks were in renewed demand.

Oils suffered from profit taking but picked up after their early falls.

GRAIN

TAX MEN HIT CRUX FOR $1½M

VANCOUVER (CP) — The federal revenue department Thursday filed judgments totalling $1.5 million against Lawyer A. G. Duncan Crux, former president of Commonwealth Trust Co., and three Commonwealth group companies.

At the same time, Sheriff E. W. Wells of Vancouver issued writs to seize the goods of Mr. Crux and the three companies up to the amounts claimed by the tax department.

All the writs allege unpaid income taxes up to October of this year. RCMP officers raided Commonwealth offices across the province and early this month seized truckloads of files and documents.

LEFT VANCOUVER

Mr. Crux, who left the presidency when a provincial cabinet order appointed Vancouver accountant A. D. Peter Stanley, Commonwealth Trust manager, is believed to be living out of the country.

However, he said in an interview about two weeks ago he knew he was being investigated by the federal government on "a tax matter" and denied any irregularities had occurred.

The British Columbia Supreme Court three weeks ago placed five Commonwealth group companies under Mr. Stanley's receivership. The assets of 30 other related firms, Mr. Crux, and five other individuals were frozen by court orders.

The writs issued Thursday break down this way:

- Mr. Crux, $588,174.37 in taxes including interest and penalties on unpaid federal taxes.
- Commonwealth Savings Plan Ltd., $432,630.97 in unpaid federal taxes, and $105,386.81 in unpaid provincial taxes.
- Garantie Establishment, $367,990.28, unpaid federal taxes.
- Evergreen Estates Ltd., $20,594.91, unpaid federal taxes.

Major Tax Change Seen

TORONTO (CP) — A Vancouver accountant warns Canadian tax-planners not to start "any involved corporate manoeuvres at this time," because significant changes in taxation are about to be made.

David Sweet told the Canadian Tax Foundation that advisers should wait for promised reforms in what he called "the latest 10-year-cycle" of Canadian corporate tax changes.

"The planning of corporate distributions today will no doubt be drastically changed next year when our long-awaited tax reforms are introduced," Mr. Sweet said.

The tax changes of last month's budget are probably just a beginning, said Mr. Sweet, who also said the Carter report on taxation "must be dusted off and a second look taken at it."

He said tax changes within the next few months "may take the form of completely new rules all along the line, or there could be another series of patchwork amendments which have been criticized so severely in the past."

ILLOGICAL CHANGES

"The history of taxation is littered with the results of patchwork and illogical changes in taxation which have been enacted merely as an expedient of the day, but which eventually did far more harm than good."

Other panel members warned that Canadian companies which split into one or more corporate entities with the hope of avoiding tax at a high rate on their gross profits "may be in for a rocky ride."

The reason is a five-year-old section of the Income Tax Act which allows the revenue minister to rule that even if corporations are separate bodies they may be assessed for tax at a high rate on their combined earnings if it is clear they were set up partly to avoid paying this tax.

Favorable Report Says Venus Head

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — James M. O'Brien, president of Vancouver-based Venus Mines Ltd., says a favorable report has been received from consultants studying the company's gold and silver property in the Yukon's southwest.

Mr. O'Brien said the report of MacDonald Consultants Ltd. and Acres Western shows the property is capable of supporting a mill for about five years.

He said ore reserves indicate possible processing of 105,000 tons a year.

The property is at the foot of Montana Mountain, 16 miles east of Carcross, Y.T., and on Windy Arm of Tagish Lake, 1½ miles from the B.C. boundary. Carcross is 50 miles south of Whitehorse.

$ EXCHANGE

VICTORIA—Purchase of U.S. funds in terms of the Canadian dollar was quoted by the Royal Bank today at $1.07 1/16 for cheques, $1.06⅞ for cash, $1.05⅞ for silver. Sales were $1.07¾ for cheques and $1.07⅞ for cash.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar in terms of Canadian funds was up 1/16 at $1.07 11/32. Pound sterling was up 7/16 at $2.55¾.

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was down 5/64 at 93 5/32 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling was unchanged at $2.38.

Home Oil Co. Ltd.

Home Oil Co. Ltd. reports net earnings of $5.87 million for the first nine months of 1968, an increase of $1.41 million from the same period a year earlier.

The increase due to the sale of investments, including Home Oil's entire holding of Union Gas Co. of Canada, which netted $2.63 million.

The earnings represented $1.14 a common share compared with 68 cents a share during the first three-quarters of 1967.

Transair Buys Jets

Transair Ltd. is proceeding with a $13 million expansion program, including purchase of two pure jet aircraft.

The program announced by president Alvin O. Norman involves operation of Boeing 737 twin-jet planes for company service to northern Manitoba.

Mr. Norman said a contract signed with the Boeing Co. of Seattle for $13.69 million provides the Winnipeg-based airline with two planes, ground support equipment and spare parts as well as maintenance and training.

Copperfields Mining

Copperfields Mining Corp. Ltd. had net earnings of $919,211 or 14 cents a share for the fiscal year ended June 30 compared with $839,264 or 13 cents a share the previous year.

The company said the figure was made up of a $1 million mine operating profit and $516,000 in income from investment holdings, less exploration and depreciation costs and income taxes.

Copperfields shipped all its concentrate to Japan last year for sale at the free world price of 58.5 cents a pound.

Mattagami Lake

Mattagami Lake Mines Ltd. had net income of $6.18 million or 94 cents a share in the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared with $8.64 million or $1.31 in the similar 1967 period.

Gross value of metals produced dipped to $10.9 million from $22.9 million.

Can. Superior Oil

Canadian Superior Oil Ltd. of Calgary reports net income for nine months ended Sept. 30 of $5.47 million or 64 cents per share.

The quarterly statement said net income compared with 1967 earnings for the comparable period of 33 cents a share or $2.8 million.

Imperial Tobacco Co.

Imperial Tobacco Co. of Canada Ltd. does not expect "any significant changes in the marketplace" as a result of the table of cigarette tar and nicotine levels made public Wednesday by Health Minister John Munro.

John Pare, executive vice-president of the tobacco company, said Wednesday smokers have responded "in a limited degree" to previous reports of a similar nature."

U.S. EYES VANCOUVER CONSTRUCTION MARKET

WASHINGTON (CP) — A continuing building boom in Vancouver is worth consideration by American exporters, the United States commerce department advises.

It quotes Canadian statistics showing building permits worth $132 million in Canadian funds had been issued in the city for the year up to Aug. 31 last and while few imported building materials are being used, "there are certain items of equipment such as large travelling cranes which cannot be supplied from Canadian construction."

Oil Giant to Split

TORONTO (CP) — Imperial Oil Ltd., Canada's biggest oil company, proposed Thursday to split its common shares four for one. At the same time, it declared an extra dividend of 10 cents on its currently outstanding shares.

The proposed split, subject to confirmation at a shareholders' meeting in January, would increase the company's authorized share capital to 160 million shares from 40 million.

There now are about 32 million shares outstanding.

Imperial, with total assets of more than $1.247 billion, is 69.6 per cent owned by Standard Oil of New Jersey.

The extra dividend declared by the directors is in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents. It will be paid, with the bonus, Dec. 27 to shareholders of record Dec. 2.

Its capital and exploration expenses for this year were estimated at more than $200 million.

In the first nine months of this year, it reported net earnings of $70 million, up $1.2 million.

Net earnings for all of last year were $95 million.

Its shares were selling at $78 on the Toronto Stock Exchange this week.

The company said that more than 33,000 Canadians now own Imperial shares.

The proposed split would give the company by far the largest number of outstanding shares of any Canadian company.

The next closest in total number would be International Nickel Co., 74.35 million shares.

B of M Boosts Net 30%

MONTREAL (CP) — The Bank of Montreal reported Thursday night in its annual statement an increase in net operating earnings of 30.3 per cent over the 1967 figures, the best increase in the last five years.

Balance of revenue, commonly referred to as net operating earnings, amounted to a record $67.69 million, an increase of $15.76 million over the 1967 fiscal year. These earnings represented $2.23 a share compared with $1.71 a share last year.

J. Leonard Walker, senior executive vice-president and general manager, said the income tax provisions proposed for next year by the federal government "could have an effect on the level of reserves for contingency of the chartered banks in 1969 and subsequent years."

"For this reason, and in view of the substantial increase in our loans and investments in recent years, $31.5 million has been transferred to reserves for contingencies, thus improving the relationship between risk assets and reserves . . ."

Crisis Means Profits For 'Gnomes of Zurich'

Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO (CP) — It's an ill monetary crisis that doesn't blow some good to someone.

Just who the profiteers are in the latest European monetary troubles may never be known, since they can hide behind tight-lipped agents and secret Swiss bank accounts.

But they are the same type of people—if not the same people—who were tabbed "the gnomes of Zurich" during the huge push against the United States dollar and the British pound last March, when they bought millions of dollars worth of gold in a bet that the yellow metal would be worth more than paper currency.

Their gamble was headed off when the major currency countries of the world agreed to set up a two-tier system for pricing gold.

One remains the official level of $35 (U.S.) an ounce and covers transactions between central banks of participating countries such as the Bank of England and the United States Federal Reserve Bank.

The other covers the price on the private market and fluctuates in response to ordinary supply and demand conditions.

SHIFTING HOLDINGS

Now, they are betting that the West German mark will soon be worth more than it now is, and that the French franc will be worth less.

As a result, they are shifting their holdings into the mark in hopes of cashing in on the anticipated greater value, and out of the franc to try to make sure they don't lose anything.

By any standard, such speculators are cold-blooded and selfish to an almost incredible degree.

In order to increase the size of their bank books—which have to be huge, or they couldn't afford to play in the league—they deliberately add to the already-staggering difficulties West Germany and France are facing in trying to maintain an orderly monetary situation, by keeping pressure on through their dealings.

They have been ignoring official denials from both governments that nothing will happen to the currencies—as they did last March.

CAN EXERT PRESSURE

While these speculators have never been identified, they were described last March as men with enough resources to be able to lever literally billions of dollars to put pressure in directions they want—the oil-rich sheikh, the Tangier merchant, the Hong Kong entrepreneur.

They deal through small and little-known European banking houses and, hidden behind agents, the open currency markets of the world. Their pressure against the mark and the franc has forced the closing of major European monetary markets this week.

Even a country can get into the position of speculating on the downfall of another.

During last March's crisis, France was bitterly condemned in the U.S. for its determined push to double the price of gold. Such a step would have meant automatically the devaluing of the U.S. dollar—as well as every currency that measures itself against the dollar, including Canada's.

"The ridiculous monetary system is breaking up before our eyes," said Jacques Rueff, described in March as France's top general in the war against the U.S. dollar.

It was patched up that time, but that has not stopped the speculators.

Four Bids for Airport Bridge

OTTAWA (CP) — Four Vancouver companies have submitted tenders to build Dinsmore Island bridge connecting Sea Island and Lulu Island access to Vancouver International Airport.

The bids were: Manning Construction Ltd., $447,982; Grimwood Construction Co. Ltd., $477,000; Vancouver Pile Driving Co. Ltd., $485,200, and Northern Construction Co. and J. W. Stewart Ltd., $592,400.

A federal transport department spokesman said the bids were under examination, and that a recommendation probably would be made to the treasury board within a week.

Mining Men Worried About Image

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP) — The Canadian mining industry has to try to improve its public image and make people aware of its contribution to the national economy, John L. Bonus, managing director of the Mining Association of Canada, said Monday night.

He told the Rotary Club that many Canadians associate mining with "unethical and promotional manipulations and of ruthless people squeezing high profits out of unsuspecting suckers."

"An image also has emerged of poor working conditions and of little regard paid to the disposal of industrial wastes."

One reason for these impressions is that the industry has grown so rapidly during the last 20 years it has had little time to show what its expansion has meant, Mr. Bonus said.

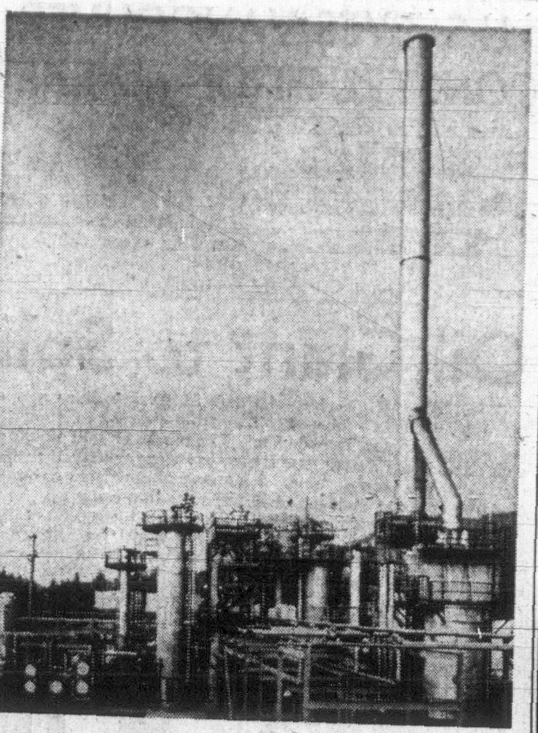
Noting that Canada's mineral production in 1967 totalled $4,400,000,000 — more than seven per cent of the country's gross national product — he said the industry has a responsibility to correct any erroneous public impressions.

Treasury Bills Off a Fraction

OTTAWA (CP) — New 91-day Government of Canada treasury bills auctioned Thursday: $135 million at an average price and yield of 98.610 and 5.65 per cent. Last week, same amount and term, 98.613 and 5.64 per cent.

182-day: $35 million at 97.220 and 5.73 per cent. Last week, same amount and term, 97.221 and 5.73 per cent.

The finance department said $75 million in 364-day bills will be offered next week.



THE LOOK of $3 million after pipefitters and steel riggers have been at it for a while is represented by Imperial Oil Co. Ioco refinery's new hydrofiner units. They will increase output of high quality turbo fuels and better heating oils and are part of a $13 million three-year program, next phase of which will cost $5.5 million.

Piggyback Train Traffic To Increase Sharply

By BORIS MISKEW

MONTREAL (CP) — Piggyback traffic will triple in Canada in the next two years, a railway official said Thursday.

J. M. Beaupre of Canadian National Railways said his forecast is based on the successful results of the company's high-speed transcontinental piggyback service inaugurated last May.

Mr. Beaupre, manager of the CNR's piggyback services, said piggyback traffic jumped more than 80 per cent last August—compared with August, 1967—and is expected to increase by more than 150 per cent in the first year of operation.

Half the increase is new business obtained during the first six months of operation of the service that includes four transcontinental piggyback trains leaving in each direction every week.

Prior to the inauguration of the new service of 1,200 flatcars, trailers were hauled piggyback aboard rail cars making up regular transconti-

But Mr. Beaupre expects new

RATES COMPETITIVE

Trains haul as many as 65 flatcars and, said Mr. Beaupre, all 65 cars are used on most occasions to carry the trailers across the country.

Piggyback hauling has always been closely competitive with the trucking lines. For example, piggyback rates between Montreal and Toronto are $90.70 a trailer. But by piggyback, costs for depreciation, maintenance, insurance and labor are reduced over the long haul.

In addition, when a trucker moves his trailers by piggyback he can expand his business by putting capital into trailers rather than the trucks that haul them. Trucking firms require only one tractor truck for three or four trailers when hauling by piggyback.

SPEED BIG FACTOR

Space utilization and higher payloads are other factors that have boosted the popularity of fast piggyback with the shippers, Mr. Beaupre said. Aboard the flatcar, the trailer's maximum gross weight is 70,000 pounds compared with 42,000 pounds on the highway—a 30-per-cent increase.

Speed is the biggest factor in the increase in piggyback business.

The service assures eastern shippers of second-morning deliveries in Winnipeg, third-day deliveries in Edmonton and Calgary and fourth-morning deliveries in Vancouver.

Montreal and Toronto trains link up at Capreol, Ont., on their westward journey. In addition, a service is provided to the Maritimes, with trains leaving Toronto at midnight arriving in Montreal by 7:30 a.m. and in Halifax the following day.

Trailer-carrying flatcars are marshalled in order of drop-off points to reduce shipping delays, and stops at Winnipeg and Edmonton are kept to less than two hours.

EXPERT DUTCH SHIPPERS SEE CANADIAN 'BRIDGE'

HALIFAX (CP) — The Chronicle-Herald says in a copyright dispatch from Rotterdam that harbor and transportation authorities in Holland regard the port of Halifax as the most logical and probably eastern North American terminus for container shipping.

The newspaper says Halifax is regarded as the most logical location because it already is an established world port, is open year-round and can accommodate the largest ships afloat or planned.

The report says Dutch officials envisage Canada as holding the key in providing the easiest land-bridge system needed to complete the container traffic routh between Europe and the Far East.

The newspaper quotes J. P. Diefenbach, Rotterdam port authority, as saying that swift action is needed on the part of ports that would be included in container traffic.

Uniform Funds Drive Studied

A three-man special committee was struck Thursday to study the possibility of a uniform funds drive throughout the Greater Victoria area.

Ald. Clyde Savage accompanied by William Tindall, manager of the Victoria Better Business Bureau, appeared before the city's finance committee to argue his case for all fund drives becoming a regional district control function.

Mr. Tindall told the committee that he received numerous telephone calls each year questioning the ultimate end of funds raised in various drives plus questionable methods used by some fund campaingers.

NOT CRITICIZING

Both he and Ald. Savage stressed that they were not criticizing what they termed "legitimate" fund drives such as the United Appeal.

"But I find it difficult to give advice when I know that a group has brought in a professional fund raising team," Mr. Tindall said.

"Many of these professionals are from the United States and charge 60 per cent of the funds raised for their services. In addition the organization running the fund drive for a specific charity finds that it is charge with all expenses from the 40 per cent which is its share of the amount raised.

"In other words there are times when the charity involved receives as low as 10 per cent of the actual amount raised," Mr. Tindall said.

Ald. Savage said it was not his intent to curb or impede legitimate funds drives.

REVIEW ALL DRIVES

"It is my idea that we establish a committee to review all fund drives and insist on being presented with a financial statement telling us how much was raised and where the money went," he said.

"I'm not knocking charity," he added. "I'm just saying that when I donate $10 to a cause I would like to know, and I think the public would like to know, just how that $10 was divided up."

Ald. Savage presented Mayor Hugh Stephen with copies of New Westminster and Edmonton bylaws designed to provide the controls he seeks.

Asked why he sought regional control rather than just city control, Ald Savage answered that "it just wouldn't work in one municipality without the support and same control in others."

Mayor Stephen agreed to review the New Westminster and Edmonton bylaws with city manager Dennis Young and city solicitor T. P. O'Grady.

But he warned that he was "loathe to place restrictions on anyone who wants to get up and do something for a charitable cause."

Ald. Savage answered that he had no thought of stopping legitimate drives.

"All I want to see is that the people running a drive get a permit, and that before they get that permit they tell us exactly what the drive is for and show us a balance sheet revealing their expenditures from their last drive," he said.

"This is for the protection of the man on the street who has a right to know where his donations go."

Refugee Aid Extension Bid

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States called Thursday for an extension of three more years of the mandate of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees in the Middle East.

In a resolution submitted to the United Nations General Assembly's special political committee, the U.S. also asked "as a matter of urgency" that all governments consider increasing their contributions to the 20-year-old relief agency.

UNRWA has some 1,364,000 refugees registered with it.

The UNRWA mandate, which expires June 30, 1969, would be extended to June 30, 1972, under the proposed U.S. resolution.

AIR POLLUTION CONTROL NEAR

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Williston, British Columbia's lands and forests minister, told delegates at the 1968 Pacific northwest conference of the air pollution control association that B.C. is on the brink of concentrated control of air pollution.

Speaking Thursday to 350 delegates from B.C., Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Alaska and Eastern Canada, the minister warned industry to govern itself accordingly.

Mr. Williston said B.C. firms "would be wise to think twice" before using cheap grades of fuel oil which "will cause difficulties for them very early."

Mixed Feelings for LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, completing five years in the White House today, looks ahead to what he now calls an "enforced vacation" with mixed feelings of regret and pride.

"In the twilight of our career in Washington, the climax of 37 years," Johnson said Thursday night, "we have looked back at some of the achievements, some of the things we have gloried in, and some of the disappointments."

He ticked off among the achievements education, health, consumer welfare, veterans benefits, conservation—the guts of a flood of bills the former Senate majority leader rammed through Congress in the early years of his presidency.

Only fleetingly did he touch on the crowning disappointments that in his final years all but eclipsed what some have hailed as the greatest social progress achieved by any U.S. president.

He hopes to see the war in Vietnam ending, or at least the Paris peace talks reaching a substantive phase before he leaves office Jan. 20.

And he hopes, too, for an end to the violence at home—of the type that has laid waste major cities and which struck down John F. Kennedy five years ago today to put Johnson in the White House.

City Not in a Theatrical Mood

A bid for a $10,000 grant from a professional theatre group was rejected Thursday by the Victoria city finance committee.

The grant application came from RP Productions and was signed by Robert Price.

Mr. Price said "a minimum grant of $10,000 is an absolute necessity in order to permit us to carry forward our programs."

He added that "a grant of $20,000 would enable us to maintain the level of achievement we have reached to this stage."

But committee members were not in theatrical mood.

City manager Dennis Young informed the committee that the group was leasing the McPherson Theatre at the "non-profit" organizational rate although it insisted on calling itself the "only professional theatre group" in Victoria.

"They owe us $1,600 at present," he said. "If they keep insisting that they are professional we shall have to charge accordingly."

Ald. Percy Frampton said he would like to know more about the company before he even considered financial assistance.

"Is it a non-profit group or a profit making venture?" he asked.

Mr. Young answered "if they could make a profit they would undoubtedly be happy."

The committee was unanimous in rejection of the request.

Yoko Ono Loses Baby

LONDON (CP) — Beatle John Lennon's Japanese girl friend, Yoko Ono, Thursday lost the baby she and Lennon were expecting in February.

The Queen Charlotte Maternity Hospital announced that the 34-year-old sculptress and maker of underground movies had a miscarriage.

Lennon, 28, recently divorced, has said he and Miss Ono would marry, but there has been no word of divorce action by her husband.

RETURNING to Hollywood, after 20-year absence, actress Ingrid Bergman has been signed for starring role in screen version of the Broadway comedy hit Cactus Flower. She will play opposite comedy actor Walter Matthau. Filming will start in January.

PTA to Hold Workshop

The Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council will conduct a workshop for PTA officers at Central Junior secondary school next Thursday evening.

The meeting, which starts at 7:30, will review duties of those holding or considering office in a PTA. Anyone interested can attend.

The council has presented $200 bursaries to Doreen Anne Dye, Rosemary Alison Fryer, Davida Janice Evans, Gail Patricia Thurber and Carol Anne George. All are former local high school students now teacher undergraduates at the University of Victoria.

Band Managers Taking Course On Financing

Indian band managers from all parts of the province will attend a two-week business course at the Institute of Adult Studies starting Monday.

The managers have responsibilities similar to those of municipal clerks. They are paid by the department of Indian Affairs to manage reserves on behalf of their band councils.

The program will include courses on finances, human relations and real estate.

Anti-Smokers Win Air Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Thursday a Federal Communications Commission ruling that radio and television stations which carry cigarette advertising must devote a significant amount of broadcast time in presenting the case against cigarette smoking.

In summing up its support of the FCC, the judges said:

"Cigarette advertising inherently promotes cigarette smoking as a very desirable habit . . . very substantial medical and scientific authority regard this habit as highly dangerous to health and therefore undesirable. . . . In view of the volume of cigarette advertising, existing sources were inadequate to inform the public of the nature and extent of the danger."

The decision was reached by Chief Judge David L. Bazelon, Judge J. Skelly Wright and Judge Wilbur K. Miller.

The case dates back to December, 1966, when a citizen, John F. Banzhaf III asked WCBS-TV, New York City, to provide free time in which anti-smokers might respond to the pro-smoking views he said were implicit in the cigarette commercials it broadcast.

Director Got His Battle After the Russians Came

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It seemed impossible, going into Soviet occupied Czechoslovakia to film battle scenes for an American movie. Yet director William Kronick managed that feat and has returned with the footage to complete a $5,000,000 war epic.

Kronick was the second-unit director of The Bridge at Remagen. In movie parlance, the second unit is the company which films action sequences and backgrounds which don't require the principal actors. Like the rest of the American film troupe, Kronick evacuated in a motorcade a day after the Russians and their allies invaded Czechoslovakia.

Forty per cent of the picture remained to be filmed, including important battle scenes that could be shot only at the Czech bridge which doubled for the Rhine span where American troops crossed in the Second World War. Producer David Wolper arranged for the rest of The Bridge at Remagen to be completed in Hamburg and Italy.

EQUIPMENT WAS THERE

"But we still needed desperately to shoot the final battle and the blowing up of the bridge in Czechoslovakia," Walper said in an interview. "All of our equipment was still in Czechoslovakia, the tanks and heavy trucks we had leased from Austria.

"We met with the Czechs and the Russians in Vienna and began negotiations. They agreed to let us return for seven days of filming, even though it included a lot of big explosions with dynamite and TNT, tanks firing, etc."

Kronick returned to Prague and began preparations to shoot the battle scenes.

"It wasn't easy, because I had to match what had been shot before the invasion," he says. "We had been using Czech soldiers who had been especially chosen to look like Americans—and they resemble Americans more than any other Europeans could have.

"But by now all those soldiers had been discharged, and we had to train new ones."

In troubled Czechoslovakia, it was feared that the gunfire and explosions required for the filming might alarm the populace. Elaborate precautions were made to inform the citizens of the filming plans, and army troops ringed the area to prevent any incidents.

Producer Wolper observed that the dislocation of the film company added $1,000,000 to the budget—"but then, we also got $1,000,000 worth of publicity."

Imlach Screens Visitors

Times News Services

Manager-coach Punch Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs has barred Bob Haggert from the team's dressing-room, apparently because of the former trainer's connection with the National Hockey League Players' Association.

Imlach refused to allow Haggert into the dressing room or into the Maple Leaf Gardens' press room on Wednesday.

Haggert was Imlach's trainer for eight years before quitting last July.

"Sure I'm disappointed," Haggert said Thursday. "But what really disturbs me is that Imlach ... did not have the guts to tell me himself. He had to use a 65-year-old man, Tommy Nayler, to inform me.

"This is what smells. He tells Tommy that he'd be fired if he was ever caught talking to me."

Nayler, a long-time Maple Leaf trainer, phoned Haggert at home Tuesday evening to tell him of Imlach's instructions.

Imlach says he has the right to bar anyone he wants from the dressing room but refused to say why he took the action against Haggert.

Dallas authorities are unable to find Joyce Ann Dodson Tate to serve an arrest warrant on federal charges of converting $72,000 in U.S. Olympic Committee cash to her own use.

An indictment returned Wednesday accuses Mrs. Tate and Joe William Tate of mail fraud, wire fraud and conspiracy.

Tate appeared at the federal court clerk's office and posted a required 10 per cent deposit on his $10,000 bond Thursday.

Mrs. Tate had been free under $23,000 in bonds on state charges, levelled in an earlier indictment, of theft and embezzlement of Olympic funds.

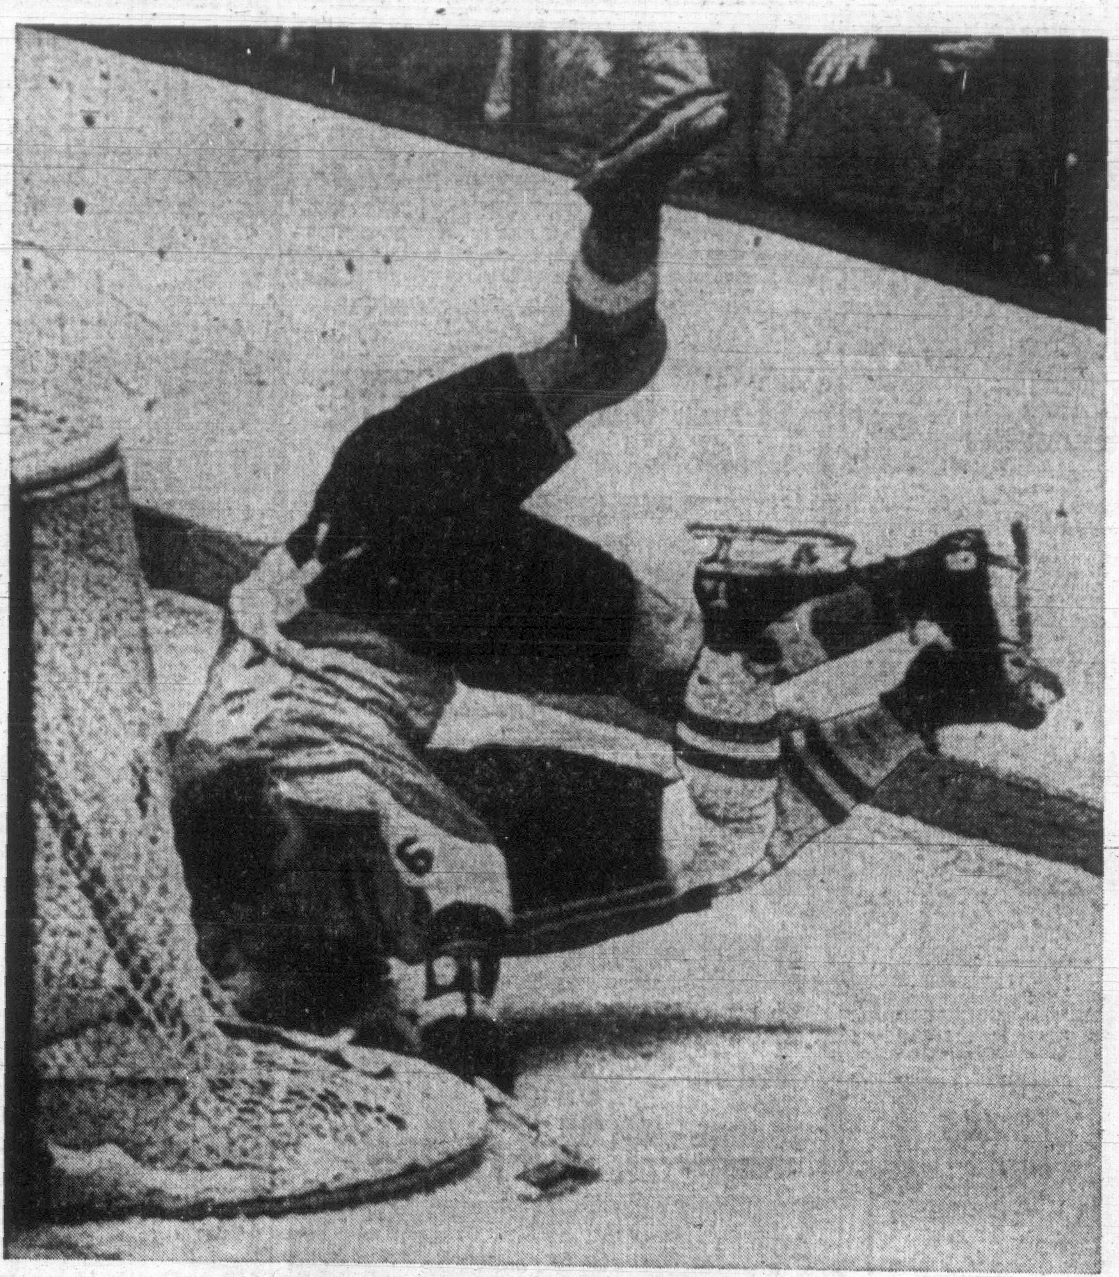
British Columbia Lions of the Western Football Conference have offered to finance a football game between Simon Fraser University Clansmen and the winner of tonight's Canadian College Bowl in Toronto.

That game, between Queen's and Waterloo Lutheran University, has been billed as the national college final. But Lions' general manager Denny Vietch and SFU coach Lorne Davies claim that if SFU does not play the winner, it won't decide anything.

"If the schools want the game, we'll put up the money for it to be played at Empire Stadium in Vancouver and any revenues will be split between them," Vietch said. He added: "SFU is the best Canadian college football team in the country and should be allowed to participate in the national final."

Davies said the Clansmen have never been told why they were excluded from the national final but understood the reason was that SFU does not belong to the Western Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Association.



MONTREAL ON TOP AGAIN

It was Montreal on top all the way in National Hockey League game Thursday night in Philadelphia. That's the way it was in this bit of unusual action as Ralph Backstrom (6) of Canadiens and Philadelphia's Gary Dornhofer went nose-diving behind Flyer net after colliding against boards in first period. Montreal finished with 3-0 victory. (AP Wirephoto.)

Older and Rounder, Gumper Still Great

Worsley Blanks Philadelphia 3-0; Bruins Climbing

By Canadian Press

Remember Gump Worsley, that fat little guy who has made his living as a National Hockey League goaltender for so many years now?

Well despite his age and rotund physique, Worsley still is efficient enough to play goal for a team which now leads the Eastern Division.

The 39-year-old netminder picked up his first shutout this season and the 36th of his NHL career Thursday night to help Montreal Canadiens defeat Philadelphia Flyers 3-0.

The victory, watched by 11,269 fans at the Spectrum in Philadelphia, moved the Canadiens one point ahead of the runner-up New York Rangers in the East.

GRATIFYING EFFORT

The shutout was especially gratifying to Worsley because Rogatien Vachon, younger and slimmer, has played more frequently than Worsley the last couple of years.

Some fans had even dismissed Worsley as a second-stringer, destined to play only if Vachon was injured or ailing.

In other NHL games Thursday, Boston Bruins moved back into third place in the Eastern Division with a 4-1 triumph against Los Angeles Kings and Pittsburgh Penguins downed Oakland Seals 3-1.

The Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions, received goals from Bobby Rousseau in the first period, John Ferguson in the second and Gilles Tremblay in the third.

HABS HAD EDGE

Worsley kicked out 22 Philadelphia shots in recording his second victory in as many nights. He was in goal Wednesday when the Canadiens edged Detroit Red Wings 3-2.

The Canadiens held a definite advantage in play, firing 49 shots at Philadelphia goaltender Bernie Parent.

Jean Beliveau picked up one assist for the Canadiens to move into a second-place tie with Red Berenson of St. Louis Blues in the scoring race. Both have 26 points.

The Bruins moved one point ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs with their victory against Los Angeles in front of 14,618 Boston fans.

Fred Stanfield scored two goals for Boston and Eddie Shack and Phil Esposito added one each. Bill Flett scored the Los Angeles goal.

DOMINATE PLAY

The Bruins dominated play, outshooting the Kings 35-19. Los Angeles had only one shot on Boston goaltender Gerry Cheevers in the second period.

A crowd of only 3,056 at Pittsburgh witnessed an unusual sight—a Penguin victory.

Defenceman Leo Boivin scored on a 60-footer at 5:58 of the second period to break a 1-1 tie and give the Penguins their third win in 17 attempts this season.

Despite the victory, the last-place Penguins trail fifth-place Oakland by three points in the Western Division.

Gene Ubriaco and Dunc McCallum scored the other Pittsburgh goals while Norm Ferguson tallied for the Seals.

There are no games scheduled tonight, but all 12 teams see action during the weekend.

Males' Boycott Annoys Penny

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A "disappointed and disgusted" Penny Ann Early, thwarted in her latest attempt to become America's first woman flat-track thoroughbred jockey, says she does not intend to give up.

Miss Early, 25, was scheduled to ride Witness in Thursday's ninth race at Churchill Downs, but the race was cancelled because riders could not be found for the other horses in the race.

"They (the jockeys) are calling themselves men, but I have no respect for them as riders or men," Miss Early said after the race had been called off. "None of them could look me in the eye."

She said she intends to remain available to ride through Saturday, the last day of the fall meet at Churchill Downs.

After Saturday, Miss Early said she would rest for a short while, then go to California and apply for a jockey licence there.

"I hope it's different," she said about California. "I hope they've got a different class of people there."

Miss Early had been expected to ride last Saturday, but her mount was scratched because of track conditions. Tuesday, she was replaced aboard another horse by the regular jockey.

The announcement of Thursday's cancellation was greeted with boos and catcalls from the stands.

Individual jockeys had threatened to boycott any race in which Miss Early was entered.

Pro Golf Rebels Deny Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — Gardner Dickinson Jr., president of the American Professional Golfers, denied Thursday that the APG is conspiring to boycott the Professional Golfers Association championship in Dayton, Ohio, next August.

"The basis for this charge is not clear," Dickinson said in a statement, referring to a law suit filed by the PGA.

"We deny that any player has stated his intention not to play in the PGA championship if eligible. There is not a single player who has refused to play."

Dickinson's statement was in reaction to an amendment filed by the PGA to its suit in U.S. District Court in Wilmington, Del. In its latest action, the PGA charges that the APG and its members are engaged in a conspiracy to boycott the PGA tournament.

The APG was created earlier this year by tour golfers who broke away from the PGA in a dispute over control of the tour. The APG says 194 of the 205 tour golfers have signed with the new group.

Field Condition Holds Interest

OTTAWA (CP)—Snow and rain were forecast for the capital today and, combined with temperatures in the high 30s, prospects dimmed for a firm field for Saturday's deciding game of the Eastern Football Conference.

Toronto Argonauts take a two-point lead into the second game of the total-points final by virtue of their 13-11 victory over Ottawa Rough Riders last Sunday.

The Argos figure their chances are better on a poor field, a view not shared by Ottawa coach Frank Clair and his players.

Quarterback Russ Jackson agreed Thursday that Sunday's muddy field in Toronto wasn't the big factor in Ottawa's loss. He said it was the Argo blitz on him and Ottawa's failure to do something about it.

He also feels Argos will serve up more of the same against him Saturday, with perhaps a new twist here and there.

"When you've won a ball game, you're not going to make many changes," he said.

With mild temperatures forecast for Saturday and slight winds, Jackson and quarterback Wally Gabler of Toronto will be able to continue their passing duel.

COLEMAN READY

All hands are reported healthy in the Ottawa camp and Clair says he'll go with the same lineup he had a week ago.

Argos did a first class job of stopping rookie halfback Vic Washington last week, holding him to 28 yards in nine carries.

Lovell Coleman, who has warmed the bench through most of the season when Washington moved from defence to offence, was inserted into the Rider backfield in the fourth quarter of the first game.

He may see action earlier Saturday if Washington can't get moving.

Halfback Ron Stewart, whose role this season has been confined to blocking, also has been scampering around in practice and catching passes.

Stewart hasn't scored a touchdown all season and there's a feeling in the Ottawa camp that he could break out any time now.

Game time Saturday is 11 a.m. PST and the game will be shown on the full CBC-TV network.

Davis Cup Hopes Dulled by Medics

LONDON (AP) — Hopes of the United States winning back the Davis Cup tennis trophy from Australia next month were at a low ebb today.

Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner both have been ordered by doctors to take a rest from tennis. Ashe, the U.S. Open champion from Richmond, Va., has an injured right elbow. Graebner of New York was sent home with a strained back.

Knights Accept Haney Challenge

Knights of Columbus from the Norm Fieldgate Bantam Football League have accepted a challenge from Haney Eskimos for an exhibition game.

Eskimos, who won 14 of 18 games in the mainland's Central Bantam League, will risk the club's "Igloo Trophy" in the game, which is scheduled Sunday at Carnarvon Park, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Saanichton Hoop

Saanichton teams will oppose visiting squads in three Peninsula Basketball League games Saturday night at Saanichton Agricultural Hall.

They will clash with Cordova Bay pre-midget boys at 7, Brentwood midget girls at 7:45 and Brentwood juvenile boys at 8:30.

CRANMER MAY MAKE IT DESPITE CRACKED BONE

CALGARY (CP) — Dave Cranmer could still play in the Grey Cup game in Toronto Saturday, Nov. 30, despite a cracked bone in his right leg, a club doctor said after examining the rookie halfback Thursday.

Cranmer, 24, rookie-of-the-year in the Western Football Conference this season, was injured in the first quarter of Wednesday night's 25-12 overtime victory over Saskatchewan Roughriders into the Grey Cup game for the first time in 19 years.

"If he can function properly and not be in too much pain he will play," the doctor said.

Cranmer was obtained from Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Conference in an off-season trade. He gained 572 yards on 140 carries to place sixth in WFC rushing and caught 34 passes for 492 yards.

Feud in Spotlight At Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Miller Barber tamed Oakbourne County Club's 6,555 yards with a seven-under-par 65 Thursday, good for the first-round lead in the $35,000 Cajun Classic—final stop for 1968 on the PGA tour.

He had a one-stroke lead on Dan Sikes, Dave Stockton, Frank Boynton and Sam Carmichael.

Much of the talk at the Cajun Classic centres around the feud in pro golf. The touring pros, unhappy with the PGA, planned to put on their own tour next year as the American Professional Golfers.

The APG posted a commitment list Thursday for its $100,000-plus Los Angeles Open, once a PGA event, and the first tourney of 1969.

At the end of the day, 13 names were on the list, including Barber, Stockton, Boynton, Sikes, Frank Beard and Gardner Dickinson Jr., president of the rebel group.

The PGA has scheduled a $50,000 tourney at Alamaden, Calif., the same week and is scheduled to put out a commitment list at the official scoreboard Sunday.

Miller Barber	34-31—65

SEASON ENDS FOR NICKLAUS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus has cancelled all golf commitments for the rest of the year because of a small broken bone in his right foot.

Nicklaus said he had no idea when the bone was broken, but the foot started bothering him near the end of the summer and recently became inflamed.

Reds' Classy Bench Voted Leading Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bench, catcher for Cincinnati Reds, nosed out Jerry Koosman, a New York Mets pitcher, 10½ to 9½ for National League Rookie of the Year honors today.

It was the first time in the 20-year history of the award conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America that one vote decided the winner. The balloting was done by a 20-man committee of writers, two from each league city.

One writer, Jim Enright of the Chicago American, split his vote and cast one half for each player.

It was the first time this had been done in the rookie competition.

Normally the voting is by secret ballot. However, any writer is free to reveal his own vote, as Enright did.

The Reds' catcher started slowly but finished with a .275 average, 15 homers and 82 runs batted.

Koosman, 24, opened up strong with two successive shutouts against Los Angeles and San Francisco and rolled up a string of 21 consecutive scoreless innings. He won his first four and 19 over the season. He had seven shutouts for the ninth-place club.

The left-hander set a team record with a 2.08 earned run average in 263 2-3 innings. Of his 12 defeats, two were by 3-2 and others by 3-0, 2-0 and 3-1.

The 1967 National League winner was Tom Seaver, also a Met pitcher.

Touring Czechs Crush Vancouver

VANCOUVER — The touring Czechoslovakian women's volleyball team defeated a Vancouver squad in three straight games during an exhibition appearance Thursday, winning by scores of 15-0, 15-7 and 15-9.

The Czechs play in Nanaimo tonight and continue their tour with games at Kelowna, Calgary, Winnipeg, Ontario and Nova Scotia.

Goalies Grab Honors As Bucks Retain Lead

Goaltenders played important roles in Stuffy McGinnis Hockey League games Thursday night at Memorial Arena.

Ron Griffis was a standout as Ingraham Buckaroos edged Empress Paints 4-3 to boost their lead to three points over the second-place Paints, who outgunned the Bucks 23-19.

In the other game, Pat Murphy's shot-stopping heroics enabled Drake Hotel Aces to salvage a 2-2 tie with Victoria Automatic Transmission. VAT snipers outshot Drakes 34-24.

Gord Strongman notched two goals for Buckaroos in the first period while Gord Wickware and George Fisher supplied the winning balance. Bob Harris helped the win with three assists.

Buzz Wilson was high gun for Empress, scoring two goals and aiding the other by Vern Gibson.

Sandy Silcox and Les Potter provided goals for Automatics while Gary Lang collected both goals for Aces.

MEET RENFREW TROJANS . . . . . . IN B.C. JUVENILE FINAL

Hornets Expect Explosive Foe

Chew Excavating Hornets expect to be facing a tough and explosive club Saturday at Centennial Stadium when they tangle with Vancouver's Renfrew Trojans for the provincial juvenile football championship.

After finishing third in league play with four wins and two losses, Trojans battled through the semifinals by downing North Shore Wildcats to face Meralomas in the mainland final.

Meralomas led the final 2-0 until five minutes into the last quarter before Trojans exploded for three pass-and-run touchdowns for a 19-2 win.

Five weeks have elapsed since that game and Trojans have been waiting and practising for the B.C. title bid.

Bob Mildenberger, 18 years old and weighing only 155 pounds, is chief scorer for Trojans from the flanker slot. Other standout players include fullback Ted Jung, 185 pounds; centre Reg Hatch, 200 pounds; and defensive linebacker Alex Murray.

While expecting the Trojans will display considerable explosive power, Hornets also have a lot going for them. Under head coach Frank Hindle, they finished first in the Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League and then won two playoff battles to compile a 10-game victory streak, which includes seven shutouts.

Quarterbacks John Smith and Dave Granlin, high-scoring Steve Parker, Mike Herold, Les Hudson, Ron Bickford and Ken Skinner are expected to spark the Hornets when Saturday's action starts at 1:30.

Aussies Snatch Victory

TORONTO (CP)—Three dare-devil Australian riders Thursday easily defeated 15 other competitors and snatched the international fault-and-out relay championship from Canada's equestrian team at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

Kevin Bacon, Australian captain, set the pace when he raced Chicester over 10 obstacles without a miss for 20 points.

Teammates John Fahey, on Maestro, and Sam Campbell, riding April Love, did the same, giving their team a total of 60 points in 2:29 minutes.

Canada could almost taste the victory after Tom Gayford on Canadiana and Jim Day riding Steelmaster finished the course clean.

Jim Elder, riding Pieces of Eight, was the third Canadian rider. He scored two points for each of nine obstacles cleared, but earned only one point when he knocked down the pole on the last jump.

BETTER TIME

That gave the team second with a total of 59 points in 2:22 minutes, .07 seconds faster than the Aussies.

Britain came third with 58 points in 2:18.5 minutes, 34.5 seconds faster than fourth-place Brazil which also scored 58 points.

The U.S. team was blanked for the second time in nine international jumping events at this year's fair. The team also failed to add points toward the overall team championship Tuesday in the International Scurry Stakes, won by Britain with Australia second and Canada third.

Team standings: U.S., 72; Canada, 57; Britain, 50; Australia, 45: Brazil, 19.

Vikings Ready To Make Bid

University of Victoria Vikings, with two games in hand as a result of postponed matches in the Victoria and District Soccer League, get an early chance to move into a first-place tie with idle Canadian Scottish and Victoria West on Sunday.

Vikings meet Tally-Ho, second from the cellar, at Heywood Avenue Park starting at 2 p.m.

Gorge Molsons take on London Soccer Club in the only first division match scheduled Saturday at Topaz Park at 2 p.m.

For times and sites of second division matches on Sunday, see Sports Menu on Page 18.

Clipped Eagles Can Flap Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — General manager-coach Joe Kuharich of Philadelphia Eagles has lifted the suspension of ends Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman.

Kuharich set down both of his star pass-catchers earlier this week for making statements he considered were detrimental to the National Football League club.

The lifting of the suspensions was disclosed in a brief announcement from the Eagles' office.

BOWLER OF WEEK

Back in contention for Bowler-of-Year honors is last year's tenpin queen, Muriel Dodsworth, taking Bowler-of-the-Week award in seventh week of competition. Muriel, who has also rolled high game during 27 weeks to qualify for past two seasons, qualified this year with 151-196-214—561 series. Games were rolled in Friday Niters' League at Mayfair Lanes. Her previous highs were 632 in 1966-67 and 631 in 1967-68.

Montrealer's Face Shows Victory Price

MONTREAL (CP) — One look at Bob Cleroux's face and anyone would have thought he had just gone through a meat grinder.

Cleroux, 30, a former Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, scored a unanimous decision over Cleveland Williams in a 10-round heavyweight fight Thursday night but his puffed-up face indicated he had tough going.

Cleroux sat in his dressing room exhausted and was almost unable to speak about his victory against Williams, 35, of Houston, Tex.

"He hit me pretty hard in every round," Cleroux said quietly. "But I managed to cover up. . . ."

After that, he hung his head and was unable to go on about how he posted the biggest victory since he decided to come out of a five-year retirement earlier this year.

Cleroux had four or five visible marks on his face. His eyes were half closed and his cheeks were puffed.

'BEAT HIM NEXT TIME'

"It was a good fight and he was a tough kid," Williams said. "But I was off. It'll be a different story next time. I'll meet him in a rematch and I'll knock him out."

Williams walked out of the Forum without a mark on his face.

The fight's judges—Antonio Bergeron, Bobby Leitham and Armand Brissette—all scored the fight in Cleroux's favor. Bergeron scored it 47-45, Leitham had it 49-44 and Brissette scored it 49-47.

An estimated 10,000 fans roared their approval.

The victory brought Cleroux's record to 45 wins in 51 professional fights. It also was his sixth straight victory since coming out of retirement.

The loss was only the seventh in 74 pro fights for Williams. One other ended in a draw.

New Program Could Increase Hunting Safety

By STEWART LANG

Seven men have died in British Columbia as a result of hunting accidents involving firearms this season. Three were seriously injured and six more were harmed to a lesser degree.

Charles Estlin, provincial chief of enforcement in the Fish and Wildlife Branch, predicted last week: "We are about halfway as far as total injuries are concerned."

Approximately 30 firearms hunting casualties, ranging from minor to fatal in degree, are expected over the whole of B.C. by the end of the year.

Each of the past two years produced 29 casualties.

There is an answer, which, although it would not end such mishaps, could reduce them in number.

It is education!

There has been a firearms safety training program in effect since 1961 — a joint venture between the Fish and Wildlife Branch and various rod and gun clubs aimed primarily at juveniles in the 14-to-18 age bracket.

A survey taken in the late 1950s showed that 42 per cent of hunters involved in firearms accidents were aged 18 years or under. This prompted the instigation of junior firearms training and when another survey was taken in 1965 a 50 per cent drop in accidents for that age group was noted.

"This is an indication that the junior firearms training program is paying off," said Estlin.

"We are continually aiming for education and have seen that voluntary participation produces the best results."

* * *

As a continuance of this policy of education, the Fish and Wildlife Branch is now in the process of developing voluntary courses for hunters and outdoorsmen of all ages.

The program is scheduled to progress in two steps — training of instructors and then courses given by those instructors to groups of outdoorsmen.

Paul Presidente, as hunter training officer for B.C., will be responsible for ensuring that qualified instructors are available throughout the province.

First instructor training courses are expected to start as early as January on Vancouver Island.

Applicants for the instructors' program must be members of an organization or otherwise show proof that they would have potential students and must be over 21.

Instructors will be eligible to receive a crest and diploma after three consecutive classes of three to four hours duration, a week to study the manual and a written exam, in which the minimum passing grade will be 85 per cent.

These evenings will consist of a series of lectures, slides and films to acquaint each individual with the wide scope of outdoor activities.

* * *

Some of the features covered in the course include laws governing wildlife management, organization of the Fish and Wildlife Branch, species identification of fish, birds, cloven-hoofed animals and fur-bearing animals, smoking fish and fly-tying.

Other aspects cover care and handling of firearms, hunting safety, sportsman responsibilities, hunting courtesy, caring for meat, boating, archery, forest fire prevention, first aid, survival and teaching techniques.

Students will study a less comprehensive manual covering the same topics with the exception of instructional techniques over a 21-hour period.

Those under 14 will be acceptable for the student training, but are unable to handle firearms as specified in the Criminal Code of Canada. Under provincial paw, minors from the age of 14 to 18 require parental consent and must be accompanied by an adult licence-holder when handling firearms.

"Wallet-sized identification cards will be issued to active instructors each January," Presidente said.

"If the instructor hasn't participated in any student instruction for a year he would not receive a card for the next year. But he would be able to reinstate himself by taking one of our periodical refresher courses."

* * *

All materials for the courses such as manuals, brochures and examinations will be provided by the Fish and Wildlife Branch free of charge.

In addition to training the hunter to cope with problems found in the field, the program would produce closer ties with the rest of Canada so far as general instruction is concerned.

This aim is being furthered through the Hunter Training Officers' Association of Canada, which meets each June.

Quebec City was the site of this year's convention and Regina has been selected as the host city for 1969.

Another tie includes the National Rifle Association, with which the HTOA holds annual meetings.

Blacker the Fish — Better the Day for Fishing

Dancer's Corner Flails at Chemist

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Although the stakes are high, Peter Fuller seldom changes expression as he listens to a daily replay of events before and after the Kentucky Derby.

Fuller's composure did slip slightly Thursday when his lawyer, Arthur W. Grafton, told the Kentucky Racing Commission that there was only one important issue in the case before it.

Fuller nodded vigorously as Grafton remarked:

"Only one man in the whole United States has said that, from his own knowledge, Dancer's Image had phenylbutazone in his urine. That man is Kenneth Smith."

Smith, official chemist for Churchill Downs, reported the presence of the drug in the horse's urine after the Derby and Fuller was deprived of the $122,600 first prize. He now is appealing this action.

Smith has insisted that the five tests run in his laboratory proved "without a doubt" that the drug was in the urine.

CHANGES TESTIMONY?

In hammering away at this testimony, Grafton said that Smith, when he appeared before the Churchill Downs' steward, claimed that he had run only five tests, but now was contending that others had been made on the Monday following the Derby.

After Smith made his report on the presence of the medication in the horse, the stewards held a hearing and called for a redistribution of the purse with the winner's share going to Forward Pass, who had finished second in the Derby.

Smith retorted that he was only clarifying his previous testimony and was not making any changes.

He also insisted that tests made were those approved in 1964 by the American Association of Official Racing Chemists, of which he is a member.

Grafton said AAORC recommendations were updated in 1967 to include two more tests which Smith did not use on the night of the Derby, May 4.

By way of explanation, Smith said:

"In my mind I don't adopt these new procedures just because they are published. I want to try them out myself first."

Winter Springs Show, Steelhead Stir Action

Fishing pressure continued light in most Vancouver Island waters during the past week but Saanich Inlet has been yielding some good catches of jack-springs and grilse.

Some big springs are also hitting lures trolled by Inlet anglers, with some of the best action on fish up to 18 pounds reported from the Goldstream end and the Tod Inlet-Willis Point area.

Winter springs are also showing in Becher Bay, Pedder Bay and Sooke waters. Some of the best catches of salmon around 12 pounds have been taken at the gap between Secretary Island and the mainland.

DUNCAN BAY GOOD

Winter springs are also moving off Oak Bay and Victoria. Deep fishing near Brotchie Ledge has been productive and some fair catches have been taken near Trial Island, Cattle Point and Discovery Light.

One of the best spots for springs has been Duncan Bay near Campbell River.

Steelhead are stirring interest among fresh-water anglers, who have been pulling a few steelies from San Juan, Caycuse and Harris Creek. Several limit catches have been reported from the Quinsam and Campbell Rivers.

Finn Home First In Rugged Rally

LONDON (AP) — Simo Lampinen of Finland won the British Royal Automobile Club's international "rally of the forests" in a Swedish Saab car Wednesday.

After 2,500 rugged miles around Britain, Lampinen finished 16 minutes ahead of his nearest rival Carl Orrenius of Sweden, in another Saab.

Fullham Fires Robson

LONDON (UPI) — Bobby Robson, former player-coach with the Vancouver Royals soccer club, was fired by second division Fulham Thursday after a 10-month spell as manager.

The announcement was made by club vice-chairman Chappie D'Amato, who said Robson has been given "a generous ex-gratia payment" to cover his loss of office.

D'Amato said the decision was taken in consultation with Fulham chairman Tommy Trinder, an English stage and radio comedian who is currently touring Australia. "He has been in constant touch with the club in recent days," D'Amato said.

Robson played inside-forward for Fulham and West Bromwich Albion during his field career and earned 20 international "caps." Fulham already was booked for demotion from the first division when he took over as manager last January and they currently are placed at the foot of Division Two.

Robson's former Fulham and England colleague, Johnny Haynes, 33, who earned 56 international "caps" and still plays for the club, was freely tipped to take over Robson's job.

First division club Wolverhampton, which fired manager Ronnie Allen Wednesday, today appointed Bill McGarry in his place. McGarry, 40, moved from the manager's chair at Ipswich to take the job.

Grocers Even With Chinooks

VANCOUVER — IGA Grocers, leading, 23-10, after the first quarter, required overtime to defeat North Shore Mountaineers, 70-65, in an Inter-City Junior Men's Basketball League game Thursday. CYO Saints downed Killarney Community Centre, 78-65, in the league's other game.

The win moved Grocers into a first-place tie with idle Victoria Chinooks, who have two games in hand.

Bob Phillips led Grocers with 23 points while Ed Richmond scored 27 for North Shore.

Brent McLean, with 24 points, and Brock Hilliard, with 22, were Saints' leading scorers. Dave Hislop was high man for Killarney with 15 points.

Ottawa Bidding For 1971 Game

OTTAWA (CP) — Mayor Don Reid says he has written Canadian Football League commissioner Jake Gaudaur suggesting that the 1971 Grey Cup football final be held in Ottawa.

"I think we have a good chance for 1971," the mayor said. "In 1967 we proved our ability to host a Grey Cup successfully."

Hamilton defeated Saskatchewan 24-1 to win the Grey Cup at Ottawa's Lansdowne Park in 1967.

Champion Boats Ltd., operated by Rudy Kirmshe, now occupies the one acre site on Pat Bay's Tsaykum Road. Rudy has remodelled the original cement block buildings to accommodate an overhead crane and give ample room to mould, finish, build, and repair both fibreglass and wooden boats.

While he will concentrate on production glass cruising boats, Rudy still has his mould for a fibreglass sabot, and will build other boats, such as the Thunderbird, to specifications.

Rudy also has an option on the design rights now owned by Barney Kent for Ray Richards' Tillikum 29. The first of these, now being built for Ned Ashe, incorporates many changes from Kent's prototype boat.

The Ashe boat, May D III, should be in the water by February. Completed so far are the hull, with its 3400 pounds of internal ballast sealed in place; the cockpit moulding; and the laminated deck with its teak strip planking.

The finished May D III will have an aluminum mast and boom. She will be powered by a two-cylinder, water-cooled English gasoline engine. Sails have been ordered from Ted Hood.

Tillikum's overall length is 29 feet with a 4½-foot draft. Displacement will be 6,600 pounds with a ballast ratio of 42 per cent. She will carry 500 square feet of sail with a 150 per cent foretriangle. CCA rating will be approximately 25.5.

May D III will be followed in the Champion Boats workshop by another Tillikum hull, but this next owner will be putting the boat together himself.

Claremont Clips University Lads

Claremont visited and conquered University School 17-3 in an exhibition rugby match Thursday.

Claremont, ahead 14-0 at halftime, was sparked by Casey Walt with a try, penalty goal and convert. Mac Snobelen scored two trys and Glen Robinson another for Claremont. Justin Meeker averted a shutout for University School with a second-half try.

In a "B" team match, Claremont and University tussled to a 3-3 draw.

An unsurpassed cast in one of the great plays of the ages!

Real Estate Board Given More Powers

Greater control over the real estate industry took effect Thursday with Victoria Real Estate Board approval of constitutional changes.

Amendments giving the board greater authority to police its members are effective immediately, said president Douglas G. Peaker, following a meeting of the board.

An amendment that alters the rate of sales commission to employees of agents who change jobs, or are new to the industry, becomes effective Dec. 16, Mr. Peaker said.

Salesmen now get 70 per cent of the commission, and if they continue with their current employers they will continue to receive 70 per cent.

But if they leave one employer to work for another or are taken on as a salesman for the first time they will split commissions 50-50.

RESPONSIBLE

The agent employing salesmen becomes responsible for additional expenses on behalf of such salesmen, however, Mr. Peaker explained. These may include advertising costs, a heavy item in the business.

Main purpose of the changes is to improve the responsibility of agents, enhance the public image of the real estate business and make its participants more professional.

Mr. Peaker said the result will be to force agents to scrutinize prospective salesmen more closely and bring a better calibre of employee into the business, and to eliminate part-time salesmen, for whom there is no provision in the Real Estate Act.

Long-range effects, he said, will include better staff management and better training.

A two-thirds majority was needed to pass the amendments, but approval was "by no means unanimous," the president said.

The changes received "extensive discussion," he said, and many members mentioned the need to improve the public image.

The salesmen's section of the board rejected the clause on commissions categorically. "They said it was unfair," Mr. Peaker said. "But that was all. They were given all the time they needed to present their own ideas or amendments, but did not."

The chairman of the section said later he considered the subject internal and would make no public comment.

Businessmen Press Gov't To Open V.I. Scenic Areas

Vancouver Island businessmen Thursday asked the provincial government for a two-pronged drive to open up the scenic vistas of the west coast to travellers by car and shanks' mare.

The 29 Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island urged the moves in separate briefs presented to Highways Minister Wesley Black and Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

They asked Mr. Black to "give urgent attention to the survey and construction of a tourist highway along the west coast of Vancouver Island from Victoria via Port Renfrew and Bamfield to Port Alberni."

GREEN BELT

And they asked Mr. Kiernan to "establish a half-mile-wide green belt encompassing the old life-saving trail along the southwest coast from Bamfield to Port Renfrew, that the trail be restored and maintained both for life-saving purposes and for hikers, and that the trail be continued inland from Port Renfrew to Goldstream Park."

The businessmen's association listed as top priority its appeal that "the government institute a crash program to complete the Island Highway to Port Hardy at the earliest possible date by connecting Kelsey Bay with Beaver Cove ... a distance, as the crow flies, of approximately 39 miles."

The government originally announced it planned some day to fill the gap between Kelsey Bay and Beaver Cove with a scenic highway cut along the mountainsides sloping into Johnstone Strait to enable transfer of the Queen of Prince Rupert terminal to Port Hardy so the ferry schedule could be improved.

Stan Britt, immediate past president, said the resolution was received sympathetically but the delegation was told it would be expensive.

"We also recognize the cost involved but we feel it is important to have the road," he told reporters.

Mr. Britt pointed out that not only ferry schedule improvement is involved because about 10,000 persons are cut off from direct access to the rest of the Island and the figure will grow rapidly.

"For instance," he said, "there have been about 5,000 mining licences issued north of Campbell River."

Among other requests made in the two briefs were:

More passing lanes and paved pull-outs to be built along the Island Highway with reflecting glass "cats-eyes" to mark the centre or curb lines of the roadway;

More boat-launching ramps at lakes and tidewater throughout the province;

Recommended For Pool Site

Saanich council will receive a recommendation that the Gordon Head community centre and pool be located on 5.5 acres in the southwest corner of the Lambrick estate off Torquay Drive.

The recommendation was made by the centre committee which met Wednesday night to discuss a site. A 1967 recreation referendum set aside $470,000 for design and construction of the complex.

The committee also discussed nature and size of facilities they will ask an architect to incorporate in the centre design.

The 44-acre estate, formerly a dairy farm, was sold to the municipality in 1965 by the late A. G. Lambrick. A one-time Saanich reeve, Mr. Lambrick died in 1967.

The property eventually will include a junior-senior high school and nearly 20 acres of parkland.

Scientists Want People 'To Taste Sonic Booms'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee of scientists recommended Thursday an immediate program of supersonic flights over populated areas—as an experiment to show people what the sonic boom of future commercial planes would be like.

If the supersonic transport now on the drawing boards is allowed to fly regular air routes over land, the group predicted, "the negative public reaction" to its window-rattling booms "would be exceedingly large."

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, who appointed the committee last Dec. 20 to study sonic booms as a form of environmental pollution, presented its report at a news conference.

Dr. Roger Revelle of Harvard University said experimental flights should be made to give people a real taste of sonic booms.

"It's not clear," he said, "just how intolerable is 'intolerable.'"

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Planning Lack Caused Problem

Health Minister Ralph Loffmark Thursday said he won't let Saanich Mayor Hugh Curtis pollute the area's water the same way the municipalty already has allowed its land to be polluted.

Mr. Loffmark didn't mention Mr. Curtis by name but his target was obvious during a statement he issued from Vancouver following the Saanich mayor's personal attack on the health minister for insisting that primary treatment must accompany any increase of sewage dumping into Greater Victoria waters.

He pointed out refusal to take preventative action was responsible for current problems of land polluted by sewage and the same thing must not be allowed to happen in the surrounding waters while cleaning up the long-neglected mess councils have made in their own jurisdictions.

ALSO AIR

"The health department's objective in its hard line on all pollution is to deal both with land pollution and water pollution — and even air pollution," Mr. Loffmark told The Times.

"In my judgment the public rightfully expects a high degree of sanitation in respect of both land and water and it is not a choice — as some seem to think — of one or the other.

"We must proceed on both fronts."

Mr. Loffmark also warned the public not to be fooled by spurious arguments that sewage treatment is excessively costly.

He suggested an effort is under way to confuse the public into thinking that primary treatment plants — which are simply settling tanks to remove solid sewage — are to blame for high costs associated with sewer extensions.

The real culprit is the costly system of long trunk lines and piecemeal collection systems forced by urban sprawl and other deficiencies in past municipal planning.

"It's essential the public understands the difference between cost of treatment plants — which go down on a per capita basis as the population grows — from the cost of the connecting and gathering systems," Mr. Loffmark said.

"The cost of these depends very greatly on the efficiency with which municipal authorities have planned to meet local responsibilities over a period of time — where planning was poor cost is now high."

The health minister also pointed out that his directive requiring treatment plants for discharge of new sewage volumes did not prevent special permits for constructing sewer systems to eliminate existing land pollution in developed areas.

MANY VOLUNTEER

"To the best of my knowledge not one application for a permit to relieve existing pollution of land has been refused," he said.

(Mayor Curtis accused Mr. Loffmark of embarking on a policy of refusing to permit elimination of land pollution in favor of preventing water pollution.)

The health minister also pointed out that other municipalities in B.C. have had no serious difficulty complying with his directive and many have voluntarily gone ahead with sewage treatment plants to protect the water resources available to their citizens.

Mr. Loffmark said Richmond municipality, with similar problems to those encountered in Saanich, needed less than a month to come up with a program for adding a treatment plant to its proposed $20 million sewer program in compliance with the health department's directive.

He also said that the 13-member municipalities of the Greater Vancouver sewerage and drainage district were co-operating fully with his department in planning a treatment plant to meet all their needs.

"There are other municipalities also who have been very co-operative with my department on this and they include North Vancouver, West Vancouver, Montrose, Vernon, Penticton, Kelowna and many small communities on Vancouver Island — all of whom are putting in sewage treatment plants," he said.

IN NORFOLK, Virginia, for the commissioning ceremonies of new Canadian submarine Rainbow is Lt.-Cmdr. C. Edwin Falstrem, captain of the submarine Grilse. The Rainbow is currently the U.S.S. Argonaut, purchased from the U.S. Navy for $150,000. The Tench class Argonaut, although 24 years old, has been kept up to date by periodic renovations and the installation of sophisticated electronic gear. The new Rainbow is expected to arrive here about Dec. 23.

Students Offered Prizes For Best Written Papers

Scientists of man and society will hold an international convention here in April.

The Northwest Anthropological Conference will hold its 22nd annual meeting, sponsored by the University of Victoria and the Provincial Museum, April 3 to 5.

Papers on linguistics, archeology, and social, cultural and physical anthropology will be presented.

"They will reflect the worldwide research interests of anthropologists of the northwest, but with a particular emphasis on this area," Don Abbott, curator of archeology at the museum and general co-ordinator of the conference, said.

From 200 to 300 professional and student anthropologists from British Columbia, Alberta and six or more of the western United States are expected.

Keynote speaker will be Dr. William Willmott of the anthropology department of the University of B.C., on "The Politics of Involvement."

VICTORIA B.C., FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1968—PAGE 25

Arthur Mayse

It isn't often that I think of my almost alma mater, which in this her 50th year is so large that even a former student can lose himself on her campus. But sometimes memory does stir, and I remember the UBC of the early 30s.

It was small then, its student population only about half Uvic's close-to-5,000, but for those years, it was the centre of my world.

Each fall I came back to it eagerly, determined this time to study hard, skip no lectures, and free myself of the freshman mathematics that hung around my neck like an albatross. When I started, the fees totalled a crashing $150 a year, but before I deserted to a newspaper with 18 credits still to go, they had climbed to $160. A summer job in the woods paid them, and a yearly poetry award kept me clothed.

I never did win free of those then-compulsory math courses, even though my lamentable case came before the UBC senate.

My champions did their best, but the sterner outlook prevailed. "An essential discipline," the verdict ran, and I was tossed back at a maths department that had conspired to be free of me.

But this isn't to suggest that I got nothing from the university experience.

★

As a matter of fact, I derived much of value, and three boons in particular.

One was a chance to write a column for the "Ubyssey" and to question, discuss and argue over foul coffee at the publications table in the cafeteria.

Sounds like a waste of time? We didn't think so, any more than our inheritors in university publications do today. A university has, or should have, many aspects, and the academic one is not necessarily the most important.

I also got a chance to row bow position in an eight-oared shell.

Crew was a minor sport at UBC then. We rowed in rented shells that had seen better days, and I don't recall that we did very well in our races.

But, speaking of disciplines, I can think of few better than the sliding seat and the long oar, and the stroke that is raised, and held, and raised again.

To row a race is to give a job everything you've got, and to toss in unguessed reserves before the lean hull needles across the finish-line.

The university from which I never graduated exposed me to that splendid torment, and I will always be grateful.

★

Looking back, however, I think that the best thing I got from UBC was the privilege of sitting in a lecture hall dominated by the great man who headed its English department.

This was Garnett G. Sedgewick, and though we might call him Gee-Gee behind his back, his students thought the world of him.

Dr. Sedgewick was short and broad. He had a large head, and a profile that I can only describe as noble. An autocrat, he would send any handy student to fetch him a pack of cigarettes. If he forgot to put on a necktie, as he frequently did, he would requisition one from the male neck nearest to his podium.

But these were only antic flourishes; he was probably the finest interpreter of Shakespeare—or Shakspere, as he insisted—on this continent.

If the play was Hamlet, he wasn't merely a professor discussing that haunted prince, but Hamlet in the flesh. Girls from whom no movie could wring a tear wept at his Othello.

To sum up, I received from my bobtailed university experience a group, a sport and a teacher who brought his subject to life. But not the degree which, in all honesty, I have never missed.

A Scant Scent of Spring

Warm weather for November agrees with more than people, as these blossoms bordering Beacon Hill Park and admired by Anne Carney of 105 Cook attest. The tree is Prunus Subhirtella autumnalis, an autumn-blooming variety of plum tree, and if the weather isn't too tough the blossoms will be around to catch the eye until spring. They won't suffer this weekend. The weatherman forecasts sunny periods, some showers, light winds and continuing warm temperatures, in the low 50s. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett).

CAR TEST DEADLINE EXTENDED

Attorney-General Leslie Peterson has confirmed that the motor vehicle testing program will not be able to stick to the original Jan. 1 deadline.

He said the date would have to be postponed for an indefinite period.

So far slightly more than half of the 80,000 vehicles registered in the County of Victoria have gone through the government testing station on McKenzie in preparation for introduction of the experimental compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

"The extension will be no longer than necessary to accommodate the public without inconvenience," Mr. Peterson said.

"In the meantime, the important thing is that when somebody receives notice to bring their vehicle into the station for testing, it is mandatory that they observe such notice."

DID SHOAL TEAR APART HYDROFOIL?

U.S. Coast Guard officials at Seattle today confirmed they are checking on reports that an unmarked shoal may have caused the Wednesday accident to the hydrofoil Victoria.

At the present time they could not confirm suspicions expressed by William Niedermair, president of Northwest Hydrofoil Lines. He discounted the possibility the sea-skimming craft hit a deadhead.

Five persons were hurt and $250,000 damage done to the craft which operates on a regular schedule between Victoria and Seattle. The service has been suspended pending repairs.

$228 Stolen Out Of Student Wallets

Saanich police and school authorities are investigating the theft of $228 from wallets in the boys changing room at Claremont senior secondary school.

Police said the thefts had occurred over the last two and a half months and there was a possibility further incidents had not been reported.

Funeral Monday For Jack McRae

John (Jack) Colin McRae, son of a pioneer Victoria family which owned the McRae estate in southern Saanich died suddenly Thursday at the age of 72.

Mr. McRae was taken ill on returning to his home at 1445 Ocean View Thursday afternoon. He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival.

He was the son of George McRae, who came to this area from New Zealand in 1882 and bought the land which became the McRae Estate and family home.

The 132-acre property, which included Cedar Hill Golf Course, was expropriated by Saanich municipality in 1967 for use as a park and recreational area.

$1.2 MILLION

Expropriation proceedings were begun when a price could not be agreed upon. In September, 1967, an arbitration board set the value of the estate at $1,200,000.

Saanich council offered this amount and the McRae family accepted. It was agreed the family should have continued use of their family home at 1445 Ocean View.

Apart from service with the Royal Flying Corps in the First World War, Mr. Jack McRae spent all his life in Victoria.

With his brother, George, he operated a trucking business at 1445 Ocean View Drive.

Mr. RcRae is also surived by two sons, John (Jack) Colin, who is manager of the Capitol Theatre, and George D., both at home.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Norman (Jean) Keziere, Victoria, three granddaughters and one grandson; two sisters, Miss Kate McRae and Mrs. Margaret Mangles, Victoria; and a nephew, John D. Mangles, Bellevue, Wash.

Funeral services will be held in Hayward's Chapel Monday at 1:30 p.m. and followed by interment in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

'Depressed' Workers March on Legislature

Placards Waved By Demonstrators

By JOHN MIKA

About 500 civil servants took their lunch hour today to protest in front of the provincial legislature where they work.

The demonstration was relatively quiet and entirely orderly.

They left their offices at noon, walked over to the Crystal Garden, picked up some 200 placards after a short pep talk and marched back to the buildings to hear their leaders voice their grievances.

The turnout was about half of what was expected.

At the Crystal, Alex Brady, president of the Victoria branch of B.C. Employees' Association, accused Premier Bennett of inaccuracies in claiming B.C. has the only full-time civil service commission in Canada.

He said there are civil service commissions in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta and the federal capital in Ottawa.

Mr. Brady said despite the premier's attempt to persuade civil servants they don't need bargaining rights, "we do not feel that he truly believes a depressed and demoralized civil service is in the best interests of the people of B.C."

NOT ONLY DOLLARS

Mr. Brady said it was true the government must try to give the public the best possible service for the lowest practical cost. But efficiency cannot be estimated in dollars alone.

"When a government worker's standard of living is lower than his neighbor in comparable employment — when we lose good people to the higher wages offered by industry something is wrong.

"Morale sinks and the government suffers.

"We would like comparable wages with those of our contemporaries in British Columbia, not Outer Mongolia," he said to a round of applause.

Picking up placards, the civil servants marched the two blocks to the legislature behind piper Steve Geddes, skirling "Bonnie Dundee," standard-bearers carrying the Maple Leaf and provincial flags, and a traffic policeman on a motorbike.

HE COULD HEAR

Mounting the front steps and using a bull horn easily carrying his words to Premier Bennett's office nearby, BCGEA president Norman Richards addressed the gathering.

He said the noon-hour demonstration here and meeting of lower mainland civil servants tonight are designed to spotlight civil servants' unhappiness with low wages and no right to collective bargaining.

Mr. Richards said early this year the association appealed to the cabinet to refer its grievances to the highly-touted mediation commission established by the government to alleviate labor unrest.

But the request has been ignored.

The group dispersed after he finished a brief speech to enable demonstrators to get back to work on time with a few minutes left for a bite to eat on the run.

Today's mass meeting here was the second one held this year at the Crystal Gardens by Victoria civil servants.

About 1,000 of them turned out for a protest meeting last February after the government had turned down requests for new pay scales for some 350 classifications to bring them into closer relationship with wage standards for the same occupations in the private sector of the province.

FACT FINDING

That meeting resulted in a demand for a fact-finding committee to study the BCGEA's case, which had been rejected by the Civil Service Commission.

The cabinet set up a committee headed by Education Minister Brothers and including Works Minister Chant and Trade Minister Skillings to hear the BCGEA's detailed argument.

In July it was announced that the government had turned down the appeal for "comparability" with B.C. wages.

Instead, the government sent a letter to BCGEA officials suggesting that comparability with civil service salaries in other provinces should be the guideline.

Premier Bennett Thursday maintained this position was fair because national policy "equalized" the relative revenues of the provinces, despite his opposition.

This also equalized the ability of provinces to pay their civil servants, he argued.

But BCGEA officials reject his argument on the grounds that it has turned them into economic second-class citizens within their own province.

They also argue that the root of the problem is the government's refusal to give them the right to bargain collectively, isolating them from all other B.C. workers including other public employees in B.C.

WAGES DICTATED

Under the present system, BCGEA officials hold discussions with the Civil Service Commission each year about working conditions but there are no negotiations in the accepted sense of offer and counter-offer until agreement is reached.

The cabinet does not meet with BCGEA officially and each year's wages are dictated by the budget decisions of Premier Bennett with the Civil Service Commission assigned solely to apportion any increases among the civil service ranks.

Mr. Bennett, on the morning of the BCGEA's annual convention this fall, announced that he had ordered a crash study of the civil service wage structure and its results would be reflected in the next budget.

But BCGEA officials maintain that such unilateral studies are no just substitute for collective bargaining under which the civil service and government would hold face-to-face talks as other employee-employer groups do.

North Saanich Again Pledged New Hospital

Assurances that North Saanich Peninsula will have a new hospital were repeated today to calm threatening protesters who suspect otherwise.

Regional District chairman and Saanich Mayor Hugh Curtis said, "The north undoubtedly will get a replacement hospital for Rest Haven (at Sidney).

"I get a little tired of all this," he added.

He was commenting on the published statement of Peninsula Hospital Committee chairman William Larnick who said "all hell will break loose" if Rest Haven is not replaced when the hospital district decides on projects in its building program.

Mr. Larnick said refusal of a new northern hospital would cause public meetings, petitions and a march of thousands of angry people to the Legislative Buildings.

Mr. Larnick said: "We are not looking for a large acute-care hospital but only for a replacement for those facilities which we have paid for and enjoyed for 50 years."

'ABSURDITY'

Mayor Curtis indicated the proposed replacement for the still-operating Rest Haven would fit Mr. Larnick's expressed requirements.

"It would be an absurdity to deprive the area of a facility it needs, but I don't think that includes a major acute care hospital away from the main population area."

Mr. Larnick said his group is withholding action pending the November meeting of the Regional Hospital Board.

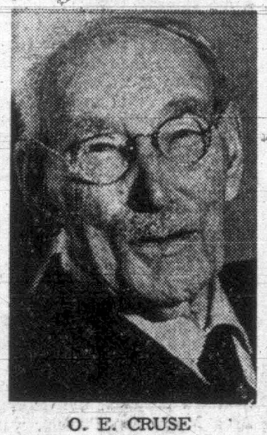
BOYS CHARGED WITH CUTTING TIRES ON CARS

Two 15-year-old boys were scheduled to appear in juvenile court later today to face 30 charges of wilful damage.

Their arrest Thursday follows city police investigation of a tire-slashing spree in the James Bay area a week ago.

A total of 42 tires were slashed as well as the tops of two convertibles overnight last Friday. Twenty-seven cars were involved.

Twenty of the charges the pair will face involve wilful damage under $50 and the remaining 10 wilful damage over $50.



O. E. CRUSE
. . . 100 today

He's Last Of Pioneer Fruit Growers

Oswald Edward Cruse celebrated his 100th birthday today with a cake, a telegram from the Queen and the gift of a sweater from friends.

Acquaintances of the 11-year-resident of Dawson Heights on Cedar Hill Cross Road dropped in briefly throughout the morning to wish him well.

Smiling and healthy-looking, Mr. Cruse tapped a cane in his hand as a photograph was taken to commemorate the beginning of his 101st year.

Born on a homestead in Frontenac County, Ontario, this day in 1868, he came to Vancouver Island with his brother in 1908. The two bought 10 acres of bushland in the Keating district and operated a mixed fruit farm for several years.

LAST ONE

Mr. Cruse is the only living member of the old Pioneer Fruit Growers Association, formed while he was working the farm.

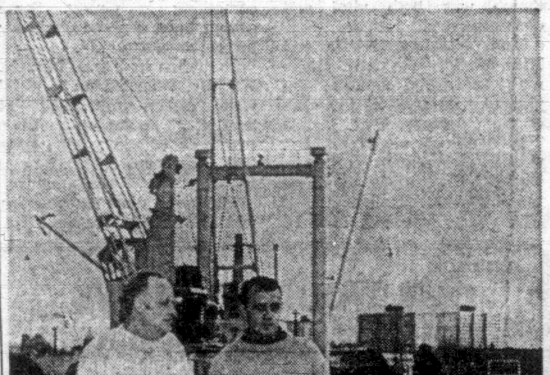
He gave up fruit growing after the depression and moved to Victoria in 1943. Always active, he took up cabinet-making as a hobby and fashioned pieces of furniture for his home.

But he liked an outdoor life best, which his wife Daisy says "perhaps explains why he has been very healthy with still no physical disabilities except impaired hearing."

For the past 11 years the couple has been living "a quiet, contented life" at Dawson Heights.

The family will hold a private celebration dinner Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Steadman, at Prospect Lake.

A younger daughter, Peggy, is married and living in Littleton, Colorado and Mr. Cruse has four grandchildren. One surviving brother, Goeff, lives at Cedar, near Nanaimo.



THEY'RE READY and willing for third encounter with old and worthy foe, the Pacific Ocean. Capt. Kurt Koster and First Mate Waldeburgs Cervilla, of Continental Shipper, stand atop load of lumber they've twice attempted to get to Japan. CANADIAN-BORN jazz pianist Oscar Peterson will be featured at the 23rd annual Jaycee Fair, May 19 to 24 next year. One of the jazz greats, Mr. Peterson has played Carnegie Hall, Europe and Japan with such headliners as Louis Armstrong, Stan Getz and Herb Ellis. During his six-day stand in Victoria he will perform two shows daily and will act as honorary parade marshall for the Victoria Day parade. Signing of a contract Thursday for his appearance here was announced by fair chairman Brian Small.

Ask The Times

Q. Can a person not living in Canada be obliged to pay Canadian income tax?—C. S.

A. A non-resident is liable for federal income taxation if he or she was carrying on a business or was employed in Canada during any fiscal year. "Carrying on business" includes maintaining a permanent establishment in this country, possessing goods either entirely or partially in the country, or entering into contracts in Canada. The taxable income of a non-resident is payable on the same schedule as resident Canadians.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

DAY'S EARNINGS GIVEN UNITED APPEAL

Paper Boy Delivers in Clutch

By W. RALPH THOMAS

Trevor Dawson liked the idea of the Mod Squad.

When 200 local students announced their plans to aid the United Appeal campaign this week by working at odd jobs and turning their earnings over to the Community Chest, Trevor wanted to help.

But his school work, his Victoria Daily Times paper route and his Boy Scout activities left him with little free time.

So he did the next best thing. He called the Mod Squad at 386-2220 and offered one day's pay to the United Appeal because he would like to help someone.

He apologized for not being able to make a larger contribution and added he would be disappointed if the Appeal did not reach its $655,000 goal.

"I know my donation isn't much but it might help someone who really needs help."

Trevor is a Grade 9 student at Central Junior High and was made a Queen's Scout last week. In 1967 he won a Canada Savings Bond for placing second in a national Fire Prevention Week essay writing contest.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Dawson, 1615 Gladstone, he is just one of the hundreds of young people in this community who are out to finish a tough job the adults started.

Last week the Appeal was dragging its feet and it looked as if it would miss its goal by $30,000 or more.

But the determined efforts of the young people have brightened the outlook by adding enthusiasm and dollars to the cause.

If the campaign does not reach its target, it will not be the fault of Trevor Dawson or the hundreds of other young people who are now giving it their best.

Snootiest Watches in the World Will Make Down-Town Showing

By PAT DUFOUR

Up until today I've felt pretty smug. Christmas around our house has always been a time for my husband to exercise his penchant for buying fur or baubles. Last year, as an example, having decided between us that we'd both be sensible when it came to gift-giving, I was surprised to find that the sea boots I'd requested had been replaced by a dream of a fur jacket. Or was I?

This week my aplomb was shattered. It all happened when Walter McElroy came over from Vancouver. He's the owner of W. H. Grassie, the Vancouver jewelry company that has now established a branch at 1209 Douglas Street.

Here is a man that's going to have most Victoria husbands gnashing their teeth in frustration next week.

Walter is bringing over a collection of watches, the like of which has never been seen in Victoria before.

I surreptitiously hid the little watch that appeared under the Christmas tree several years ago as Walter showed me some of those in the Piaget collection, a top-drawer presentation that spends its time touring a world circuit. I didn't want my humble timepiece to bust a spring in chagrin.

It isn't fair to any self-respecting "ticker" to be confronted with snooty relatives that sell for anywhere between $1,000 and $40,000 and, together, can boast of a cool half a million dollars in dazzling collateral.

I felt almost nude when Walter informed me that no Parisian socilite would consider herself dressed without a Piaget watch on her elegant wrist. I shoved my watch still further up my forearm.

Trying to regain a little of my composure, I timidly suggested that perhaps the Piaget perfections weren't exactly the ultimate . . . I can't see any with a sweep hand, I quavered. "Of course not," replied Walter, "the Piaget company feels that anyone who can afford one of these can afford someone to count the seconds!"

The Swiss firm of Piaget has been in business since 1874 and since that time has established itself as the tops in its field. They made mechanical history in 1960 when they produced the world's thinnest automatic watch, which allows them to create timepieces that are less than one-tenth of an inch in height.

But, from a woman's point of view, it's the beauty, not mechanical perfection, that makes Piaget watches something to dream about.

As an example, there's a seductive little number that looks for all the world as if it's an evening bracelet. That it is, complete with 124 diamonds and 36 emeralds. But just in case you're a modern-day Cinderella, there's a mite of a watch tucked beneath all this expensive glory.

Even the watch faces come bedazzled. Often they're made of such precious stones as jade.

Men's watches are just as glamorous. As an example, there's a watch for the opera-lover that glitters with diamonds and sapphires, and is complete with a fob of the same stones.

Walter tells me that the collection comes here from Montreal, and he will be displaying it at the Victoria store all next week. From then, the collection will be taken to Paris and, as Walter says, could very well end up on display in Africa next month.

The Piaget company is based at La Cote-aux-Fees, roughly translated as Fairy Hill.

I've never believed in those whimsical creatures before, but I'm willing to try. It's only through the benevolence of one of their kind that most of us will ever own a Piaget.

There's one compensation though. Walter pointed out that all the watches have large dials "because by the time you can afford one, your eyesight is failing."

Perhaps if I start saving now and I live to be a hundred . . . who knows?

A cat may look at a king, and a working gal can dream of owning a Piaget watch. Laurie Bennett knows her chances of ever owning one of the fabulous watches are pretty remote, but consoles herself with the knowledge that she's at least touched one. (Bill Halkett photo.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

Penny Converted To Maple-Walnut

By PENNY SAVER

I am not a fan of maple-walnut anything and particularly not of maple-walnut ice cream. I don't really know why I should feel this way, but the fact is that I do. The maple-walnut ice cream, then, that can earn my undying praise must be very fine indeed.

While I can avoid eating maple-walnut at home, I couldn't when I was served it at a friend's house the other night. I smiled like a martyr when the dish was set before me and dug in with all the grace I could muster. But by the time I had finished I was actually enjoying the stuff! "This ice cream is the best I've tasted in years," I gushed, while my husband just looked shocked. He knows I hate maple-walnut ice cream. My hostess laughed, "Glad you like it, but it isn't really ice cream. It's made with soya instead of milk."

If you insist on being picky, there are some small differences between ice cream and its soya substitute. I like the soya better, though I can't pinpoint the difference that makes this so. The only actual difference I could detect was in the texture and even this is so slight that I had to be really concentrating to notice it. The soya "ice cream" comes in a pint size for 55 cents and a quart size for 95 cents. It is made locally and comes in plastic freezer tubs that can be used again. Right now there are three flavors available: vanilla, maple-walnut and carob The maple-walnut, incidentally, uses real nut meats, not just a walnut flavoring the way some (but not all) ice creams do.

These Peels Real

By now organized people like Mathilda have made their Christmas cakes, but some of us just aren't that organized. For those, like myself, who are just waking up to the fact that Christmas is a month away, I would like to talk about the cut, mixed peels I found. These are not dyed to make them look better and they are not some kind of melon rind masking as something else. These are finely chopped lemon and orange peels. They are slightly candied. A half pound bag costs 28 cents.

Nuts also play a big part in Christmas cooking. The store where I saw the peels also had a fine selection of raw nut meats. These include almonds, both blanched ($1.75 a pound) and in their skins ($1.58 a pound), extra large pecans ($1.35 a half pound and whole so they can look beautiful on top of cakes and cookies), brazils ($1.25 a pound) and even chopped walnuts for cooking (78 cents a pound).

Ginger is another Christmas favorite at 58 cents for a half pound. This is preserved in sugar glaze. Dates are 65 cents a half pound.

Dried apricots make a delicious and nutritious snack. They are 90 cents for a half pound bag or $1.75 for a pound. Whole apricots are also available in a honey glaze for 63 cents a half-pound bag.

If you have decided to give up on making your own Christmas cakes this year, the shop I visited has both light and dark fruit cakes for $1 a pound. These cakes are different from most as they are made with a blend of whole-grain flours finely milled.

If you would like to know where to shop for the foods mentioned in this column please call 382-3131.

Bazaar Raises Profit of $500

The sum of $500 was realized when the Shady Creek United Church Women held their fall tea, bazaar and art show in the church hall on East Saanich Road. The event was opened by Mrs. J. Wood.

The main artist featured in the show was Mrs. Stephanie Steele. There were many stalls. Afternoon tea was served to a capacity crowd.

An unsurpassed cast in one of the great plays of the ages!

Seattle's Rejuvenation Program Makes Impact on Victoria Woman

A vivid description of one of Seattle's projects, the Central Area Motivation Project, was given by Mrs. H. N. Newnham, when the diocesan board of the Anglican Church Women met for its recent quarterly meeting at St. John's Church. Mrs. Newnham had been in Seattle as a delegate to the Pacific Northwest International Missionary Conference.

She said the project was designed to stimulate a largely Negro part of Seattle through the implementation of a self-help operation. Mrs. Newnham was impressed with the extremes to be seen in Seattle, ranging from beautiful streets to down-trodden areas in the centre of the city. She lauded corner-lot beautification projects which are employing people who are unsuitable for other work.

Mrs. Newnham had visited a drop-in storefront which had been developed into a clinic which is now being used for "junkies," alcoholics and other rehabilitation projects.

Of her visit she said, "It was the first time I have had the opportunity of speaking to people like this face to face, and finding out what they really feel."

Rev. G. B. Grahame-Baker was assisted by Rev. L. Jenner and Canon A. J. Williams in the conducting of Holy Communion which began the meeting's activities. There were 104 members present.

Treasurer Miss Dora Brown reported that $2,000 had been sent to national headquarters for Pledge. Donations included: Columbia Coast Mission, $50; Miss Hasell's Vans, $25; St. Faith's Mission, $10, and $40 for a branch's project involving a Korean child.

Living Message chairman Mrs. H. N. Fatt told members that subscriptions, now due, are to be individual, instead of bulk as in former years. This year's calendars were discussed, some members stating that they were not religious enough in character, others insisting that the China theme was both vital and contemporary.

Canon Grahame-Baker and Miss Marjory Bernard, chairman for social service, explained the delay of the care of the elderly project. United Thank-Offering chairman Mrs. G. H. Greenhalgh said she would like to see the fund reach $4,000 during this, her fourth year of office. Mrs. H. E. Hubbard, chairman for extra cents, said $200 had been sent to Chemainus as a donation toward the proposed mission for seamen.

Family life chairman Mrs. E. Scott reported that new programs in her department involved couples, fathers, as well as women. Mrs. H. Monaghan reported on the Dorcas committee's work.

Devotions chairman Mrs. T. Hughes said that telephone groups are being formed in several parishes. Members have a phone chain, and if it is impossible to contact any member of that chain, investigations are made in order to check to see if something is wrong. Some groups have a phone chain for prayer requests only.

Chairman for Girls, Mrs. N. W. Life, reported on a girls' work consultation, held at Sorrento. Two leaders and two members of the youth group had accompanied Mrs. Life to Sorrento.

The next diocesan meeting will be held in January.

Funds Raised at Bazaar For Physiotherapy Centre

It could have been the weather or the scent of freshly-baked bread — something attracted more than 200 to the fall bazaar at Goodwill Enterprises Rehabilitation Centre Wednesday.

The Quita Nichol Auxiliary, organizers of the bazaar, collected $600. The money will buy new physio-therapy equipment for the centre.

Mrs. John Nicholson made a brief appearance, inspected the cookies, aprons, and paper flowers being sold, and spoke with conveners.

Mrs. Nina Clark officially opened the bazaar and Mrs. H. I. McKenzie, auxiliary president, convened.

Cakes, cookies, candies and bread were collected and sold by Mrs. J. Knight, Mrs. F. W. Westcott, Mrs. C. R. Fast and Mrs. M. F. Mallet.

The sewing booth was run by Mrs. E. J. Symons, Mrs. H. E. Ballard, Mrs. F. Homer, and Mrs. E. Bowden.

Mrs. I. Fowler was busy at the Christmas stall. Flowers were sold by Mrs. G. M. Morran.

The white elephant stall was organized by Mrs. W. Boldage and Mrs. G. F. George.

Mrs. R. Caddell and Mrs. E. L. Lea looked after tickets.

Plans Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, Victoria branch, will hold its annual meeting Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort Street.

Miss Mary Pack, executive director of the British Columbia division, will be here from Vancouver and will show a film outlining the progress of the training centre in Vancouver.

Women Golfers Attend Prize-Giving at Club

Members of the Ladies' Division of the Victoria Golf Club had a chance to see themselves on film when they held their annual dinner and prize-giving Thursday at the clubhouse on Beach Drive.

The dinner and prize-giving were followed by a showing of the Shell film, "The Wonderful World of Golf," made last year at the club.

The clubhouse was decorated with flowers in autumn colors. The dining room was decorated with arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles.

Convening the dinner were Mrs. J. Wintemute and Mrs. D. Boyd. Assisting them were Mrs. W. MacDonald, Mrs. Fred Norris, Mrs. W. Mann, Mrs. H. G. Mearns and Mrs. H. Husband.

Seated at the head table were Mrs. J. H. Todd, captain; Mrs. Hugh Paterson, Mrs. J. Macdonald, Princess Chikmatoff, Miss Ruth Jones, Mrs. A. Osborough, Mrs. Mona Tomalin and Mrs. C. Holland, president of the Vancouver Island Division of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Association.

The prize-giving followed the dinner. Winner of the Rossey Cup was Mrs. H. Morrow with Mrs. E. C. D. Wilson as runner-up.

The Louise Todd Cup was won by Mrs. J. Wintemute, with Mrs. C. Mann as runner-up. The M. Todd Foursomes was won by Mrs. B. Keyes and Miss Mary Prutton, with Mrs. J. D. Munro and Mrs. K. B. Olson as runners-up.

Mrs. J. H. Todd was both winner and medallist in the Club Championship. Runner-up was Mrs. H. G. Mearns.

Bronze A Championship medallist was Mrs. J. L. Rimmington. Winner was Miss Marcia Prior, with Mrs. J. L. Rimmington as runner-up. First flight winner was Mrs. D. W. Stoneham and runner-up was Mrs. T. Link.

Medallist and winner in the Bronze B Championship was Mrs. D. R. McColl. Runner-up was Mrs. M. Goodland, First Flight winner was Mrs. N. D. Cameron, with Mrs. W. E. Baker as runner-up.

Mrs. D. R. McColl won the Alexander Vase.

The Benning Cup was won by Mrs. J. H. Todd with Mrs. A. Sutherland-Brown as runner-up. First-round winner was Mrs. A. G. E. Robbins, and the second-round winner, Mrs. J. H. Todd.

Winners of the annual par were: Silver division, Mrs. H. Morrow, Bronze A, Mrs. S. Mooney and Bronze B, Mrs. M. Goodland.

Monthly medal winner was Mrs. J. D. Munro, with Mrs. D. Boyd as runner-up. Mrs. A. Osborough and Miss Betty Bleakney received hole-in-one pins.

Challenge ladder winners were Mrs. R. McDonald and Mrs. C. W. Shearing.

Winners of National Golf Week were: A division, Mrs. J. D. Munro, with Mrs. E. G. D. Wilson as runner-up; B division, Mrs. J. Wintemute, with Mrs. D. Boyd, runner-up.

Nora Paterson Day winners were Mrs. D. Boyd and Mrs. P. McCullough; Mrs. V. Godfrey and Mrs. W. Munro and Mrs. E. C. D. Wilson and Mrs. M. Goodland.

Hawaiian and Philippine Attractions Compete At Successful Event for St. Joseph's Hospital

The theme was Aloha but the accent was on the Philippines.

The combination proved delightful and lucrative when the ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital held its Aloha Bazaar in the nurses' residence Wednesday and raised $6,500 for auxiliary work.

The main prize of a well-patronized tombola was a trip for two to Hawaii. It was won by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ware, 3342 Henderson Road.

The main attractions of the bazaar were two fashion shows that offered a selection of lavishly embroidered and beaded creations from the Philippines. The shows were convened by Miss M. S. Bolanos and Mrs. Lourdes R. Palacio, the Philippines minister of culture. The Philippine consul-general F. S. Lamdagan flew from Vancouver to officially open the event.

The models, most of them Philippine nurses and medical technicians working in Victoria, had had the clothes specially created in their homeland for the gala presentations. Mel Nonisa, the only male model, took the part of a bridegroom in the finale. Also modelling were Irmina Bibera, Priscilla de los Reyes, Marianne Colmenares, Charito Colmenares, Lillian Rances, Zeny Regalado, Kathy Piano, Nene Castillo, Eliza Castillo, Prescella de los Santos, Sheila Munieza, Mercedes Velasco, Mildred Pojol, Susan Arrayo and Annette Jayme.

DANCE WITH CANDLES

Rounding out the presentation, Irmina Bibera and Linda Filamor performed an impressive folk dance, complete with lighted candles.

Mrs. Norman Ware was general convener, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Cownden. Tea convener was Mrs. F. G. Stuart.

A chicken lu[illegible] served. Seated at a table with auxiliary president Mrs. W. Rogers were the consul-general, his assistant, O. Tiu; Bishop Remi De Roo, Msgr. M. O'Connell, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Q. Van Tilburg, Sister Kathleen Cyr and Miss Bolanos, who is president of the Philippine Association.

Magnificent flower decorations, created by Mrs. A. C. Macgillivray and Mrs. I. Douglas, decorated the lounge where Mrs. F. G. Hawes, Mrs. R. T. Bryant, Mrs. J. L. M. Whitbread and Mrs. Gerald May presided at the head table.

Serviteurs were Mrs. B. E. Cragg, Mrs. James Fiddess, Mrs. H. Carruthers, Mrs. D. Sinclair, Mrs. G. Ritchie, Mrs. Jane Johnson, Mrs. S. G. Ruskin, Mrs. E. T. W. Nash, Mrs. Robert Lane, Mrs. R. Flannigan, Mrs. Neil Stewart and Mrs. William Graham.

STALL CONVENERS

The home-baking stall was run by Mrs. G. McKenzie, Mrs. A. Steele, Mrs. S. Crawford, Mrs. K. Sullivan, Mrs. G. Minty; Mrs. G. Hewitt and Mrs. C. Sluggett. a Lucky Seven stall was organized by Mrs. H. G. Ingram, Mrs. L. T. Sim, Mrs. R. Shipley and Mrs. B. Marriott.

A colorful display of dolls and stuffed animals sold quickly at a stall in the charge of Mrs. L. H. Wilson, Mrs. A. F. Grimston, Mrs. V. Green, Mrs. H. Saunders and Mrs. J. Fowler. Clothes for babies and children were sold by Mrs. E. Felner and Mrs. G. Bowes.

In charge of a fancywork stall were Mrs. R. Atkinson, Mrs. A. Aslin and Mrs. G. Forsland.

Sister Lorraine Conroy convened a stall of religious articles. Helping her were Roman Catholic student nurses Kim Mills, Maureen Conroy, Roberta Duff, Sister Roelfson, Percy Anne French, Terry Bacchus and Mary Babruim.

The tombola was run by Mrs. C. Baker, Mrs. J. Chadderton and Mrs. T. Hartnell. Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. M. Beesley and Mrs. D. Stewart were in charge of raffles. Tickets on a chicken dinner were sold by Mrs. K. Miller, Mrs. L. Preston and Mrs. G. Hardy.

Other stall conveners were: Aprons, Mrs. O. D. Davis, Mrs. M. Lester, Mrs. M. McCallum, Mrs. D. Daly and Mrs. G. Outridge; Christmas stall and candles, Mrs. T. Atkinson, Mrs. M. Adkisson and Mrs. J. Neirinck; post office, Mrs. B. G. Ryan; white elephants, Mrs. L. Barraud, Mrs. J. D. Gillis and Mrs. V. Madden; candy, Mrs. P. M. Semenchuk, Mrs. W. Boone and Mrs. R. N. Grant; French Room, Mrs. T. Pye, Mrs. C. Hortie and Mrs. R. Kay.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. W. Rothery, Mrs. F. Sedgwick and Mrs. T. Rogers.

Mrs. A. Blair handled receipts, bingo games were run by W. M. C. Stone and publicity convener was Mrs. E. Michaux.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Reformed Girl Asks How to Act

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am not a mixed-up teen-ager, I am 24 years old, and I have been around the track a few times. When I was 18 I got involved with a married man and ended up with a baby and no husband. After that, whenever I dated a guy he took it for granted that I was easy, and I had a fight on my hands.

Men think that because a girl made one mistake she has nothing to lose, When I make it plain that I intend to behave myself, they think I am putting on an act. How is a girl who has learned her lesson and reformed supposed to act on a date?

GIRL WITH A PAST

DEAR GIRL: She is supposed to act like a lady, and after she has acted that way consistently, she will convince one and all that she is sincere. And if she loses the man, she can consider herself lucky because she'll know he wasn't looking for a respectable girl. And by the way, it's easier to live down a "past" if you change pastures.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is so hard to get up in the morning, I just don't know what to do. Once he's up, he's truly ambitious and hard-working, but it's getting him out of bed that's a chore. If I call him more than once, I'm "nagging" him, and I don't like to start the day off with a fight.

If I call him only once, he turns over and goes back to sleep. He's constantly late for work, which looks bad on his record. His mother said she had the same trouble with him before he was married.

We've been married for three years and I do love him. How can I make him realize that the early bird gets the worm?

BEAT IN BALTIMORE

DEAR BEAT: Maybe he's not crazy about worms, but he likes butter on his bread, he'd better wake up (literally, that is). If he continues to be late for work, better get yourself a job. You'll need it.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law calls me "Grandmaw" and I don't like it one bit. Before her baby came she didn't call me anything. Just nothing at all. When she wanted my attention she would say, "Hey!"

When my grandson calls me "Grandmaw," I love it. I'm only 43, but it's one thing to have your own grandchild, who is three years old call you "Grandmaw" and something else to be called that by a 25-year-old girl.

How can I let her know that I am not her Grandmaw and I wish she would quit calling me that?

MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR MOTHER: How about just telling her?

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. E. F.: A thousand apologies. You are right and I am wrong. I had it turned around! It is possible for two brown-eyed parents to produce a blue-eyed child, but the reverse is NOT true.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Potatoes Aren't Fattening

Q. A friend of mine told me the other day that you say potatoes are not fattening. I do not understand this, because my mother never eats a potato when she is dieting to lose weight.

Lowman

A. Many people feel as your mother does. However, this is incorrect. A medium potato has only about 90 calories and is a valuable food. It got its bad reputation because the calorie count zooms when it is fried, scalloped, au gratin, creamed or soaked in butter. When reducing, bake the potato and flavor it with garlic salt, parsley or chives.

Q. Does electrolysis age the skin? What are the bad points about this method of hair removal?

A. Electrolysis does not age the skin. As far as I know, there aren't any bad points about it, that is, if you have a well qualified operator. Your family physician can probably direct you to one. Many skin specialists have an electrolysist in their offices.

The expense depends on how many treatments are necessary. Usually payment can be worked out on a budget plan.

Q. There seems to be different kinds of lipstick brushes. What kind is best?

A. A lipstick brush should be very small, and even more important, compact and narrow. If they are too broad, or bushy at all, you cannot draw the very fine line which is essential.

9 IN MEMORIAM

BENZIE—In loving memory of my husband, Charles A. Benzie, who passed away Nov. 22, 1967.

Oh what would I give to clasp his hand
His kind face to see,
To hear his voice, to see his smile
That meant so much to me.
His spirit has fled, his suffering's over,
At the fireside he will join me no more.

—Your loving wife Florence (Flo.)

BRIDGE LESSON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

South looked at the dummy and decided that luck was surely running against him. He had one consolation. Had he used Blackwood he wold have found that his side held all the aces and kings and might have gone all the way to seven.

Opening lead—♣Q

His first thought was to concede down one and get on with the next deal. Then he decided to play on and hope that his opponents would discard idiotically. He ran off all his spades and his last high club but nothing good happened. West hung on to a diamond stopper and East to a heart stopper and declarer was down one.

It was too much to expect that East and West could possibly go wrong in discarding on the five rounds of trumps. However, there was a way to make the contract.

South should have drawn two, three or four rounds of trumps. Then he should have cashed all his top cards in the side suits. After all this he could have led either a heart or a diamond and instead of being down one he would have made his slam.

Due to the fact that West held the remaining hearts and East the diamonds, there was no way for the player who won that red suit trick to lead the other red suit. He would have to lead either a third club or a fourth card in his own long red suit. Either way South would be able to ruff in one hand and discard his remaining red suit loser from the other.

This result would come from good luck. On the other hand South was certainly unlucky to find North with exactly the same number of cards in each suit that he himself held. Put a third club in the North hand and the slam would be a spread.

This is a top quality home of just over 2300 sq. ft. of living area. Its every dimention is generous and with its attractive open design it gives the feeling of great freedom. This ome must be seen to be appreciated, wherelse is there an in-line breakfast area, kitchen and laundry area. Wherelse does the breakfast area, living room, master bedroom, recreation room and one other bedroom all face a busy bay with its hustling sea borne traffic. What other property has its own year round boat ramp. Come and see for yourself, it will give me the greatest pleasure to discuss this property with you

$42,000
A unique and delightful property that exemplifies the charm of Victoria. A Tudor home plus a Tudor cottage. Heavy hand-split shakes, leaded windows and Tudor styling blend with beautiful landscaping. The exceptional views (from every window); the wharf; the loat; the wildlife that visits daily all combines to provide the living pleasure the city is famous for. The home is not large but there are three bedrooms and full basement. There are numerous inclusives (stove, fridge, etc.) and the cottage is furnished. The bridge, the tall trees and a most unusual oak and arbutus add atmosphere that can only be had by years of growth. Not an old property, but a unique one with a Disneyland flavour. An exclusive listing. Full details and an appointment to view from Mr. Yells, 382-2101, Res. 383-5039. Harry Foster Ltd.

Before Magistrate

A sobbing mother told in central court Thursday how she phoned police after finding suspected marijuana in her daughter's suitcase.

The evidence was heard at a preliminary hearing into charges of marijuana possession against Janet Thomasset, 19, of 3288 Shelley and Robert Washington, 22, of Vancouver.

Magistrate William Ostler committed both to trial before a judge at the conclusion of the morning hearing.

The accused were charged following an incident at the Thomasset home Oct. 20. Mrs. Thomasset said she was about to look into her daughters suitcase for a scarf when Janet grabbed the case, took it upstairs and said she would get her mother a scarf.

Later the mother went upstairs, found a key in a desk and opened the case. Inside she found two celophane bags of a material she had not seen before.

She said she took them downstairs, put them on a chair under the table and phoned the Saanich police. Before officers arrived, Mrs. Thomasset said the two accused went upstairs. When they returned she told them she had phoned the police.

Robert grabbed her by the arms and started shaking her, she said, during a conversation between the three of them.

Describing the confusion when officers arrived, Mrs. Thomasset broke down sobbing in the witness box.

"I realize this is grievously hard on you," said the magistrate, asking her if she would like time to compose herself.

"I'd rather get it over with," the witness replied.

In cross-examination Mrs. Thomasset said she suspected the substance was marijuana because of Janet's peculiar behavior during the past eight months.

RCMP Const. Dan Stene said when he arrived at the Thomasset home the two accused were embracing. The mother produced the plastic bags and asked him what the material was.

He told her in his opinion it was marijuana. A certificate of analysis was presented to the court during the hearing.

In committing the accused for trial Magistrate Ostler said the case against Washington was very weak. Bail was set at $500.

Richard Howard, of Victoria, and Gerald Harvey, of Vancouver, were remanded until Nov. 28 on charges laid following a disturbance at a local night club Nov. 14.

Both are charged separately with possession of an offensive weapon, possession of an unregistered firearm and possession of a spring knife. Howard is also charged with assault, and Harvey with assault causing bodily harm and pointing a firearm.

William Collins, 536 Johnson, was sentenced to three months in jail on two charges of shoplifting.

Prosecutor Cory Solte said Collins had a criminal record dating back to 1933 with convictions for theft, forgery and false pretences.

Negro Protests Close Colleges

By The Associated Press

Police stood by at two college campuses in the United States today and classes were suspended at a third following incidents of violence and demonstrations over Negro students' demands.

Officials at 18,000-student San Francisco State College called again for resumption of normal classes after some 200 young militants invaded classrooms and scuffled with armed police Thursday.

The president of racially-tense Bluefield State College in Bluefield, W.Va., suspended classes for its 1,450 students today and Saturday after a bomb damaged the new physical education building Thursday night.

In Oshkosh, Wis., police patrolled 11,000-student Oshkosh State University overnight after demonstrators wrecked offices in an administration building. An estimated 102 students were arrested.

The hoodlumism broke out after University President Roger Guiles refused to sign a list of demands presented to him by a Negro delegation. They included hiring of Negro instructors, more courses in Negro culture and a separate student union for Negroes.

SEEK SUPPORT

Those arrested comprise nearly all of the university's Negro enrolment. White students sought later to organize support for those in custody.

At San Francisco State the demands of the strikers, including the Black Students' Union and other groups, are for the rehiring of a Black Panther member fired from the faculty for advising Negro students to carry guns on campus and the creation of a black students' department.

The bomb at Bluefield State ripped through the walls and roof of the new building. College security officer Lloyd Davis said the explosive, apparently in a paper bag, could have been "six or seven sticks of dynamite."

No one was injured in the blast, the most serious incident in a series of threats and acts of vandalism dating back several months. Police were immediately put on seven-day shifts.

It Was Superport Or U.S.

OTTAWA (CP) — British Columbia coal would probably have been exported to Japan through a U.S. port if the national harbors board had decided against building the Roberts Bank port, board chairman Howard Mann said today.

Mr. Mann told the Commons transportation committee the site was chosen by the Japanese steel interests who are buying the coal.

Under intensive questioning by Vancouver MPs who asked why existing port facilities within the Vancouver city limits couldn't be used, Mr. Mann said the contract between the Japanese and the exporter, the Kaiser Coal Co., requires the use of Roberts Bank.

13 Forced to Disrobe

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three gunmen entered a bar and grill in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn early today, forced the 13 patrons, including five women, to disrobe completely and then robbed them of their money, jewelry and clothing.

Teacher Strike Looming In Calgary

CALGARY (CP) The possibility of a strike by the city's 3,500 public school teachers increased today after a conciliation board recommendation for a 16-month contract was rejected.

The proposed contract called for wage increases of between 5.05 per cent and 9.15 per cent, excluding automatic wage increases.

Rod Radomsky, president of the Calgary local of the Alberta Teachers' Association, said if mediation efforts to solve the dispute are not successful a strike vote could be called within a few days, but added he felt teachers were "a long way from a strike vote."

Jim Harrie, chairman of the public school board was less optomistic.

"The public should be aware there is a strong possibility of a teachers' strike in Calgary," he said.

Lay Personnel Supervise Pupils

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The New Westminster school board said Thursday it has arranged for lay personnel to supervise 4,000 elementary school pupils during lunch hours and supervise traffic safety patrols.

The move came as 120 teachers continued a work-to-rule program protesting the board's refusal to negotiate directly with teachers for a new contract.

HIT-RUN CAR KILLS DIEFENBAKER'S DOG

OTTAWA—A hit-and-run driver killed John Diefenbaker's dog, Happy, today, while the former prime minister was taking his customary morning stroll with his golden retriever.

Another motorist stopped and drove Mr. Diefenbaker and the wounded dog home but Happy died. The dog was a gift from Mr. Diefenbaker's wife, Olive.

Italy Seeks Stability

ROME (AP) — President Giuseppe Saragat summoned Italy's political leaders to meet with him today as a power struggle in the Christian Democratic party plunged the country deeper into political crisis.

The rift in the country's largest party resulted in the resignation Thursday of a party secretary Mariano Rumor, a leading candidate for the premiership. He is generally believed capable of patching up a new alliance with the Socialists in order to form a majority government.

$179,555 Bid On School Extension

Bird Construction Co. Ltd. of Victoria submitted the low bid Thursday for an eight-room addition to Hillcrest elementary school in Gordon Head.

It's price of $179,555 was accepted by the Greater Victoria school board but requires department of education approval before work begins.

Seven bids ranged as high as $202,454.

The prices were lower than intitially estimated because a planned extension to the school's activity room was deleted. The government is maintaining its freeze on construction of school activity rooms and gymnasiums.

Special Masses, Services Mark JFK Assassination

WASHINGTON (CP) — Throughout the United States, many people paused today to mark the fifth anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

From Dallas, Tex., where the 35th president of the United States was slain, to the New York home of his remarried widow, Jacqueline Onassis, special masses and other services were planned.

Visitors to the grave at Arlington National Cemetery were expected to total in the thousands.

Kennedy's mother, Rose, said in an interview from NBC's Today show:

"Jack enjoyed being president. You read about some presidents thinking it's a lonely life, talking about the disadvantages. But I think he really revelled in the opportunity."

A candlelight vigil began Thursday night in front of New York's St. Patrick Cathedral, site of requiem mass for Kennedy's brother, Robert, slain last June in Los Angeles.

In Paris, Kennedy's brother-in-law, Ambassador Sargent Shriver and members of his family attended a private memorial service today at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Shriver, the former Eunice Kennedy, presented candles to an institution for mentally-retarded children in the suburb of Choisy-le-Roi this afternoon. The candles were made by mentally-retarded children in the United States.

'Dunking' Contest Scheduled

The Turkey Head Sailing Association has come up with plans for a sailboat race that sounds like a dunking orgy.

Scheduled for Dec. 29, near the spirited height of the holiday season, the race will be "strictly for fun," said vice-commodore Ralph Higgins today.

With a shrug, he added, "A race of this type can't be anything else."

NOVEL START

The race will begin with what is perhaps the first, and possibly the last, Le Mans start in sailboat racing.

On invitation from the association, boats from local yacht clubs will be anchored to seaward of a starting line off Willows Beach.

The plan, although not yet final, is for the crews to hop in their dinghies, row ashore and haul the dinghies up to the Esplanade.

At the starting gun, the crews will trundle their dinghies to the water, scramble aboard and haul for their sailboats.

Once aboard they must weigh anchor, hoist the sails and head off around the course, which Mr. Higgins said would probably be Chatham and Discovery islands.

He said the smallest boats invited will likely be Cal 20s and, as for handicap, he noted some of the big boats carry crews of six, which would require a couple of dinghy trips to get everybody aboard.

At the finish of the race, the boats will be anchored again, the crews rowed ashore and the first dinghy finally hauled back to the Esplanade wins.

As for prizes, Mr. Higgins said "something like a keg of rum" was a possibility.

Queen Juliana of the Netherlands will lend the city of Victoria a rare photograph of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, with Queen Victoria.

Prof. S. W. Jackman of the University of Victoria received confirmation of the loan Thursday.

He is organizing an exhibition in Victoria for next year's celebration of the 150th anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria.

It was announced Wednesday that Queen Elizabeth will donate for the exhibition 50 photographs of engravings in the royal collection.

Prof. Jackson said 11 original photos of Queen Victoria have already arrived from Princesss Alice, Countess of Athlone, Queen Victoria's granddaughter.

Loans from private collections will also be made.

Prof. Jackman will visit the National Portrait Gallery in London next month to select some original engravings of Queen Victoria. The engravings are also being lent to the city for the exhibition, which will be open April 30 to May 25.

Crewmen Picked Up

HONOLULU (AP)—A fire on the West German freighter Cap Colorado, lying dead in choppy seas about 1,000 miles northeast of here has been put out and 30 survivors picked up by an Indian merchant vessel are heading for Hawaii, the United States Coast Guard said today. Two men are missing.

Second Heart

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Everett C. Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., the United States' longest-surviving heart transplant recipient, received a second new heart Thursday in surgery at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Thomas received the first new heart last May 3 in surgery performed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley.

The hospital said Thomas was in satisfactory condition following the operation.

The hospital did not identify Thomas' second donor, only saying she was a 47-year-old woman who died of a brain hemorrhage. His first donor was a 15-year-old girl.

The hospital said because Thomas was showing signs of rejecting the first heart transplant and because "response to treatment was unsatisfactory," the second operation was decided by doctors to be necessary.

Four Die in Clash

CAIRO (Reuters) — Four persons were killed and 44 others injured in a clash Thursday between student demonstrators and police in Mansoura, about 70 miles north of here. An interior ministry statement said all the dead were civilians who tried to attack a building housing security forces.

HOME GARDEN

Slugs Are Responsible

By HILDA BEASTALL

The recent mild nights with temperatures almost up to the 50s have brought slugs out from hiding places. When these creatures are active enough to be around they need to eat, and gardeners are usually aware of their activities.

Hilda

But it seems at this time of year when slugs have no need to make slimy trails for travelling over dry rough ground, we don't always suspect them of being the cause of the damaged petals we find on winter flowers.

Hellebores often are found with large pieces chewed from the white parts we call petals, and winter irises may be in tatters just as the buds open to fragrant flowers.

Only when we see the slugs abroad in their hundreds on the damp mild evenings can we lay the blame fairly where it belongs.

Then by looking over the winter flowers with a flashlight, we shall find slugs have climbed up stems to obtain a tasty meal from some choice blossom.

By morning, with no tell-tale trails on wet paths and wet foliage, only the observant gardener will know the culprit.

Slug bait can be put into a soup can laid on its side with some damp soil leading over the edge. This method prevents any possibility of birds or other animals coming into contact with the poison in the bait.

Bait will only be effective on a mild night when slugs are abroad. A cleanup search must be made in the morning to destroy the slugs affected by the bait. They may recover in a good rain shower.

YOUR HEALTH

Reasons For Loss In Weight

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

A man writes that in a matter of weeks he lost 30 pounds of weight, and he asks what I think about that. What I think is he had better hurry to a good physician and have some examinations made. The first, of course, is to check the blood sugar, because a severe diabetes can cause a rapid loss in weight. At the same time, the laboratory worker should check the red blood sedimentation rate. If this is down around 2 millimeters, there is not much chance of the man's having a very dangerous disease like a scattered cancer.

Alvarez

If such a person with a great loss of weight were to come into my office now, I would of course ask if he had been eating his usual amount of food. Some women go down to about 78 pounds by starving themselves. We physicians call that anorexia (loss of appetite) nervosa — nervous, or more accurately, mildly psychotic behavior. Usually the patient is a young woman who is slightly schizophrenic or depressed or mildly epileptic. Rarely a man has anorexia nervosa; he can have a brain tumor.

★ ★ ★

I will never forget one of the first patients I saw when in 1926 I went to work in the Mayo Clinic. He was a businessman of 40 who had rapidly lost 60 pounds in weight. He came to me because his home doctors had been so puzzled. They had depended on laboratory tests, and these, perhaps poorly performed, had not given the needed information. A glance at the man showed the "scarey eyes" that go with a toxic (poisonous) goiter, and when I shook hands with him I felt a hand as warm as if he had a fever. His goiter was so small it had not been noticed—but it was very toxic. It was producing some diarrhea. I had a surgeon remove the goiter and overnight the man was well, and quickly gained back his weight. When there is a question about a toxic goiter, the laboratory can estimate the amount of protein bound iodine.

Then in came a physician with his mother-in-law, who had rapidly lost 60 pounds. One question, and I learned her trouble had started with a very frightening dizzy spell—a little stroke. Interestingly, I heard from the woman at intervals for the next few years, and she remained well, and neither lost nor gained any weight.

Dr. L. V. Perlman of Ann Arbor, Mich., says that in a dozen cases he ended prolonged hiccuping by having the person sit upright, hold his breath, and extend his head as far back as possible for 10 or 15 seconds, or as long as he can hold his breath. This tends to keep the diaphragm (midriff between the chest and abdomen) in a fixed position. This manoeuvre may have to be repeated several times within a 15-minute period before the hiccups quit.

In another journal another physician says he can stop hiccups by passing a rubber tube back through the nose and with it tickling the back of the throat. Any procedure that causes the person to concentrate on doing something correctly may stop hiccups.

Many things can happen to cause hiccups. Commonly, in children, it comes from laughing too hard. Then sipping water will usually stop it. Quite a few people after an operation will suffer from hiccups. A good-sized dose of a sleep maker will usually stop it. Only a few times in my long medical life have I seen a person with a hiccup that kept going for days.

FLASHBACK ON CANADA

Brest Escape Humiliated U.K., French Ran Blockade in 1759

By BOB BOWMAN

When Winston Churchill became Prime Minister of Britain in 1940 and took over the leadership of the war against Germany he experienced a series of disasters. Among them, units of the German navy that had been bottled up at Brest, managed to escape through the English channel. It was a humiliating experience for Britain.

Bowman

General Murray, the first British Governor of Canada, also got away to a somewhat similar bad start in 1759. Murray had been left in charge after Wolfe's victory, and was appointed Governor of Canada on November 21. On the very next day units of the French fleet, which had been hiding in the Richelieu River, appeared at Sillery above Quebec. It was obvious that they intended to get past the fortress and return to France.

They lay above Quebec until the night of November 24 and then began to sail past Murray's guns. It was a valiant effort and eight ships managed to get through, although they were damaged and suffered casualties. Four of the French ships failed to get by and ran aground. One of them was on the south shore and Murray sent a party of soldiers to investigate. The ship blew up soon after they had gone on board and most of them were killed or severely wounded. It is believed that the ship was a "booby-trap."

Soon after, Murray began receiving messages threatening his life. One of them said that there was a large party of "hairdressers" waiting to attend him!

It was a dreadful winter for the British soldiers in Quebec. They were not equipped for winter weather, and many of them wore kilts. Of the original force of 7,000 left at Quebec only 3,000 were fit for duty in April. So many died during the winter that it was necessary to bury their bodies in snowdrifts until spring.

Other events on November 22:

1612—King Louis XIII granted the region from the St. Lawrence River to Florida to Marchioness de Guercheville.

1784—Parrtown (Saint John) was made capital of New Brunswick.

1806—Panet and Pierre Bedard published Le Canadien, the first French newspaper in Canada.

1813—Partial martial law was enforced in Upper Canada.

1852—First submarine cable in North America was completed between Carleton Head, P.E.I., and Cape Tormentine, N.B.

1885—Wilfrid Laurier was among speakers who took part in a giant rally in Montreal to protest hanging of Louis Riel.

1922—World's largest winter fair opened at Toronto.

1934—Remains of weird sea monster were found off B.C. coast.

1957—First ship passed through Iroquois lock of St. Lawrence Seaway.

ASK ANDY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prize? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a World Book Atlas.

Andy sends a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to David Matthews, age 12, of Round Lake, New York for his question:

What is a lantern fish?

A lantern fish actually does carry his own built-in lantern, or more often, a number of lanterns. His lighting system is a biological luminescent process centred in special organs called photophores. Many fishes of the deep ocean have such built-in photophores and the midnight depths often sparkle with their darting flashlights of various vivid colors. Most deep sea fishes are built to withstand the tremendous pressure of the water around and above them, and their bodies pop apart when dredged up to lighter surface pressures. The lantern fish is an exception to this general rule.

With swarms of his small cousins, he spends the daylight hours a half a mile or more down in the heavy midnight ocean—along with the toothy hatchet fish and a vast assortment of other illuminated dwellers of the deep. During the day, masses of floating plankton tend to sink down below the heat of the sun. As the water cools after sunset they rise to the surface. The little lantern fishes follow their plankton food supplies. After sunset they rise in teeming swarms to the ocean surface.

In various seas there are 150 species of the lantern fish family. Most of them are like graceful little fingers three to five inches long. The smallest is merely one inch long and the giant of the family measures six inches. The twilight zone casts tricky shadows and the lantern fishes confuse their enemies with two-toned outfits. Their backs tend to be brownish. Their tummies are bright with iridescent shades of silvery grey. And almost every species has a lantern system based on its own design.

Spawn in Winter

The common lantern fish of the Atlantic has neat rows of photophores arranged like buttons along each of his sides. The male also has two or three luminous plates on his back in front of his tail. The female has three to five of these glowing patches on her underside near her tail.

The lantern fishes of the Mediterranean have been studied in detail. Like most fish, they spawn masses of eggs that drift around in the tossing sea. They spawn in late winter. The eggs that hatch become transparent larvae and grow one inch long. They stay in surface waters until they change to their adult bodies. After this metamorphosis, the next generation makes the daily up-and-down migration from deep to surface waters.

When marine biologists began tracing deep sea objects with echo-sounding instruments, they found an odd happening. Their echoes were scattered by blankets of objects moving upward after sunset and downward at dawn. They now know that this so-called scattering layer comes from echoes bounced from the tiny air bladders belonging to zillions of commuting lantern fishes. This bit of news helped to uncover a whole series of mysterious day-and-night activities among ocean communities of plants and animals.

Her Lifetime Struggle Ended On Eve of Brighter Horizons

By ED GOULD

DUNCAN — Mrs. Friedelni Vool always looked forward to the weekends when she could go home 40 miles to Cherry Point from the Honeymoon Bay mill where she worked five days a week as a lumber stenciller.

The week went quickly; the job with Western Forest Industriees Ltd. wasn't difficult and the money was good. She was the only woman on the lumber chain.

But life to the Estonian-born mother of four had been one of almost unremitting toil, with a few cherished highlights.

She and her husband Voldemar had counted themselves lucky to escape to Sweden when the Russians invaded Estonia, even though it meant leaving Mrs. Vool's mother behind. Her father was dead.

Five years later, in 1949, the Vools and Friedelni's brother Rubin and wife were gratififed to learn they and all the children could gain assisted passage to Canada.

•

It meant working on the March farm at Honeymoon Bay but they had all farmed at home. However, Voldemar had difficulty operating the big machinery and quit to work in the nearby mill.

Then Voldemar had a stroke and the doctor told him even part-time mill work was out of the question. So the Vools bought a small acreage at Cherry Point and Voldemar took up beekeeping. Friedelni went to work stencilling lumber.

It meant staying alone in a little cabin near the mill for five nights every week but the $500 a month helped establish the farm and bee hives.

Since Voldemar spoke even less English than she did, the Vools kept pretty much to themselves. But their two daughters, Kadri (Kathy) and May, took to languages like young ducks to water.

The biggest highlight in Friedelni's life came when Kathy won the Governor General's bronze medal for attaining second highest marks in governmental examinations in 1958.

•

Leslie Peterson, the education minister came down to Lake Cowichan Secondary School to present the medal and tell what an honor it was for the district.

Kathy couldn't even speak English when she arrived in Canada at 10 years old. Nevertheless, she graduated with 165 credits — she needed only 120 — and highest marks in four languages.

When sister May graduated in 1961 she had garnered a handful of scholarships and 150 credits. Friedelni — who had only had a "regular" education — was so proud, especially when the girls both graduated from UBC, Kathy with a Master of arts. Now both girls are married and living in the United States. Kathy, 26, in Moscow, Idaho, where her husband teaches English, and May, 24, married and with a new baby, in Los Angeles.

•

Another daughter, Tiuu, 28, had elected to return to Estonia and after finishing university had married. It had been a wonderful moment when Tiuu flew out last summer for a visit.

Of course, daughter Lillie, 32, was closer at hand, in Burnaby. But Lillie wasn't really hers anymore. She had been legally adopted at three by her brother Rubin Tomberg and his wife who were childless.

Now Friedelni's own health was not good. She had always been a frail woman and a diabetic. One night she had walked through the snow to work at Christmas time and had lapsed into a coma because she hadn't observed her diet or taken her insulin shots.

Bob Clarke, paymaster at Western Forest Industries, had seen her stagger and took her into Duncan to the hospital where she spent a month recuperating.

•

Despite the setbacks, things at last had begun to look up.

The Vools had purchased a larger property on Cherry Point Road, build a modern house and filled it with the latest conveniences. Voldemar now had 500 beehives thriving and looked the picture of health. Friedelni had spoken of quitting her job and taking things easier.

After all, she would be 59 in April.

It was 6:35 p.m. Sunday as she walked along the Trans-Canada Highway at the intersection with Old Koksilah Road, three miles south of Duncan. It was raining slightly and Friedelni gathered her black coat around her as she waited for the ride that would take her back to the mill.

The driver of the car that hit her did not even see her until the car was upon her.

Friedelni Vool was dead on arrival at Cowichan District Hospital a few minutes later.

The death hit Voldemar hard. He told his brother-in-law Ruben Tomberg, 62, now a lumber grader for WFI in Vancouver, "I don't want to talk to anybody. Please tell them not to phone me any more."

•

Leo Nigert, an Estonian friend from Victoria, came to translate so funeral arrangements could be worked out for Saturday at Hirst Funeral Chapel in Duncan. Rev. Alan Kerr will officiate and cremation will follow.

It is not expected to be a large funeral. They didn't have many close friends.

A. O. Palsson, principal at Lake Cowichan Secondary School, recalls that he met Mrs. Vool only once and that was the big day Kathy won the medal.

"I never knew her very well," he said. "The daughters were so exceptionally good at everything I never had occasion to visit them at home. I know she was very shy because of her heavy accent.

"But she was so very proud that day."

ANTI-LITTER BYLAW ASKED BY CHEMAINUS

CHEMAINUS — Chemainus Ratepayers' and Citizens' Association has requested North Cowichan District Council for an anti-litter bylaw.

"Only the RCMP through the privincial highways can enforce any anti-litter anywhere in the area," Mayor D. C. Morton said.

However, he suggested information be acquired from areas where anti-litter bylaws are in force and enforced.

"There is paper and other debris dropped continually in the downtown area," the request stated.

Easterner Named Principal Of New Malaspina College

NANAIMO — Two key administrators for the future Malaspina College have been named by college council chairman Jack Whitlam.

Principal of the institution which will open in temporary quarters next September will be Dr. George Wootton, currently chairman of the engineering technology division of Seneca College near Willowdale, Ont.

Malaspina's secretary-treasurer will be Oliver Neaves, now secretary-treasurer of the Burns Lake school district.

Dr. Wootton, 45, was born in Prince Albert and graduated from UBC with a master of science degree in metallurgical engineering, winning his doctorate in 1966.

AT CHALK RIVER

He worked at the Chalk River laboratories in Ontario before joining Seneca College last year as the president's executive assistant.

Before joining the Burns Lake school administration Mr. Neaves was both the Yokon territorial government's revenue accounts treasurer and the Yukon vocational and technical training centre's comptroller.

Mr. Whitlam said today two or three temporary sites for the college are under consideration. Dr. Wootton will arrive in February to start organizing administration and curricula.

Registration Plea To Indian Parents

NANAIMO —Members of District No. 68 school board here voted to make an all-out effort to get parents of native Indian children to register their pre-schoolers in the district's kindergarten.

Minister Extends Salmon Licensing

VANCOUVER—The privilege of fishing salmon will be given to all commercial fishing vessels on the west coast that had recorded landings of any species in 1967 or prior to September 6, 1968, Minister of Fisheries Jack Davis announced Thursday.

This is an extension of the salmon licence program put into effect this fall.

The minister's statement opens the door to halibut, herring, groundfish and shellfish boat owners to fish for salmon. They have until May 31, 1969, to make their decision.

The minister also added one more category — Class "C" — for boats that do not wish to fish salmon.

160 MAXIMUM

"A maximum of about 160 boats, excluded from the initial salmon program, will be affected under this plan if all opt to come in," the minister said.

Davis pointed out there were now 7,000 Class A and B salmon boats, a reduction of 1,200 since the salmon restriction licence scheme went into effect Sept. 6 of this year.

Boats which will now be able to fish salmon include about 65 halibut boats; 40 that fish for groundfish; 25 shellfish boats and 30 others.

Boats that come into this scheme will be under the same restrictions as announced for salmon boats in September.

In brief, Class A licence for landings above $1,250; Class B for under $1,250. Class A boats can be replaced by a new boat; Class B boats disappear when they wear out.

Both Class A and Class B boats will be allowed to fish for salmon.

NO BUILDING CURBS

Class C boats, those who choose to stay outside the program, cannot fish for salmon, but have no boat building restrictions.

For example, draggers that concentrate on groundfish and rarely fish for salmon, could be upgraded or replaced as required if they stayed in the C category.

Here are the details of the plan:

Entry into the scheme is voluntary.

Free entry is limited to May 31, 1969. After that time a category "A" boat would have to be retired to effect entry into the salmon fishery.

Class "A" and Class "B" boats can fish salmon or any other species.

Class "C" boats can fish any species except salmon.

Davis said a more detailed statement will be issued concerning this new opportunity after consultation with a special advisory group on the industry, fishermen's organizations and the Appeals Committee. It will appear in the press and be sent to boat owners through circulars.

NDP Chief Fears Nixon Clampdown

NANAIMO (CP)—National NDP Leader T. C. Douglas said Thursday that under the Nixon administration United States parent firms could impose tighter controls on their Canadian subsidiaries.

Mr. Douglas told the Nanaimo Junior Chamber of Commerce that Mr. Nixon is closely associated with the protectionist wing of the Republican party and that meant Canadians could expect to face higher tariffs and more regulated trade policies—including interference with Canadian sales to China and Cuba.

He suggested formation of a crown corporation to buy goods from United States subsidiaries in Canada for resale to Communist countries.

JEWISH MARKET PLACE 'A SCENE OF TERROR'

JERUSALEM (AP)—A mammoth charge of explosives packed inside a parked car blasted a crowded market place in the Jewish sector of the Holy City today, killing 11 persons and wounding 55.

Within seconds, the market, jammed with Jewish shoppers stocking up for the Sabbath weekend, was a scene of terror and chaos as hundreds fled in panic.

It was the worst sabotage incident in the 20 years of the Jewish state's existence.

HELICOPTER hovers over the Japan Air Lines jetliner which crashed this morning into San Francisco Bay, three miles from the international airport. None of the 107 persons aboard the plane were seriously injured. All aboard took to rubber liferafts and were towed to shore by coast guard ships.

Jetliner 'Pancakes' Into Bay; All Okay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Japan Air Lines jet-liner carrying 107 persons crashed into fog-bound San Francisco Bay today. All aboard escaped safely. attempting an instrument land-

The huge DC8 Super 62 pancaked into the muddy water three miles south of San Francisco International Airport while attemping an instrument landing on a flight from Tokyo.

The four-engine jet carried 96 passengers, including seven infants, and a crew of 11.

All were quickly taken into rubber liferafts under the direction of Capt. Kohei Asho of Tokyo and paddled ashore at Coyote Point.

"We were making an approach to what the captain obviously felt was San Francisco," passenger Richard Giesen, Chicago, said.

TRIED TO RECOVER

"I was in a window seat. We kept approaching the water and at the last second the captain tried to give it the gas to get up. We didn't make and we just kinda belly-flopped into the water."

Giesen, a computer firm employee, said some passengers "screamed but by and large they were magnificent" as they evacuated the jetliner.

Coyote Point is a scenic area that juts into the bay three miles south of the main runway.

"It was on its final approach and was under radar and radio control because of the heavy fog. The last call on the radio indicated everything was all right, but we'll have to look at the recordings again before we can say that for sure," said a control tower apokesman.

NORMAL APPROACH

The tower official said the approach for the landing was normal as the plane swooped down over the San Mateo bridge about two miles south of Coyote Point and 17 miles south of San Francisco.

"Then there was nothing," he said. "She just disappeared off the radar — no further radio communications, no nothing. The weather did not appear to be a factor. It's regular procedure to make instrument landings here."

Within minutes, an armada of small boats was organized for the rescue operations. Many of the passengers took to rubber life rafts. At least three helicopters flew overhead.

The survivors were transferred to the small craft and sped ashore to be taken to hospitals in nearby communities.

The coast guard reported divers were dispatched to the crash scene to comb the wreckage of the jetliner.

Classes Resume At Troubled SFU

BURNABY (CP) — Students at troubled Simon Fraser University continued their occupation of the campus administration building today, despite pleas to end it at a mass morning rally by Dr. Kenneth Strand, acting SFU president.

The rally followed a hectic round of negotiations between Dr. Strand and leaders of 150 students who took over the five-storey building Wednesday night following a university senate meeting.

Dr. Strand called the occupation an illegitimate act but said he would not recommend any course of action to force an end to it.

The acting president opened talks with the students, supporters of the militant Students for a Democratic University, shortly after midnight.

The occupiers refused to relinquish control of the administration and Dr. Strand cancelled 9:30 a.m. classes pending the outcome of the rally.

Classes resumed following the rally and the occupation continued, with no break in the stalemate in sight. Dr. Strand also said he had received a petition from moderate students urging an end to the occupation.

So far, police have steered clear of involvement in the sit-in.

There were also reports that students had rifled confidential files in the administration building, making photo-copies of some documents.

Spokesmen for the occupiers said the building was a bit messy, but otherwise undamaged.

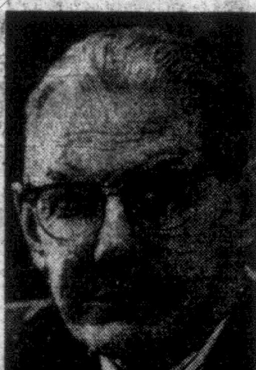
The students demand:

- Creation of an elected admissions board with equal membership from students and faculty;
- Opening of all administration files to students;
- More money for school construction and an end to the provincial government's school construction freeze.

Dr. Strand said he had "nothing definite to offer on the proposals, but I am prepared to discuss them."

He said the students had made their point and the occupation should end.

There are about 5,600 students on campus at SFU, which operates on the trimester system. The militant SDU recently lost control of the student council to moderate factions in university elections, but Thursday students approved an informal motion of non-confidence in the new council.



EXPECTED to be named president of Air Canada on Tuesday is John Baldwin, 56, deputy minister of transport, according to sources in Ottawa. The same sources indicated that Quebec lawyer Yves Pratt would be named chairman of the board.

Beer, Gas Tax Up In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain is to impose new taxes and tighten credit restrictions following the crisis over the French franc and West German mark, Roy Jenkins, channcellor of the exchequer, told Parliament today.

The new taxes include one cent on a pint of beer and 52 cents on a quart of whisky, which sells for about $7.

Gasoline prices will go up about five cents a gallon. Present prices range roughly between 65 cents and 78 cents a galllon.

Cigarette prices are to increase by up to five cents a pack of 20. At present they cost between 43 cents for the cheapest and 78 cents for dearer brands.

Rates of sales tax—imposed on virtually all consumer goods—will be raised.

There are four such rates. The 12½-per-cent rate for furniture and adult clothing will go up to 13¾ per cent. The 20-per-cent rate on confectionery and ice cream will rise to 22 per cent; cars, motorcycles and durable consumer goods from 33 1-3 to 36 per cent, and the rate on luxury goods from 50 to 55 per cent.

Jenkins announced the changes immediately on returning from talks in Bonn, West Germany, on the European currency crisis.

Jenkins also announced a plan under which importers of nearly one-third of total British imports will have to pay a returnable deposit of 50 per cent of the value of the goods.

The import deposit plan would last for one year and immediate legislation was being sought for it.

The deposits would be repayable to the importer 180 days after payment.

They would apply broadly to all goods other than food, fuel, raw materials and certain imports from developing countries.

In addition, Jenkins said banks will be ordered to be even more sparing than now in granting credit.

Jenkins said new credit restrictions will severely reduce private lending and banks will even have to bring in some outstanding loans.

He forecast that the "undoubtedly hard" measures will reduce the level of consumer spending by one-half per cent next year.

Begin Talks

PARIS (Reuters) — North Vietnam demanded today that the United States begin the expanded peace talks immediately.

Hanoi's chief spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le said that in the absence of Saigon government representatives, talks should be held by North Vietnam, the U.S. and the South Vietnam National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong guerrillas' political arm.

U.S. CONFIDENT DOLLAR PROTECTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials here predict that the U.S. dollar will come unscathed through the world's latest currency crisis.

They admit to long-range concern over the possibility that any reduction of the French franc's value might start devaluations snowballing in other countries and eventually jar the dollar.

"But it seems quite unlikely to develop that way," one high administration source said. "The dollar isn't the centre-piece of this affair, as it was last March. We're on the sidelines; even gold doesn't seem to be terribly involved."

$100 MILLION FROM CANADA

BONN (Reuters) — The world's leading non-communist industrial nations will give France a credit of $2,000,000,000 to halt massive speculation against the franc, an official communique from the Group of 10 conference issued today said.

Canada pledged $100 million in credit.

The communique said the West German mark would not be revalued.

West German Economics Minister Karl Schiller told a news conference after reading out the communique:

"At no point have there been any conditions for this standby credit. It is without any strings and without any conditions."

The communique said French Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli explained the situation of the French currency, measures taken toward a restoration of international and external equilibrium and problems still to be solved.

The communique continued: "It was decided to set up a new central bank credit facility for France to an amount of $2,000,000,000. This is in addition to France's substantial drawing facilities in the International Monetary Fund."

Schiller added that he is sure the whole package will be "absolutely successful."

He gave the following breakdown of contributions to the credit—West Germany $600,000,000; United States $500,000,000; Italy $200,000,000; Canada, Britain, The Netherlands, Scandinavia, Belgium and Switzerland $100,000,000 each; Japan and the Bank for International Settlements $50,000,000 each.

The communique said: "The decision on the above-mentioned credit facility underlines the determination of monetary authorities to counter speculation and offset the effect on reserves of de-stabilizing short-term capital flow."

It said the central bank gover-

UNHAPPY BIRTHDAY

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle turned 78 today but found he had nothing to celebrate after he was informed that France had no choice left but to devalue the franc.

All Other Currencies Hold Firm

BONN (CP)—West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss indicated to reporters today that the French franc will be devalued.

Strauss spoke as though the devaluation of the franc was a foregone conclusion and said: "Here we have the question of the devaluation of the French franc. The French government has to decide the extent of it. But there is unanimity that there will be no consideration of a devaluation of other currencies."

He made the statement outside a meeting of the 10 wealthiest countries in the non-Communist world.

Informants said after Thursday's 17-hour session that it appeared the franc would be reduced either by 10 per cent, from 20 U.S. cents to 18 cents, or by 15 per cent to 17 U.S. cents.

But in Paris, a well-informed source said earlier today the French government had accepted a proposal that the franc be devalued by less than 10 per cent.

A spokesman for the office of French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said in Paris there would be no announcement until after the French cabinet meets on Saturday.

Strauss also announced that Britain would take measures to alleviate its own balance-of-payments deficit.

He said that Britain would not devalue the pound.

OBTAINED CREDIT

To bolster the new value of the franc, the 10 nations at the conference got together a line of credit in other currencies which France could use to halt the flight of capital from French banks.

Strauss said the total of these credits would amount to $2,985,000,000.

He added that $2,000,000,000 of this would be put at the disposal of France by the members of the Group of 10, the world's most powerful financial and industrial countries. Their finance ministers and central bank governors have been meeting on the crisis in Bonn since Wednesday.

Strauss told reporters the other $985,000,000 would come from Special Drawing Rights. He did not make it clear what he meant by this. France has refused to join the scheme, setting up a system of such drawing rights on the International Monetary Fund. They are designed to supplement gold in the reserves of member countries.

He said West Germany is also planning to help France out by easing taxes on West Germans who want to make direct invest-

Canadian Exports May Feel Pinch

LONDON (CP) — Britain has decided to strike hard at imports with a new payment deposit system that will force importers to scramble for expensive credit and increase prices to British consumers.

Canadian authorities here said the measure, along with others, could have a serious impact on the expansion of Canadian shipments to Britain.

There was no immediate indication whether certain goods will be excluded from the new measure which involves importers depositing with the British government for about six months 50 per cent of the cost of imports.

Roy Jenkins, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons today that this measure is to remain in effect for one year.

He announced it along with higher domestic taxes on beer, whisky and gasoline and a whole range of consumer goods.

Under the deposit system, an importer will be unable to get release of his goods from British customs until he deposits 50 per cent of the value of the goods. In many cases he will have to plead with his bank to provide the deposit through high-interest credit.

That means the cost of his imports will be increased by the high cost of this extra money he raises in Britain through the banks or other agencies.

De Gaulle Support Fading As Merchants Disillusioned

By DONALD H. LOUCHHEIM
The Washington Post

PARIS — The crisis of the French franc is shaping up into as serious a political threat to the Gaullist regime as the revolt by students and workers last May.

Unlike the widespread, sometimes violent, domestic unrest last spring, however, there is no apparent danger of the government falling or being swept away.

The impact of the crisis of the franc will be much the same as the impact of the May political crisis: new constraints on President de Gaulle's margin for manoeuvre both at home and abroad, new grave doubts within France about the quality of the general's leadership and the wisdom of the policies he has pursued during his decade in power.

MAY UPHEAVAL

The May upheaval was provoked by students and workers, claiming to speak for the "forgotten masses" of de Gaulle's Fifth Republic. But the crisis of the franc reflects a protest and a political crisis of confidence from the French middle class, the traditional bedrock of the Gaullist regime.

It was the middle class that rallied to de Gaulle and saved both his government and his own personal prestige last spring.

But as these same Gaullist voters arrive in Amsterdam and Geneva with suitcases full of unwanted francs, the question on the lips of many political commentators here—Will they love him in December as they did in May?—seems to have received a ringing answer.

SOCIAL CHANGE

The May revolt, in the view of de Gaulle himself, pointed out the need for a vast social renovation in France. The subsequent Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia pulled the rug out from under the foreign policy that his regime had been pursuing.

Now the crisis of the franc has renewed doubts, within the country at large and within the upper levels of the Gaullist movement, about the quality of the general's leadership.

The facade of French-German co-operation has cracked, perhaps irreparably under the pressure of angry, fundamental disagreements between Bonn and Paris over how to cope with the current monetary crisis. Ironically, the importance of monetary co-operation between the two countries was stressed by both parties as a pillar of their "special relationship" after de Gaulle's visit to Bonn two months ago.

BAR BRITAIN

De Gaulle's implacable and single-handed effort to bar Britain from the European Common Market has also been called into question by recent events.

France and Britain suddenly find themselves in the same boat.

With Britain in the Common Market, or at least admitted into Common Market councils as a prospective member, France would have added support, and certainly a more sympathetic audience, for its appeals for a "European" solution to the immediate crisis.

Pension Funds Missing Income

TORONTO (CP) — Pension-fund administrators make a mistake ignoring 8.75-per-cent and 9 per cent National Housing Act mortgages while buying government bonds at a lower interest rate, delegates to the Canadian pension conference were told Thursday.

Gordon Gray, executive vice-president of a Toronto real estate firm, said at least half a pension fund's asset should be in real estate investment.

"I can't for the life of me understand why anyone would buy government bonds when they can buy government-guaranteed mortgages at a rate that is currently by law 2.25 per cent higher than federal bonds . . .," Mr. Gray said.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto, N.Y. in Gains

Ignoring the monetary crisis in Europe both the Toronto and New York stock markets closed out the week today with advances.

Golds slipped at Toronto in response to the lower price of bullion on the London free market.

At New York exchange officials announced they have extended the one-day-a-week closings through December. They said that it was hoped to resume five-day-a-week operations in January with daily trading periods shortened by 90 minutes.

AT TORONTO Dome and Giant Yellowknife lost ¼ each to 73 and 11½ and Dickenson 20 to $3.65.

In industrials, Leigh Instruments gained 1⅞ to 43⅞, Thomson Newspaper 1 to 60, Aimco 1 to 15¾ and Bell ¼ to 46⅝.

Among the heaviest traders, Trans-Prairie Pipelines rose ⅞ to 12⅝ and OSF Industries ⅛ to 22. Inco dropped ¼ to 37¾.

On the downside, International Utilities fell 1 to 43¾ and Stelco ½ to 26.

Imperial Oil was up 2 to 80 in the wake of a 4-for-1 stock split proposal. Bank of Montreal lost ⅜ to 15½ although the bank has just reported a 30.3 per cent increase in annual operating profits.

Among western oils and base metals, Asamera rose 1¼ to 14¾ and Chemalloy 50 cents to $4.70. Preston fell ⅝ to 21⅜ and Canadian Superior ¾ to 51¼.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler recovered handsomely from recent selling as it topped the most active list with a gain of more than a point. A block of 233,700 shares pushed it to the top of the list.

Curtiss-Wright, up 2, was second most active. It was traded on blocks of 35,900 and 17,000 shares.

Among Canadians, Hudson Bay Mining advanced ¾, Walker Gooderham ⅜ and Distillers Seagrams ¼.

AT MONTREAL the market continued to move in a narrow price trend in brisk trading today.

Radio Engineering climbed 2¼ to 44½, Industrials Acceptance 1 to 26, CPR ⅜ to 71½ and Bell Canada ¼ to 46½.

Famous Players, Canada Cement and Du Pont lost 1 each.

Molson A dropped 1½ to 25 on 2,175 shares.

Husky added 1 to 26 and Imperial 1 to 79. The company plans to split its common stock 4-for-1.

AT VANCOUVER mining issues made a strong comeback in pre-noon trading today.

After a week which has seen a steady decline in prices, most stocks made good gains on increased volume.

Coast Silver was .30 better at $2.95, Bethex was .17 up at $2.45, Buttle Lake improved .15 to $3.40 and Northwest Ventures rose .12 to $1.29.

The improvement was maintained in the oils. Royal Canadian Ventures was up .30 to $1.30 on 125,700 shares after reaching a high of $1.60. Stampede also gained .30 and reached $7.55.

In the industrials, Western Heritage jumped .87 to $6.75 and Neon put on .75 to $32.75.

AT LONDON stock markets nervously awaited the outcome of the Bonn meeting on the currency crisis and most sections lost ground.

Widespread losses were recorded in industrials although some big exporters such as British Leyland and Glaxo moved ahead.

Imperials gained 2s 6d to 119s and other tobaccos were firm. Metal Box and Tubes also responded favorably to company news. Among internationals, Philips Lamps recovered from a small fall but Unilever NV dipped 10s.

Firm stocks among Canadians included Massey Ferguson, Alcan, Hiram Walker and Imperial Oil. Canadian banks were in renewed demand.

Oils suffered from profit taking but picked up after their early falls.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trade was practically at a standstill on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, as European money market disturbances continued to exert an influence.

Some exporter buying came into the flax and rapeseed futures and prices firmed up fractionally.

Oats and barley were limited to small domestic shipper buying for eastern feeders. Prices in both were about even with the previous close.

There was some inter-month spreading in rye. All futures were on an easier pattern following a lower trend on the Chicago market.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all up ⅛ cent.

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and grain futures came under strong liquidation through most of the session on the Board of Trade today, but closed on a generally firm tone.

Trade was mixed and moderately active, but there appeared to be an undertone of caution generated by uncertainty surrounding the problems of some European currencies.

Domtar Strikers Reject 'Final' Wage Proposal

WINDSOR, Que. (CP) — Striking employees of Domtar Pulp and Paper Ltd. here and in nearby East Angus have rejected government conciliation proposals aimed at ending the walkout which began July 18.

Described Wednesday as "final" by Labor Minister Maurice Bellemare, the proposals would have given strikers a 35-cent hourly increase spread over three years plus a $65 lump sum payment.

Decision to reject conciliation proposals came during general meetings Thursday evening of the 750 Domtar employees here and of about 450 employees in East Angus, 25 miles east of Windsor in the Eastern Townships.

Guy Ferland, technical adviser for the National Federation of Pulp and Paper Workers (CNTU) which bargains for the employees said Thursday the strikers had proposed that he continue negotiations with Domtar in an effort to improve the government proposal.

Union negotiators have been seeking a 35-cent increase over two years.

Arthur Mayse

It isn't often that I think of my almost alma mater, which in this her 50th year is so large that even a former student can lose himself on her campus. But sometimes memory does stir, and I remember the UBC of the early 30s.

It was small then, its student population only about half Uvic's close-to-5,000, but for those years, it was the centre of my world.

Each fall I came back to it eagerly, determined this time to study hard, skip no lectures, and free myself of the freshman mathematics that hung around my neck like an albatross. When I started, the fees totalled a crashing $150 a year, but before I deserted to a newspaper with 18 credits still to go, they had climbed to $160. A summer job in the woods paid them, and a yearly poetry award kept me clothed.

I never did win free of those then-compulsory math courses, even though my lamentable case came before the UBC senate.

My champions did their best, but the sterner outlook prevailed. "An essential discipline," the verdict ran, and I was tossed back at a maths department that had conspired to be free of me.

But this isn't to suggest that I got nothing from the university experience.

★

As a matter of fact, I derived much of value, and three boons in particular.

One was a chance to write a column for the "Ubyssey" and to question, discuss and argue over foul coffee at the publications table in the cafeteria.

Sounds like a waste of time? We didn't think so, any more than our inheritors in university publications do today. A university has, or should have, many aspects, and the academic one is not necessarily the most important.

I also got a chance to row bow position in an eight-oared shell.

Crew was a minor sport at UBC then. We rowed in rented shells that had seen better days, and I don't recall that we did very well in our races.

But, speaking of disciplines, I can think of few better than the sliding seat and the long oar, and the stroke that is raised, and held, and raised again.

To row a race is to give a job everything you've got, and to toss in unguessed reserves before the lean bull needles across the finish-line.

The university from which I never graduated exposed me to that splendid torment, and I will always be grateful.

★

Looking back, however, I think that the best thing I got from UBC was the privilege of sitting in a lecture hall dominated by the great man who headed its English department.

This was Garnett G. Sedgewick, and though we might call him Gee-Gee behind his back, his students thought the world of him.

Dr. Sedgewick was short and broad. He had a large head, and a profile that I can only describe as noble. An autocrat, he would send any handy student to fetch him a pack of cigarettes. If he forgot to put on a necktie, as he frequently did, he would requisition one from the male neck nearest to his podium.

But these were only antic flourishes; he was probably the finest interpreter of Shakespeare—or Shakspere, as he insisted—on this continent.

If the play was Hamlet, he wasn't merely a professor discussing that haunted prince, but Hamlet in the flesh. Girls from whom no movie could wring a tear wept at his Othello.

To sum up, I received from my bobtailed university experience a group, a sport and a teacher who brought his subject to life. But not the degree which, in all honesty, I have never missed.

A Scant Scent of Spring

Warm weather for November agrees with more than people, as these blossoms bordering Beacon Hill Park and admired by Anne Carney of 105 Cook attest. The tree is Prunus Subhirtella autumnalis, an autumn-blooming variety of plum tree, and if the weather isn't too tough the blossoms will be around to catch the eye until spring. They won't suffer this weekend. The weatherman forecasts sunny periods, some showers, light winds and continuing warm temperatures, in the low 50s. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett).

CAR TEST DEADLINE EXTENDED

Attorney-General Leslie Peterson has confirmed that the motor vehicle testing program will not be able to stick to the original Jan. 1 deadline.

He said the date would have to be postponed for an indefinite period.

So far slightly more than half of the 80,000 vehicles registered in the County of Victoria have gone through the government testing station on McKenzie in preparation for introduction of the experimental compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

"The extension will be no longer than necessary to accommodate the public without inconvenience," Mr. Peterson said.

"In the meantime, the important thing is that when somebody receives notice to bring their vehicle into the station for testing, it is mandatory that they observe such notice."

DID SHOAL TEAR APART HYDROFOIL?

U.S. Coast Guard oficials at Seattle today confirmed they are checking on reports that an unmarked shoal may have caused the Wednesday accident to the hydrofoil Victoria.

At the present time they could not confirm suspicions expressed by William Niedermair, president of Northwest Hydrofoil Lines. He discounted the possibility the sea-skimming craft hit a deadhead.

Five persons were hurt and $250,000 damage done to the craft which operates on a regular schedule between Victoria and Seattle. The service has been suspended pending repairs.

$228 Stolen Out Of Student Wallets

Saanich police and school authorities are investigating the theft of $228 from wallets in the boys changing room at Claremont senior secondary school.

Police said the thefts had occurred over the last two and a half months and there was a possibility further incidents had not been reported.

Funeral Monday For Jack McRae

John (Jack) Colin McRae, son of a pioneer Victoria family which owned the McRae estate in southern Saanich died suddenly Thursday at the age of 72.

Mr. McRae was taken ill on returning to his home at 1445 Ocean View Thursday afternoon He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival.

He was the son of George McRae, who came to this area from New Zealand in 1882 and bought the land which became the McRae Estate and family home.

The 132-acre property, which included Cedar Hill Golf Course, was expropriated by Saanich municipality in 1967 for use as a park and recreational area.

$1.2 MILLION

Expropriation proceedings were begun when a price could not be agreed upon. In September, 1967, an arbitration board set the value of the estate at $1,200,000.

Saanich council offered this amount and the McRae family accepted. It was agreed the family should have continued use of their family home at 1445 Ocean View.

Apart from service with the Royal Flying Corps in the First World War, Mr. Jack McRae spent all his life in Victoria.

With his brother, George, he operated a trucking business at 1445 Ocean View Drive.

Mr. RcRae is also surived by two sons, John (Jack) Colin, who is manager of the Capitol Theatre, and George D., both at home.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Norman (Jean) Keziere, Victoria, three granddaughters and one grandson; two sisters, Miss Kate McRae and Mrs. Margaret Mangles, Victoria; and a nephew, John D. Mangles, Bellevue, Wash.

Funeral services will be held in Hayward's Chapel Monday at 1:30 p.m. and followed by interment in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

'Depressed' Workers March on Legislature

North Saanich Again Pledged New Hospital

Assurances that North Saanich Peninsula will have a new hospital were repeated today to calm threatening protesters who suspect otherwise.

Regional District chairman and Saanich Mayor Hugh Curtis said, "The north undoubtedly will get a replacement hospital for Rest Haven (at Sidney).

"I get a little tired of all this," he added.

He was commenting on the published statement of Peninsula Hospital Committee chairman William Larnick who said "all hell will break loose" if Rest Haven is not replaced when the hospital district decides on projects in its building program.

Mr. Larnick said refusal of a new northern hospital would cause public meetings, petitions and a march of thousands of angry people to the Legislative Buildings.

Mr. Larnick said: "We are not looking for a large acute-care hospital but only for a replacement for those facilities which we have paid for and enjoyed for 50 years."

'ABSURDITY'

Mayor Curtis indicated the proposed replacement for the still-operating Rest Haven would fit Mr. Larnick's expressed requirements.

"It would be an absurdity to deprive the area of a facility it needs, but I don't think that includes a major acute care hospital away from the main population area."

Mr. Larniek said his group is withholding action pending the November meeting of the Regional Hospital Board.

BOYS CHARGED WITH CUTTING TIRES ON CARS

Two 15-year-old boys were scheduled to appear in juvenile court later today to face 30 charges of wilful damage.

Their arrest Thursday follows city police investigation of a tire-slashing spree in the James Bay area a week ago.

A total of 42 tires were slashed as well as the tops of two convertibles overnight last Friday. Twenty-seven cars were involved.

Twenty of the charges the pair will face involve wilful damage under $50 and the remaining 10 wilful damage over $50.

O. E. CRUSE
. . . 100 today

He's Last Of Pioneer Fruit Growers

Oswald Edward Cruse celebrated his 100th birthday today with a cake, telegrams from the Queen and the gift of a sweater from friends.

Acquaintances of the 11-year-resident of Dawson Heights on Cedar Hill Cross Road dropped in briefly throughout the morning to wish him well.

Smiling and healthy-looking, Mr. Cruse tapped a cane in his hand as a photograph was taken to commemorate the beginning of his 101st year.

Born on a homestead in Frontenac County, Ontario, this day in 1868, he came to Vancouver Island with his brother in 1908. The two bought 10 acres of bushland in the Keating district and operated a mixed fruit farm for several years.

LAST ONE

Mr. Cruse is the only living member of the old Pioneer Fruit Growers Association, formed while he was working the farm.

He gave up fruit growing after the depression and moved to Victoria in 1943. Always active, he took up cabinet-making as a hobby and fashioned pieces of furniture for his home.

But he liked an outdoor life best, which his wife Daisy says "perhaps explains why he has been very healthy with still no physical disabilities except impaired hearing."

For the past 11 years the couple has been living "a quiet, contented life" at Dawson Heights.

The family will hold a private celebration dinner Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Steadman, at Prospect Lake.

A younger daughter, Peggy, is married and living in Littleton, Colorado and Mr. Cruse has four grandchildren. One surviving brother, Goeff, lives at Cedar, near Nanaimo.

Placards Waved By Demonstrators

By JOHN MIKA

About 500 civil servants took their lunch hour today to protest in front of the provincial legislature where they work.

The demonstration was relatively quiet and entirely orderly.

They left their offices at noon, walked over to the Crystal Garden, picked up some 200 placards after a short pep talk and marched back to the buildings to hear their leaders voice their grievances.

The turnout was about half of what was expected.

At the Crystal, Alex Brady, president of the Victoria branch of B.C. Employees' Association, accused Premier Bennett of inaccuracies in claiming B.C. has the only full-time civil service commission in Canada.

He said there are civil service commissions in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta and the federal capital in Ottawa.

Mr. Brady said despite the premier's attempt to persuade civil servants they don't need bargaining rights, "we do not feel that he truly believes a depressed and demoralized civil service is in the best interests of the people of B.C."

NOT ONLY DOLLARS

Mr. Brady said it was true the government must try to give the public the best possible service for the lowest practical cost. But efficiency cannot be estimated in dollars alone.

"When a government worker's standard of living is lower than his neighbor in comparable employment — when we lose good people to the higher wages offered by industry something is wrong.

"Morale sinks and the government suffers.

"We would like comparable wages with those of our contemporaries in British Columbia, not Outer Mongolia," he said to a round of applause.

Picking up placards, the civil servants marched the two blocks to the legislature behind piper Steve Geddes, skirling "Bonnie Dundee," standard-bearers carrying the Maple Leaf and provincial flags, and a traffic policeman on a motor-bike.

HE COULD HEAR

Mounting the front steps and using a bull horn easily carrying his words to Premier Bennett's office nearby, BCGEA president Norman Richards addressed the gathering.

He said the noon-hour demonstration here and meeting of lower mainland civil servants tonight are designed to spotlight civil servants' unhappiness with low wages and no right to collective bargaining.

Mr. Richards said early this year the association appealed to the cabinet to refer its grievances to the highly-touted mediation commission established by the government to alleviate labor unrest.

But the request has been ignored.

The group dispersed after he finished a brief speech to enable demonstrators to get back to work on time with a few minutes left for a bite to eat on the run.

Today's mass meeting here was the second one held this year at the Crystal Gardens by Victoria civil servants.

About 1,000 of them turned out for a protest meeting last February after the government had turned down requests for new pay scales for some 350 classifications to bring them into closer relationship with wage standards for the same occupations in the private sector of the province.

FACT FINDING

That meeting resulted in a demand for a fact-finding committee to study the BCGEA's case, which had been rejected by the Civil Service Commission.

The cabinet set up a committee headed by Education Minister Brothers and including Works Minister Chant and Trade Minister Skillings to hear the BCGEA's detailed argument.

In July it was announced that the government had turned down the appeal for "comparability" with B.C. wages.

Instead, the government sent a letter to BCGEA officials suggesting that comparability with civil service salaries in other provinces should be the guideline.

Premier Bennett Thursday maintained this position was fair because national policy "equalized" the relative revenues of the provinces, despite his opposition.

This also equalized the ability of provinces to pay their civil servants, he argued.

But BCGEA officials reject his argument on the grounds that it has turned them into economic second-class citizens within their own province.

They also argue that the root of the problem is the government's refusal to give them the right to bargain collectively, isolating them from all other B.C. workers including other public employees in B.C.

WAGES DICTATED

Under the present system, BCGEA officials hold discussions with the Civil Service Commission each year about working conditions but there are no negotiations in the accepted sense of offer and counter-offer until agreement is reached.

The cabinet does not meet with BCGEA officially and each year's wages are dictated by the budget decisions of Premier Bennett with the Civil Service Commission assigned solely to apportion any increases among the civil service ranks.

Mr. Bennett, on the morning of the BCGEA's annual convention this fall, announced that he had ordered a crash study of the civil service wage structure and its results would be reflected in the next budget.

But BCGEA officials maintain that such unilateral studies are no just substitute for collective bargaining under which the civil service and government would hold face-to-face talks as other employee-employer groups do.

CANADIAN BORN jazz pianist Oscar Peterson will be featured at the 23rd annual Jaycee Fair, May 19 to 24 next year. One of the jazz greats, Mr. Peterson has played Carnegie Hall, Europe and Japan with such headliners as Louis Armstrong, Stan Getz and Herb Ellis. During his six-day stand in Victoria he will perform two shows daily and will act as honorary parade marshall for the Victoria Day parade. Signing of a contract Thursday for his appearance here was announced by fair chairman Brian Small.

Ask The Times

Q. Can a person not living in Canada be obliged to pay Canadian income tax?—C. S.

A. A non-resident is liable for federal income taxation if he or she was carrying on a business or was employed in Canada during any fiscal year. "Carrying on business" includes maintaining a permanent establishment in this country, possessing goods either entirely or partially in the country, or entering into contracts in Canada. The taxable income of a non-resident is payable on the same schedule as resident Canadians.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

DAY'S EARNINGS GIVEN UNITED APPEAL

By W. RALPH THOMAS

Trevor Dawson liked the idea of the Mod Squad.

When 200 local students announced their plans to aid the United Appeal campaign this week by working at odd jobs and turning their earnings over to the Community Chest, Trevor wanted to help.

But his school work, his Victoria Daily Times paper route and his Boy Scout activities left him with little free time.

So he did the next best thing. He called the Mod Squad at 386-2220 and offered one day's pay to the United Appeal because he would like to help someone.

He apologized for not being able to make a larger contribution and added he would be disappointed if the Appeal did not reach its $655,000 goal.

"I know my donation isn't much but it might help someone who really needs help."

Trevor is a Grade 9 student at Central Junior High and was made a Queen's Scout last week. In 1967 he won a Canada Savings Bond for placing second in a national Fire Prevention Week essay writing contest.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Dawson, 1615 Gladstone, he is just one of the hundreds of young people in this community who are out to finish a tough job the adults started.

Last week the Appeal was dragging its feet and it looked as if it would miss its goal by $30,000 or more.

But the determined efforts of the young people have brightened the outlook by adding enthusiasm and dollars to the cause.

If the campaign does not reach its target, it will not be the fault of Trevor Dawson or the hundreds of other young people who are now giving it their best.

Domtar Strikers Reject 'Final' Wage Proposal

WINDSOR, Que. (CP) — Striking employees of Domtar Pulp and Paper Ltd. here and in nearby East Angus have rejected government conciliation proposals aimed at ending the walkout which began July 18.

Described Wednesday as "final" by Labor Minister Maurice Bellemare, the proposals would have given strikers a 35-cent hourly increase spread over three years plus a $65 lump sum payment.

Decision to reject conciliation proposals came during general meetings Thursday evening of the 750 Domtar employees here and of about 450 employees in East Angus, 25 miles east of Windsor in the Eastern Townships.

Guy Ferland, technical adviser for the National Federation of Pulp and Paper Workers (CNTU) which bargains for the employees said Thursday the strikers had proposed that he continue negotiations with Domtar in an effort to improve the government proposal.

Union negotiators have been seeking a 35-cent increase over two years.

Pension Funds Missing Income

TORONTO (CP) — Pension-fund administrators make a mistake ignoring 8.75-per-cent and 9 per cent National Housing Act mortgages while buying government bonds at a lower interest rate, delegates to the Canadian pension conference were told Thursday.

Gordon Gray, executive vice-president of a Toronto real estate firm, said at least half a pension fund's asset should be in real estate investment.

"I can't for the life of me understand why anyone would buy government bonds when they can buy government-guaranteed mortgages at a rate that is currently by law 2.25 per cent higher than federal bonds . . .," Mr. Gray said.

Thomson Denies Takeover Bid

LONDON (CP) — Lord Thomson, Canadian-born publisher, says he is always interested in acquiring quality newspapers but he is not a participant in any takeover bid in Australia.

He was commenting on reports that he is one of three publishers interested in acquiring control of Rupert Murdoch's News Ltd. publishing group in Australia.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto, N.Y. in Gains

Ignoring the monetary crisis in Europe both the Toronto and New York stock markets closed out the week today with advances.

Golds slipped at Toronto in response to the lower price of bullion on the London free market.

At New York exchange officials announced they have extended the one-day-a-week closings through December. They said that it was hoped to resume five-day-a-week operations in January with daily trading periods shortened by 90 minutes.

AT TORONTO in industrials, Canadian Tire A gained 4½ to 64½, Imperial Oil 3 to 81, Famous Players 2 to 72 and Chum A 2 to 22¼. Empire Life lost 2 to 24½ and Molson A 1½ to 25.

Scurry-Rainbow was up 2 to 41½, Asamera 1¼ to 14¾ and Canadian Export Gas 50 cents to $9.80. Canadian Superior Oil fell ⅝ to 51⅜.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler recovered handsomely from recent selling as it topped the most active list with a gain of more than a point. A block of 233,700 shares pushed it to the top of the list.

Curtiss-Wright, up 2, was second most active. It was traded on blocks of 35,900 and 17,000 shares.

Among Canadians, Hudson Bay Mining advanced ¾, Walker Gooderham ⅜ and Distillers Seagrams ¼.

AT MONTREAL the market continued to move in a narrow price trend in brisk trading today.

Radio Engineering climbed 2¼ to 44½, Industrials Acceptance 1 to 26, CPR ⅜ to 71½ and Bell Canada ¼ to 46½.

Famous Players, Canada Cement and Du Pont lost 1 each.

Molson A dropped 1½ to 25 on 2,175 shares.

Husky added 1 to 26 and Imperial 1 to 79. The company plans to split its common stock 4-for-1.

AT VANCOUVER mining issues made a strong comeback in pre-noon trading today.

After a week which has seen a steady decline in prices, most stocks made good gains on increased volume.

Coast Silver was .30 better at $2.95, Bethex was .17 up at $2.45, Buttle Lake improved .15 to $3.40 and Northwest Ventures rose .12 to $1.29.

The improvement was maintained in the oils. Royal Canadian Ventures was up .30 to $1.30 on 125,700 shares after reaching a high of $1.60. Stampede also gained .30 and reached $7.55.

In the industrials, Western Heritage jumped .87 to $6.75 and Neon put on .75 to $32.75.

AT LONDON stock markets nervously awaited the outcome of the Bonn meeting on the currency crisis and most sections lost ground.

Widespread losses were recorded in industrials although some big exporters such as British Leyland and Glaxo moved ahead.

Imperials gained 2s 6d to 119s and other tobaccos were firm. Metal Box and Tubes also responded favorably to company news. Among internationals, Philips Lamps recovered from a small fall but Unilever NV dipped 10s.

Firm stocks among Canadians included Massey Ferguson, Alcan, Hiram Walker and Imperial Oil. Canadian banks were in renewed demand.

Oils suffered from profit taking but picked up after their early falls.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trade was practically at a standstill on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, as European money market disturbances continued to exert an influence.

Some exporter buying came into the flax and rapeseed futures and prices firmed up fractionally.
